11 DIE IN HOT WAVE; MANY PROSTRATED; MERCURY UP TO 92

Heat Kills 7 and 4 Drown in Chicago's Warmest May 18 in Twenty Years.

CHILDREN FALL IN CHURCH

MORE BURNING WEATHER TODAY

Killed by Heat	7
Drowned	4
Total	11

When the temperature reached 92 degrees at 4:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon, achieving a topnotch precedent for the first twenty days in May, eleven persons were dead, many prostrations had occurred, and the whole of Chicago was wilted and steaming under the heat.

It was said at hospitals that the unseasonable weather had caused great suffering among the patients. Unless the heat moderates fatalities are expected.

"It will be just about as hot tomorrow," said Maj. H. B. Hersey, in charge of the bureau, last night. "There'll be clouds in the sky. Maybe a sudden thunder shower will cool things off. But don't depend on that shower. The sky was full of rain today, and yet all we got was a few drops about 1 o'clock."

But Relief Is Coming.

From out of the north Pacific, however, relief is coming in a storm with considerably cooler weather in its wake. This storm moved east yesterday over the northern plains states, bringing high winds and showers. It was scheduled by Weather Forecaster Bowie in Washington to reach the Mississippi valley today.

The hottest May day in history was May 11, 1895, when 94 degrees was reached.

The county agent's office is busy in preparations for an emergency ice supply for the poor with babies. A few ice tickets were distributed yesterday, also some deliveries were made in very necessary cases. The different depots of the office probably will be in a position to furnish a fair supply of ice today, although the county board has not yet authorized this relief.

Deaths from Prostration.

Dalzell, James, 34 years, 2935 Throop street; found dead in bed, overcome by heat Wednesday afternoon.

Deaths by Drowning.

Burns, Harold, 4 years old, 945 West Sixty-eighth street; drowned in the lagoon at Ogden park, West Sixty-fourth street and South Center avenue, after being overcome by heat.

Gallagher, Anna, 12 years old, 634 West Forty-eighth street. Overcome while in church, about to enter it to be confirmed. Taken home in the automobile of Rev. M. Dorney.

Children Felled at Communion.

During first communion services in St. Gabriel's Roman Catholic church, West Forty-fifth and Wallace streets, in the morning the heat was so severe that two children toppled over at the altar rail.

When the children were revived and taken home the service, conducted by the Rev. Father M. J. Dorney, was resumed. More than 300 children took their first communion during the forenoon.

"The heat was intense in the church," the Rev. Father Kelly, assistant pastor, said. "While a great many of the children were affected only two were prostrated."

Similar prostrations occurred at the Church

LABOR PEACE BOARD FORMED BY UNIONS AND CONTRACTORS

WAR OF PLUMBERS ENDED

STOP TIEUP OF HEISEN STRUCTURE

A forerunner of an early termination of the bitterly fought jurisdictional dispute between the United Association of Plumbers and the International Association of Steamfitters came yesterday when agreements were renewed with the steamfitters' union by which nearly 1,000 building trades workers returned to work on the Heisen building.

Simultaneously with the return to work of men who have been out on strike in protest against the plumbers' war against the steamfitters, building contractors and labor officials formed a permanent arbitration association designed to prevent for all time strikes in the building industry growing out of jurisdictional fights between labor unions.

The labor peace movement was started at a meeting held in the rooms of the Carpenter Contractors' association in the Chicago Opera House building. Labor officials representing more than 40,000 building trades workers attended the meeting.

It is the purpose of the leaders of the peace movement ultimately to embrace the members of every building trades union in Chicago and Cook county.

Outgrowth of "Gun Fights."

The movement is an outgrowth of the present jurisdictional fights that have crippled building operations in Chicago and resulted in much bloodshed and violence committed by bands of "gunmen" and sluggers.

Three labor unions and two associations of employers joined the new association. Another meeting will be held next Thursday and in the meantime invitations will be sent to all building trades unions to send representatives with power to affiliate their unions with the peace movement.

Following are the unions already affiliated with the Arbitration association and their numerical strength:

United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners	17,000
Bricklayers and Stonemasons' union	6,000
Hoisting Engineers' union	100

Carpenter Contractors' association.

Employers present at the meeting who promised to use their influence toward bringing their associations to join the new association are:

J. T. Driscoll of the Painters and Decorators' club.
A. Reum of the Employing Plasterers' association.
W. S. Joslyn and F. Bully, contractors.

Plan to Form Joint Board.

Labor officials present were Peter S. Shaughnessy, president of the Bricklayers' union; W. A. Martin, business agent of the Hoisting Engineers' union; John A. Metz, president of the Carpenters' District council; Martin B. Madden, president of the Junior Steamfitters' union; Axel Alex of the Lathers' union.

The plan of the peace leaders is to form a general joint arbitration board, composed of representatives of all employers' associations and building trades unions, with power to settle all jurisdictional disputes arising out of claims of rival unions. This plan is an extension of the present joint arbitration boards of individual unions and employers' associations in the Chicago building industry.

The absence of a general joint arbitration tribunal, it was pointed out at the meeting, had much to do with spreading the present labor fights between the plumbers and steamfitters and the machinists and elevator constructors.

Under the rules of the new association all disputes between various trades shall first be submitted to the individual boards. In the event of the refusal of either side of the controversy to abide by the decision the dispute then shall be submitted to the general joint arbitration board, which will use its power to compel either side to abide by the decision.

How Board Will Be Made Up.

The general joint arbitration board is to be in the nature of a court of appeal. In the constitution of the new association it is set forth that the object is to prevent strikes and lockouts and facilitate the peaceful adjustment of all grievances that may arise.

The general board is to be composed of one delegate and one alternate from each union and each association of employers. Any union having a membership of more than 5,000 shall have an additional delegate for each 5,000 members or fraction thereof. Increases in the labor representatioon shall be followed by a corresponding increase in the representation of the employers. No union or employers' association shall have more than three delegates.

A joint trade arbitration board in each union and association is a condition of affiliation with the general board. Strikes and lockouts are forbidden pending a decision of the boards or an appeal to the general board. Members are prohibited from working with or employing any person, firm, or corporation under fine or suspension by the boards.

Building Tied Up Six Weeks.

WILL GIVE $50,000 FOR Y. M. C. A. HOTEL

Julius Rosenwald Offers Nucleus for Half Million Dollar Fund.

BOOKER T. LAUDS WORK.

A movement toward the building of a $500,000 hotel in Chicago, to be conducted with Y. M. C. A. recognition along the lines of the Mills hotel in New York was started last night with a conditional contribution of $50,000 by Julius Rosenwald, president of Sears, Roebuck & Co.

The announcement came as a surprise at the close of the fifty-third anniversary dinner of the Chicago Y. M. C. A. at the Auditorium hotel.

The association, in view of the recent campaign for money waged in Chicago, will not make a public canvas to secure the $450,000 necessary to complete the hotel fund. Officials of the Y. M. C. A. said it would be the hope of the organization that other citizens of Chicago would get behind the movement and make private contributions, and in this way get the money together for the new venture.

Would Care for 1,500 Guests.

At the close of the speaking, L. Wilbur Messer, general secretary of the association in Chicago, announced to the guests that he had been authorized by Mr. Rosenwald to make the statement concerning the offer.

"Mr. Rosenwald's idea is to construct a hotel that will accommodate from 1,000 to 1,500 guests, and which should cost in the neighborhood of $500,000. The hotel he has in mind is for men, a transient hotel, along the lines of the Mills hotels. In view of our recent campaign it is suggested that no public campaign should be carried on, but that we rely upon the private subscriptions of citizens interested in our movement to complete the fund."

Dr. Washington Lauds Rosenwald.

Booker T. Washington in an address spoke of the movement in Chicago to build a colored Y. M. C. A. building and of the offer of Mr. Rosenwald to contribute $25,000 toward a $100,000 colored Y. M. C. A. building in any city that would raise the balance.

"I question whether any one act in recent years," said the speaker, "has gone so far to put the southern colored man and the southern white man at work together, as Mr. Rosenwald's gift. In Atlanta, largely because of Chicago's example, white and colored people working together have raised $37,000 for a building.

Great Aid for Negroes.

"Chicago must face the fact that it has a large and increasing colored population, coming largely from the south, that is unused to life in a large city. When the colored young man comes here he finds himself confronted with new climatic conditions, and new labor conditions. Increased temptations surround him. No race, under such circumstances, without guidance and help, can adjust itself to these conditions. The Y. M. C. A. building, which is to be erected and properly equipped for effective work here, will help the black race in Chicago immensely, in its effort toward adjustment.

"It requires constant effort and preparation on the part of any group of people in a large city to stand up and hold its own against severe competition. The industrial training, as well as the mental and religious teachings at this Y. M. C. A. for colored people will afford my race help in increasing its usefulness, thereby aiding it to withstand competition.

"More in the future than in the past in Chicago the best elements of the white and the colored people should come together for consultation, for exchange of thought, and for mutual effort in upbuilding the community. The worst elements of the two races generally get together, and the time has come when the best elements of the races should learn to work together and to know each other."

"HERMAN ROCKED THE BOAT"; TWO GIRLS NEARLY DROWN.

First Boating Accident of the Season at Wilson Beach Prevented from Being a Tragedy by Ready Rescuer.

"Herman rocked the boat," was the explanation two girls gave at Wilson avenue beach yesterday afternoon after James McGerry of 4522 Racine avenue had dragged them half drowned to shore.

The two girls, Ida Chick, 5350 South Halsted street, and Margaret Kyle, 5004 Michigan avenue, were boating in the lake with Benjamin Mastofsky, 6207 North Clark street; Herman Heiss, Superior and North Clark streets, and Harry Appelbaum.

McGerry was lolling in the warm sand when he heard the girls screaming for help. The boat had capsized about five hundred feet off shore. McGerry boarded his canoe and rescued the party. All wore bathing suits. Heiss swam to shore. The others could not swim. Albert Trauman, who lives at the Great Northern hotel, also aided in the rescue. The three boys in the boat all were students at Waller High school.

"Yes," said Miss Chick after they got the water out of her, "Herman rocked the boat. He didn't think it would tip over."

CARNEGIE TO PAY DEPOSITORS?

Understanding Is He Will Meet Liabilities of Trust Company Bearing His Name.

New York, May 18.—[Special.]—Depositors of the Carnegie Trust company heard today that they may get out all their money. The story is that Andrew Carnegie has decided to pay them in full. S. R. A. Franks, who is Carnegie's financial secretary, has been giving optimistic hints lately to people interested in the trust company's affairs. About $2,000,000 is needed to liquidate the insolvent institution. There is an understanding downtown that Carnegie has about made up his mind to pay off the depositors and take a chance on the assets.

ROOSEVELT TO AID TAFT CANDIDACY

OLD INTIMACY REMAINS.

Washington, D. C., May 18.—[Special.]—This time next year, or a month later, the Republican party will meet in national convention to nominate its candidate for president.

The questions that have been agitating official Washington are:

Will the president be a candidate for renomination?

If he is, on what will he base his claim to reelection?

Where does Col. Roosevelt stand?

It is possible tonight to answer these questions on the highest authority.

President Taft will be a candidate. He believes that if the prospects of the Republican party are bright next year he will be entitled to the renomination because of his administration.

Feels Duty Even to Face Defeat.

It clouds obscure Republican success the president believes that having been honored by the Republican party with one nomination it is his duty to go to the front even in the face of defeat in defense of his administration.

President Taft and former President Roosevelt are on the same terms of intimacy that characterized their relations when Mr. Taft was a member of President Roosevelt's cabinet.

There have been disagreements over details and politics, but no difference has involved the regard of one man for the other personally nor has it at any time degenerated into a question of politics.

Friends of the president are certain he will have opposition, especially if Republican prospects are bright. In fact, these friends and advisers are aware of an existing movement to wrest the nomination from Mr. Taft if prospects of Republican success are bright.

Opposition Forces Divided.

The opposition is divided into two factions, and, according to friends of the president, these factions are opposing each other. The factions are:

The Illinois Lorimerites.

The former will have nothing to do with the latter and the latter will have nothing to do with the former. Lorimer and his henchmen are for nominating a reactionary.

The last reports of the friends of the president show the entire south is for the renomination of President Taft.

NO STREET CARS, USE BUSES.

Forest Park, Marooned in Traction War, Will Start Sunday Service to Nearby Cemeteries.

At a meeting of the Forest Park board last night it was decided to start a bus line next Sunday to carry passengers to the various cemeteries in the village and burial grounds within a radius of ten miles. The lack of transportation since the renewal of the traction warfare caused the board to take this action. The bus line will start Sunday and will be operated each Sunday and holiday.

STATE SENATE VOTES LORIMER SEAT TAINTED

Goes on Record, 39 to 10, That Election Was Corrupt.

URGES U. S. INQUIRY

SUBMITS HELM EVIDENCE

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., May 18.—[Special.]—The senate of Illinois declared today by a vote of 39 to 10 that the election of William Lorimer was brought about by bribery and corruption.

Most of the men who went on record in this matter were present throughout the deadlock, and are familiar with the long train of confessions and revelations which have followed.

By the same vote the senate of Illinois asked that the name of the commonwealth be cleared and the blame for the situation placed where it belongs by a further investigation by the senate of the United States.

Vote on Lorimer in Detail.

YEAS—(REP.)

Ball,	McElwain,	Pemberton,

Total—3.

NAYS—(DEM.)

Broderick,	Forest,	Hearn,
Carroll,	Gorman,	Total—6,

Total Nays—10.

PRESENT AND NOT VOTING
Clark (Rep.) O'Connor (Dem.)
Total Present and Not Voting—2.

How the Vote Was Divided.

Of those who voted for the resolution thirty-one were members who had personal knowledge of the deadlock and five of them voted for Lorimer—Ettelson, Henson, Juul, Maclean, and Potter. Only eight of them were new men—Beall, Cornwell, Chamberlin, Johnson, Madigan, Magill, Telford, and Waage.

All those who voted against the resolution voted for Lorimer except Carroll and Denvir, who were not in the last general assembly, and Pemberton. Clark voted for Lorimer and O'Connor was not a member of the last senate.

The vote is a condemnation of the Lorimer election from the men best fitted by experience to judge it.

Helm Evidence to U. S. Senate.

The secretary of state was instructed to transmit to the senate of the United States the report of the Helm committee and the evidence collected by it, together with notice of the action taken by the senate.

No action was taken in the cases of State Senators John Broderick and Stanton C. Pemberton. The Democratic saloonkeeper from Chicago and the downstate member of the Republican "old guard" and idol of the local optionists had joined forces in a formidable defensive alliance which would have made their ouster impossible had it been brought to a vote.

Two reasons were given by most of the senators for their stand in this matter:

Both men were acquitted by judges, so the senate should not hold them guilty until each senator has heard the testimony for and against them.

As long as the senate of the United States retains William Lorimer in his seat, his tool in the senate of Illinois should not be punished for placing him there.

It also was argued in behalf of Pemberton that tomorrow will be his last day in the senate anyway and to oust him would savor of malice.

Broderick Saved by Politics.

On the view of the unequivocal holding of the senate that Lorimer's election was bought, it is probable that if the case of Broderick had come up alone he would have been ousted, but partisan politics brought about a situation where they had to stand or fall together.

A compromise resolution introduced by Mr. Helm providing that the two men accused be allowed to apear before the Helm committee between now and May 31, and present any defense that they may have, and that the senate then act on their cases, was held out of order by Lieut. Gov. Oglesby, who was sustained by the senate by a vote of 30 to 8.

He held that the senate could take up on May 31 only such matters as are named in the joint resolution already adopted by the senate providing for adjournment.

Senators Hurburgh and Jones appealed from the ruling on the ground that as the resolution has not yet been passed by the house it is not in effect.

Barr Stirs Wordy Storm.

As a preliminary to the vote on the resolution holding the Lorimer election corrupt and asking for a new federal investigation, Senator Barr of Joliet introduced an amendment to the resolution condemning every man who voted at any time during the deadlock for any one other than victors at the primaries as an accessory before the fact to the final result.

This hit Senator Jones, who had voted not only for A. J. Hopkins, who carried the state at the primaries, but also for Edmund Foss, who carried the Jones district by a big majority.

Senator Dunlap objected that the amendment was out of order, but Mr. Oglesby said he would allow "the widest possible scope" to the consideration of the resolution.

Mr. Barr made a short argument for his amendment, pointing his remarks plainly to Senator Jones. The latter replied. Senator Dailey interrupted to charge him with breaking his caucus obligations. Senator Jones replied further.

Dailey Makes Sensational Speech.

Then Senator Dailey arose and, trembling with passion, and fairly shaking the windows of the senate chamber, denounced up and down and crossways Senator Jones in particular and all others who had voted at any time during the deadlock for any one except Hopkins or Stringer. He charged that every man who voted for any one except the men chosen by the people of the state at the primary as the candidates of the two parties had betrayed his trust and paved the way for the final scandal, the election of Lorimer, and he demanded that they be included in the denunciation of those responsible for that great disgrace to the state.

The amendment was carried by acclamation. It hit sixteen of the senators present, the seven Lorimer voters who voted against the resolution, the Lorimer voter who refused to vote, five Lorimer voters who supported the resolution, and three senators—Brown, Hay, and Jones—who did not vote for Lorimer but did vote at times for some one other than Hopkins.

Debate on Resolution.

The argument then turned to the adoption of the resolution. Senator O'Connor asserted he could not vote without having heard, or at least read, all the evidence considered by the Helm committee, and he said that he had not done that. Mr. Henson objected at length on the ground that the senate had refused to adopt his report on the Chicago garment strike, that there was politics in the matter, and that it would do "no one no goog." He ended by saying he would vote for the resolution, nevertheless. Mr. Henson had voted for Lorimer.

Senators Helm and McKenzie, as members of the Helm committee, spoke for the resolution, urging the necessity of never allowing the Lorimer case to rest until the stain it has placed upon the name of Illinois has been wiped away.

The roll was then called. Two senators explained their stand—Clark, who refused to vote, and Curtis, who voted against the resolution. Each professed to base his action upon objection to the Barr amendment, not upon opposition to the main part of the resolution, which held the Lorimer election corrupt and asked further investigation by the federal senate. Each asserted that in failing to abide by the primary victor, after the deadlock had remained unshaken, he was doing nothing wrong and would not vote for his own condemnation on that score.

Helm Committee Is Discharged.

Immediately following the adoption of the Lorimer resolution as amended the resolution providing for authorization of the Helm committee to hold further hearings on the Pemberton and Broderick cases was read and Senator Potter made his point of order, which was upheld by the chair.

On the roll call on the appeal of Senators Jones and Hurburgh from this ruling six senators voted with them: Chamberlin, Ettelson, Funk, Hay, Helm, and Magill. Senators Dunlap, Lundberg, McKenzie, and Stewart were present but did not vote.

All the other members of the senate, thirty-nine of them, were united in casting the ballot which closed the consideration of the Lorimer case by this senate.

LORIMER DEBATE IN DETAIL.

The verbatim report of the senate debate on the Lorimer resolution and the Barr amendment is given herewith. Senator Barr opened the debate, saying:

"The amendment to this resolution which condemns the method of this election of the junior senator criticises that election for the reason there is evidence tending to show there was money used in the procuring of that election. This resolution condemns that practice and this amendment condemns the members of this assembly who, by their actions in failing to carry out the will of the people as expressed at the polls, brought about the condition that brought about all this talk of corruption and this evidence of corruption. We ought to put in this resolution this mark of disapproval of men who stand up here now and talk long and loud for reform and offer a resolution providing for the election of United States senators by vote of the people. Let us condemn the whole business."

Jones and Dailey Clash.

Then Senator Jones said: "As I have listened to this amendment, it seems to me it states the spirit and purpose of the direct primary law. When we had our last advisory vote for United States senator, there were a number of candidates proposed and the way the law originally stood there was some ambiguity as to whether or not the state at large or the vote of the senatorial district should prevail. Some interpreted it one way and some another. I recall that I voted on the floor of the senate in the first session for Mr. Foss, who carried my district. I then went into the caucus which voted in favor of Mr. Hopkins, and thereafter I voted for Mr. Hopkins upon a number of ballots and voted also for the man who carried my district. Finally I voted for Mr. Hopkins."

"Isn't it true," asked Senator Dailey, "that you went into a Republican caucus that took action favoring the election of Hopkins, and after participating in that caucus and being a party to it, and being bound by that action, you did not subsequently vote for Mr. Foss?"

Jones Continues Unruffled.

To this Senator Jones replied: "I will finish my statement and then I will come to your question. Under that law as it was drafted, that time, as I say, there was nothing in the law that required the candidate to follow the instructions either of his district or of the state, so that he was free to interpret the law as he saw fit. Now, coming to the question which the gentleman has asked me: Under the federal statutes when there is to be an election for United States senator we first vote in separate sessions. Upon the floor of this house I voted for Mr. Foss, who carried my district. That night we had the caucus and I went into the caucus, and I voted for Mr. Foss in the caucus, and I was outvoted, Mr. Hopkins receiving the vote. Then I went into the joint session and for several weeks voted for Mr. Hopkins, until it became evident ther was a deadlock and something should be done to break that deadlock."

Dailey Assails Jones.

"I am heartily in favor of this resolution as presented and I am heartily in favor of it as amended," said Mr. Dailey. "I was one of the members of this general assembly who voted for the choice of the people of the state of Illinois on every ballot from the first to the last. I attended the caucus of my party and I was bound by the action of that caucus and I want to say right here and now that every man on the Republican side of this general assembly who at any time during that roll call proved untrue to the vote of the people was a party to the final ending of that senatorial contest.

"I want to say that the excuse offered by Senator Jones is no excuse, that it is absolutely contemptible and that he was willing to do everything in his power to break down the vote of the people of Illinois upon the question of the election of a United States senator and to make this primary law nugatory.

"I think he should not escape the condemnation of this senate by this resolution. He was willing at any time during that contest to make useless the vote of the people.

"He was untrue to his pledge to his party. He was untrue to the action of the caucus. He was untrue to the implied pledges to his fellow members of the Republican party and he was untrue to the people of Illinois. He was insincere and untrue to the primary law of the state of Illinois and if you and every other Republican in this legislature had followed the dictates of the people and voted as they directed, we would not be up against this proposition.

Would Have Jones Share Blame.

"I want to say to you, Mr. Jones, that you must take your due share of responsibility for bringing this shame and disgrace upon the state of Illinois.

"I speak not as a friend of Senator Lorimer but as a man who protested against his election from first to last. I protested against it on the final roll call. I protest against it now and I protest against your weak excuses here.

"If we are going to condemn the election of Senator Lorimer, I believe we ought to condemn every agency, every action, everything done by any senator or any representative that brought about that election and made nugatory the vote of the people, and the senator from Cook must share in the responsibility.

"I am for this resolution with or without the amendment, but I think the amendment ought to go in. I think it is a good thing on the part of the senate to put it in. I believe the senator ought to take his medicine in this matter, and I don't believe we ought to listen to the excuse of a man who talks about a double allegiance, an allegiance to the particular district of Hyde Park as well as the state. Our allegiance is to the state of Illinois."

Senator Jones Replies.

"I should like to say a few words in reply to the gentleman," said Senator Jones. "I am willing to take up the gauntlet of battle where he throws it down. I am willing to stand upon my record for having fought for the direct primary law.

"I have used every effort in order to give the people the right of the selection of their candidates for office and when it came to this matter of the selection of United States senator the people of my district voted by an overwhelming vote for Mr. Foss. I construed that advisory vote of the district first and that if we could not select, then we should take up the advisory vote of the people at large.

"Now, when a deadlock ensued and it became evident Mr. Hopkins could not be elected, there were some men who in my opinion were so misguided they could not get together and select some strong man in the state of Illinois who might be elected United States senator, but they stood there like bumps on a log and allowed William Lorimer to go in and secure this election.

"I want to know who is the patriotic citizen, the man who tries to get a strong, able minded representative in the United States senate or the men who stand there and block any attempt of the Republican party to get together upon a compromise candidate when it appeared it was impossible to select either of the men who had the popular vote."

Dunlap Opposes Amendment.

"It seems to me," said Senator Dunlap, "that we are getting away from the resolution. The object of this amendment is not germane to the original resolution, and I make that point of order. However, that has been decided that it is. But, Mr. President, if you are going to take up the personal matters and actions of every member of this senate and put it into this resolution as having affected the election of a United States senator, then you should go across the hall and put in the bipartisan organization of the last session of the general assembly, which is at the real foundation and basis of the election of a man who was not the choice of the Republicans of this state at the primaries. Now I believe this amendment is not germane. Let us get at the real point—the matter of bribery and corruption. I agree with the senator from Peoria that the man who comes here and represents his district in the matter of the election of a United States senator should stand by the vote of his party and of the people of this state, but I believe this matter ought not to be adopted as a part of this resolution."

The amendment was then adopted.

The president then put the question on the adoption of the resolution as amended and Senator Jones demanded a roll call.

Senator Helm Has an Inning.

"I want to speak first," said Mr. Helm. "Of all the work we have done, the committee has not charged a dollar of expenses for anybody. We have simply tried to do the best we could. We possibly may make mistakes, but we have done what we thought was right in the matter and I have no further excuse to make in that respect."

"Will the senator tell the senate now what the expense is so far as you have gone?" asked Mr. Henson.

"It is a little over $8,000," said Mr. Helm, "all told for the entire time, and I will say the chairman of the appropriation committee in the house complimented me for the smallness of the amount, considering the length of time. He said we ought to have been paid for our time, that we were entitled to it and ought to have it, I would not do anything of that kind. I think it is understood we are offering this resolution in view of the fact we have been blocked in proceeding in this matter, and that we have not been able to go out and subpœna the witnesses we have found in other states and that we ought to present what we have to the senate of the United States when they open this matter for the purpose of investigation. Illinois does not want to stand under a charge of corruption and bribery.

Primary Not a Question.

"I regret that there should come up a question between the friends of this proposition of the primary law. But we will pass that; we don't want to get into any difficulties. These matters are not before us. It is simply the question of whether or not we propose to place our condemnation upon the records of this senate, that we do not propose to stand for anything that casts discredit upon the fair name of the state of Illinois and the citizenship of Illinois. I say to you that it is the proper thing for this senate to do, to adopt this report, and to offer to Washington the evidence we have secured, along with such other witnesses as we have not been able to investigate. We have not been able to reach some with our subpœnas, or to go into other states of the union and compel those witnesses to appear and testify.

McKenzie Defends Committee.

"I want to say a few words in defense of the committee," said Senator McKenzie, "and to explain to you some things that have occurred in this senate chamber this morning. So far as the individual members of the committee are concerned, we have not sought to tear down and destroy the reputation of any individual citizen. But we had a duty to perform as prescribed by the resolution. That duty we entered upon and I think we pursued it fearlessly. We got what evidence we could with the means we had in our hands and we submitted it to you. I opposed the placing of the recommendations in that report, maintaining that was the business of the senate. I have no objection to this resolution.

"I meant what I said when I signed that report. I believe the evidence we had justified us in saying what we did, and I felt we were justified in not going further in the cases of some of these men than the bar of justice, where they were acquitted, and the report so finds."

And the resolution then was adopted.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED BY ILLINOIS SENATE ASKING REOPENING OF LORIMER INVESTIGATION.

Following is the resolution adopted by the Illinois state senate calling for the reopening of the Lorimer investigation:

Whereas, Under senate resolution number 17 a committee was appointed to investigate charges of corruption and official misconduct against members of this senate, and

Whereas, Said committee has reported the result of its investigation to this senate, from which it appears that there were important and material witnesses without the state of Illinois whose attendance it could not legally compel and which witnesses refused voluntarily to appear, and

Whereas, Said committee was seriously impeded in the performance of its duties by what we believe to be the unwarranted action of a certain judge, and

Whereas, It appears from the report of said committee that despite its inability to compel the attendance of such foreign witnesses and the adverse action of said judge, sufficient evidence was procured to show that without bribery and corruption, and by reason of the failure of certain senators and representatives during the different roll calls to carry out the will of the people, as expressed at the polls, in the choice for a United States senator, which action we deem most reprehensible, and which should be condemned, and which we hereby condemn, the election of William Lorimer to the United States senate would not have occurred.

Resolved, That it is the opinion of this senate, based upon the report and findings of the said committee, that the election of William Lorimer to a seat in the United States senate was brought about by bribery and corruption, and

Resolved, That the gravity of the situation, involving as it does the integrity and good name of this state and the welfare of the nation, demands a further investigation and determination of this matter by a body possessing broader jurisdiction and greater powers than does this senate, and be it further

Resolved, That the secretary of this senate be and he is hereby authorized and directed to transmit to the senate of the United States a copy of the evidence taken by the said committee, together with the report and findings of that committee and a copy of this resolution, for such action as the senate of the United States may deem proper.

Resolved, That the findings of said committee, as set forth in the report heretofore filed be, and the same are hereby ratified and approved.

LORIMER'S CASE UP AGAIN MONDAY

La Follette Notifies U. S. Senate He Will Bring Up Inquiry Resolution.

FEELING AGAINST DELAY.

Obstructive Tactics Certain, but Reopening of the Scandal Assured.

BY JOHN CALLAN O'LAUGHLIN.

Washington, D. C., May 18.—[Special.]—Now that the Illinois upper house has completed its investigation of the Lorimer case, the senate of the United States will begin without delay the consideration of Senator La Follette's proposal to institute another inquiry.

While the La Follette resolution creating a special committee of new senators to conduct the inquiry, meritorious as it is, may not receive senatorial approval, the people in Illinois may be sure that a reinvestigation will be ordered.

On the part of some senators such action will be reluctantly authorized. But undoubtedly the majority of the body will favor it. The country may as well realize the same obstructive tactics will be pursued by the Lorimer following in the present senate as during the last congress.

It is not putting it too plainly to say that the inertia of the senate again has been appealed to for the purpose of delaying further examination of Senator Lorimer's right and title to the seat he occupies.

Sentiment Against Procrastination.

But the sentiment against procrastination is decidedly strong, especially among the new senators. The latter, fresh from the people, realize the odium attaching to the upper house of congress as a result of the retention of the Illinois boss and they desire it be removed at the earliest possible moment.

These men appreciate, as indeed does the majority of the senate, that if the senate is to regain the respect and confidence of the country it must have in its membership only men who have attained their seats fairly and honestly.

The Lorimer case was brought to the attention of the senate today by Mr. La Follette, who made the following announcement in the morning:

"Mr. President, a number of senators have inquired as to the taking up of the senate resolution to appoint a special committee to investigate certain charges relative to the election of William Lorimer I will say at this time, in order that senators who desire to be here may have the opportunity, that I shall ask the senate to take up that resolution on Monday at the close of the morning business."

Plain Notice Given Lorimer.

Here was a plain notice to Mr. Lorimer that once more a movement is to be inaugurated for his investigation by his senatorial colleagues. It was also notice to Mr. Dillingham of Vermont, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, that an attempt will be made to induce the senate to take from his committee an inquiry which he asserts it was specially constituted to conduct.

Mr. Dillingham will oppose the La Follette resolution. He will insist that to adopt it would be a reflection upon himself and his colleagues and overturn the customary procedure. It also will be fought on the ground that it constitutes a reflection upon the vice president.

The assertion is made that whenever special committees are created the vice president usually is empowered to appoint its members. This is not true. There have been occasions when the senate itself has made up committees to make investigations.

"Senatorial Courtesy Issue."

These arguments are not surprising, since they constitute the usual appeal of "senatorial courtesy" which the old guard makes. Fortunately for the country, less reverence is being paid to this arbiter of senatorial destinies than has been the case in the past.

The course pursued by the progressives is tending to create a new order and senators who have just entered upon their terms propose to give impetus to the movement. Consequently, the objections which will be offered to the La Follette resolution, so far as they affect any committee or officer of the senate, are not apt to have much weight with a number of members of the upper house.

But even if the La Follette resolution be rejected, the Lorimerites will find no comfort in the victory. The rejection of the resolution will be in consequence of an agreement. That will specify—if, indeed, it has not already been made—that there shall be no delay by the committee on privileges and elections in reporting a resolution authorizing the new inquiry.

Will Shut Off Subcommittee.

It also is the understanding that the committee shall not make an investigation through a subcommittee, but that its entire membership shall take part in the examination of witnesses. Nine of the fifteen members of this committee voted for the retention of Lorimer in the senate. Three voted against him and three have not yet had an opportunity to express themselves in congress.

It may be expected there will be members on the committee who will be determined to get all the facts and not stop the investigation until they have reached the bottom of the case.

The press extracts from the report of the Helm committee were read with great interest by the members of the senate. This was the only comment made by Mr. Cullom:

"If any new facts in connection with Senator Lorimer's election have been developed I shall vote for an investigating committee and undoubtedly the senate will order it."

Senator Borah of Idaho, also asked for his opinion on the Helm committee report, made this statement:

"I do not care to discuss the effect of the report further than to say that it leaves no alternative in my judgment than a reinvestigation by the United States senate and such an investigation as will go to the bottom of the matter and spare neither individuals nor private affairs in order to ascertain the real truth. Neither Mr. Lorimer as a senator of the United States nor the United States senate as a legislative body can afford for a moment to rest under the imputation which arises from an insufficient investigation. Mr. Lorimer's friends should demand it instead of opposing it, and all who have any respect for the senate of the United States should uncompromisingly insist upon it."

Illinoisans Are Embarrassed.

The demand for reopening the Lorimer inquiry in Washington has put the Illinois delegation in congress again in an embarrassing position.

Some of the Republican congressmen from Illinois and also some of the Democrats who are affiliated with Lorimer interests are against a renewal of the investigation by the United States senate. In fact, that possibility is the one thing which they fear at the present stage of the affair. Other members of the delegation who would like to see a thorough airing of the scandal are afraid to take a stand for such a course on account of the punishment the Lorimer organization would mete out to them in the next campaign.

The attitude of the independent members of the delegation, who are not swayed by political considerations, is illustrated by the views expressed by Congressman Graham of Springfield.

"The fact that Tilden refused to show his books and that the whole inquiry was stopped as a result of the decision of Judge Petit sufficiently warrants a continuation of the investigation by the United States senate," he said.

PREACHER CONDEMNS LORIMER.

Jacksonville, Fla., May 18.—The Rev C. S. Gardner, D. D., in his annual sermon before the Southern Baptist convention here today, referred to the United States senate as "that once respectable organ of government," condemned the seating of Senator Lorimer, and discussed other recent public events in language equally vigorous.

"A thoughful mind can hardly fail to bring into relation with one another certain incidents which have crowded themselves upon the public attention in recent weeks," he continued. "One is a judicial decision rendered by the Supreme court of our greatest state in a case which, in its naked principle, involved the relative sacredness of property and human life; and the court declared that the sacredness of property was fundamental in the political constitution of our country.

"Another is the action of the senate of the United States in which a majority of the senators covered that once respectable organ of government with infamy and the nation with shame by voting to receive into their official comradeship a man who owed his election to a grossness and baseness of political corruption which all but prostrate decent men with moral nausea.

"And while the civilized world was standing aghast at this manifestation of the deadly virus at work in the veins of our political and economic organism, our hearts were almost frozen by the revelation of an alleged vast dynamiting conspiracy on the part of conspicuous labor leaders. Are not all these incidents vitally related?

"Have these things no intimate relation to the religious problems of our time? It is sin organized into the most substantial partr of the social fabric, and God is calling us in this day to fight for the eradication of that sin."

BRYAN DENOUNCES PETIT.

Lincoln, Neb., May 18.—[Special.]—Commenting in the forthcoming issue of his Commoner on the decision of Judge Petit of Chicago in the Tilden case, W. J. Bryan says:

"The action of Judge Petit in standing between Lorimer and the Illinois investigating committee will make converts to the recall. It will not hurt to deprive such a judge of 'independence' such as Judge Petit manifested."

ASK LORIMER TO QUIT.

Moline, Ill., May 18.—[Special.]—State Congregationalists representing 350 churches and 50,000 members, dipped into politics at its final session today, when M. A. Myers of La Grange introduced a resolution condemning Senator Lorimer and demanding his resignation. At least forty men jumped to their feet to second the motion and the resolution was adopted by a unanimous vote. The resolution in effect demands Lorimer's immediate resignation for the cause of good government. The action further expressed deep regret at the position taken by Senator Cullom.

LORIMERISM ISSUE IN DEBATE.

Lorimerism was forced to take the brunt of the attack in the John Naughton debate of St. Ignatius college on the direct election of senators, which was held last night in St. Ignatius hall. The decision was given the affirmative side, upholding popular election. Former Mayor Busse was held up by the negative side as the awful example of popular election.

The winning side was composed of Thomas J. O'Brien and William B. O'Brien. On the negative were Thaddeus C. Zamiara and James Fitzgerald.

One of the speakers on the negative side placed the cost of the election of United States senators under the present system at $100,000, and said that with the direct election the cost would go up to $250,000.

Among the things the present senate was called were "hideous and transformed spectacle," "servant of the trusts," "once honest, patriotic, and true."

The judges were the Rev. James Kiely, Dr. A. Cosmos Garvy, Nicholas R. Finn, Francis Naughton, and Leo J. Doyle. The winners of the contest were awarded medals

W. GEORGE SMITH? SURE, WE'RE HERE

ALSO ONE LARGE TANGLE.

New York, May 18.—[Special.]—Should two men named Smith, engaging steamship passage at widely different points, select the same ship and find themselves assigned to the same state room, the coincidence might be worthy of some notice.

Should two men, each named George Smith, go through the same experience, there would be more interest in the coincidence, but it would not be considered remarkable.

But when two men each named W. George Smith, find themselves upon embarking for an ocean voyage, assigned to the same stateroom on the ship each had selected, the occasion is worthy of more or less wonder.

And It Is Absolutely True.

It is perhaps unnecessary to note that the following recital of the experiences of W. George Smith M. D. of Atwater, N. Y., and W. George Smith of Philadelphia is absolutely true:

About a month ago Dr. W. George Smith of Atwater and W. George Smith, a broker, of Philadelphia, felt the need of rest and recreation. Both decided to take a voyage to the Mediterranean and looked up steamship sailings. Both decided to sail on the Saxonia of the Cunard line from New York on May 18. Neither W. George Smith knew of the existence of the other.

Dr. Smith engaged his passage my mail from the New York office. As he was traveling alone he was assigned to stateroom 61 on the main deck. Broker Smith engaged his passage through an agent in Philadelphia, and was assigned to stateroom 61 on the main deck. This has two berths.

Luggage Brings First Mixup.

Dr. Smith was the first to board the Saxonia today. After seeing his luggage stowed in stateroom 61 he went on deck to look afound. In a few minutes Broker Smith arrived and had his luggage sent to stateroom 61.

But stateroom 61 already was incumbered with luggage marked W. George Smith and W. G. S. The mystified Philadelphian called a steward and had the luggage he did not own put out in the companionway.

"Some one is trying to play a joke on me," he commented, as a steward entered and handed him several letters addressed to "W. George Smith, aboard the Saxonia." The first letter he opened was from a girl named Helen, who lives in Buffalo. W. George Smith of Philadelphia does not know Helen of Buffalo.

Indignation and Explanation.

While Philadelphia W. George Smith was puzzling over the situation. Atwater W. George Smith went to the stateroom. He was indignant when he found his luggage in the companionway and more indignant when he found another man and strange baggage in the stateroom.

Before the Saxonia sailed the two W. George Smiths had straightened out their amazement. They decided to share stateroom 61 and hunted up the purser in order to explain the situation and avoid further complications.

FIND $5,000 IN MARKED CASH ON SUSPECTED ASSESSOR.

Alameda County, Cal., Official Arrested—Had Just Parted with Water Company Man, Is Charged.

Oakland, Cal., May 18.—Henry P. Dalton, county assessor of Alameda county, was arrested here late today while leaving a restaurant, where it is declared he had met a high official of the Spring Valley Water company. District Attorney W. H. Donahue is the authority for the statement that $5,000 in marked bills were taken from Dalton following his arrest.

Dalton denied that he had been in company with any representative of the Spring Valley people. The company supplies San Francisco with water.

Dalton's case will be presented to the grand jury tomorrow. Evidence will be offered, Mr. Donahue said tonight, tending to show a proposed reduction of $2,500,000 in the assessed valuation of the Spring Valley company, which has large holdings in Alameda county.

NAMED FOR NEW YORK BENCH.

Dix Nominates Cohalan to Succeed O'Gorman Following Holding Up of Another Appointment.

New York, May 18.—Daniel F. Cohalan was today nominated by Gov. Dix as Supreme court justice to succeed James A. O'Gorman, recently elected United States senator.

His name was sent to the senate within a half hour after that body had confirmed George C. Van Tuyl Jr. as state superintendent of banks.

Van Tuyl's designation had been held up by the senate.

According to reports in political circles it was done in order to force the governor to make some appointment agreeable to Charles F. Murphy.

ADKINS DEFEATS WATERWAY BILL

MEANS ONE MORE SESSION.

Call May Be Issued Before Legislature Adjourns Sine Die Tonight.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill, May 18.—[Special.]—Gov. Deneen's deep waterway bill went to its death tonight by constitutional limitation. Speaker Adkins, true to his threat, refused to make any concessions to any one.

There was no meeting of the deep waterway committee; no consideration of the Johnson bill as passed by the senate, which carried the tacit approval of President Taft and Gov. Deneen. There was not the slightest opportunity for fiend or foe of the bill to express his sentiment or to record his vote one way or the other.

There was one chance for a compromise which failed during the afternoon. That was the proposition of a fresh referendum on the waterway bill, by submission to a vote of the people. Gov. Deneen's friends were willing to consider this, provided a referendum election might be ordered within ninety days—which time limit, as held by the governor, following his consultation with President Taft, is highly essential if the federal government, during the Taft administration, is to initiate the policy of deep waterway construction between the lakes and the gulf.

The earliest date for a referendum which would be considered by the emissaries from the Lorimer camp was submission of the question at the next general election, which meant November, 1912. This was so untenable from a practical standpoint that it was not considered.

Extra Session Certain Now.

All of which doubles the strength of the definite forecast that there will be an extra session of the legislature to consider deep waterway legislation, and that this extra session will be called at the earliest moment commensurate with the strategic necessities of the occasion.

The consensus of opinion among the advisers of the governor seems to indicate that the extra session call will be issued before the adjournment tomorrow midnight. The date for the extra session is likely to be either June 1, the day following the sine die adjournment, or a date within the first fifteen days of the coming month.

Speaker Adkins made no reply to the caustic assault made upon him and his speakership course by the statement of Gov. Deneen made public last night. He preferred to sit tight in the speaker's chair, which he left for just ten minutes during the entire day, and that to make a speech from the floor attacking the puts and calls bill, which he sent to its death by the two-thirds route.

The speaker, apparently, preferred to rest quietly under the unveiled charge from the executive office that the Desplaines valley power trust becomes the chief gainer by the cold blooded assassination of the waterway bill at the hands of the speaker.

Adkins' Mood Still Belligerent.

The fan and ice water treatment which had been recommended did not sound reasonable to Speaker Adkins, and he wound up tonight's doings with quite as belligerent an attitude toward Gov. Deneen as he evinced yesterday when he leaped into the fore of the anti-Deneen fight.

Gov. Deneen likewise maintained silence, preferring to do more talking in the event that the speaker finds it necessary to make some reply to the bundle which the governor left on the Adkins doorstep.

Politically, the Deneen-Adkins controversy has upset all sorts of calculations. The house was in a turmoil all day because of the contretemps. It appears that the speaker's attack upon the governor was launched without consultation with his steering committee or anybody else. He "tipped it off" to Mr. Chiperfield, whom he called to the chair, as he entered the hall of representatives, and he also informed Representative Homer J. Tice that "there would be something doing."

In some quarters this latter condition is considered as one of the smoothest plays which has been made by the time worn political experts who handle the political business in Springfield for Senator William Lorimer.

Sequel of January Combination.

They figure that when the combination was effected in January which caused the bolt from the speakership caucus of the old Lorimer crowd and their recruits, Mr. Adkins was picked for the speakership as a candidate who would respond readily to the treatment which has been his portion all winter long. As a gubernatorial candidate, it is figured he needed a platform and a "friendly" suggestion now and then might have appealed to the political aspirations of the speaker to the extent that he jumped into the open as the regular anti-waterway possibility.

One of the points emphasized in the speech of Speaker Adkins yesterday was that he had "released" certain members of the house who had come to him "with tears in their eyes" because state appointees had pressed them to the point that they found it desirable politically to vote for the administration waterway bill. The administration leaders are wondering now by what right Speaker Adkins "released" them and from what pledges or promises they were "released."

It is apparent that the factional feeling has reached the breaking point, by reason of the open crossfire of attack between the governor and the speaker, and developments bordering upon the sensational are in sight before the finish tomorrow night.

Peoria Will Voice Protest.

Peoria, Ill., May 18.—[Special.]—A mass-meeting will be held here tomorrow night to protest against the "snobbish conduct of Speaker Adkins and Representative Chiperfield" in smothering the deep waterway bill in the house. President Bethard of the Association of Commerce, H. B. Morgan of the Deep Waterway association, and other citizens, resenting "the insolence" of the representatives who are blind to the interests of the people, have issued a call for the people in general to enter a vigorous protest.

RAILROAD BILL PAST SENATE.

Fight on Appointive Rather than Elective Commission to Come Up in the House.

Springfield, Ill., May 18.—[Special.]—Carrying the senate amendment that the railroads and warehouse commission shall be appointive by the governor rather than elective by the people, the big railroad bill was passed by the senate this afternoon.

The real fight will come in the house when it is up to the representatives to stand for the appointive commission as inserted by the senate or to hang on to its elective commission idea, which is construed by the men who drew the measure as destructive of its main principle.

The fate of the amended senate bill in the house is in doubt. Efforts are being made to keep it out of conference committee.

HOUSES PASS LABOR MEASURE

Employes' Compensation Bill Now Goes to Governor.

EXECUTIVE MAY VETO ACT.

Attempts to Sidetrack Fail; Senate Vote Is 35 to 1 in Favor.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., May 18.—[Special.]—The senate today accepted the house amendments to the employes' compensation bill, and it now goes to the governor.

Constitutional questions have been raised by a lobby representing the manufacturing interests and it is possible that the governor may veto the measure after a study of it by the attorney general's office.

The vote on concurrence in the senate was 35 to 1. This followed an effort made by Senator Clark to have the bill referred to the senate manufactures committee for a report to be made at the night session of the senate.

Senator Henson Indignant.

Senator Clark declared that his proposal was not due to any desire to obstruct the bill, but it caused Senator Henson, who represents organized labor, to become indignant, and he made a speech in which he scored those opposed to the bill.

Coupled with the compensation bill is the employers' liability measure, which the labor men had expected to get to a vote in the house this afternoon. Representative O'Toole said he had been promised a roll call on the bill tomorrow. There is some doubt about the fate of this bill. In effect it eliminates the fellow servant doctrine as a defense in damage suits.

In demanding that the senate agree to the house amendments to the compensation bill, Senator Henson said that the labor interests believe the amended bill to be worthy of the closest scrutiny of the state Supreme court, and that the impression exists among the labor leaders that the original bill is unconstitutional.

Wrath of Labor Threatened.

"I would rather take the chances of having the Supreme court knock out the law after we have passed it," said Senator Henson, "than to have the house amendments refused by this senate and to have the bill sent to conference. That, in my judgment, would mean the absolute defeat of the bill."

Senator Potter affirmed that for the senate to permit the bill to go to conference, where slaughter was imminent, would be to bring down upon the Republican party the wrath of organized labor.

Senator Clark then made his motion to send the bill to the manufactures committee, which was lost on a viva voce vote. The conference report immediately came up for adoption and the vote was 35 to 1.

The bill provides for the compensation of employés for injury or death incurred in the course of their employment and provides that employers shall pay in case of death an amount equal to four times the annual pay of the employé, but not exceeding $3,500.

Liability Bill Goes Through.

The employers' liability bill was passed by the house tonight by a vote of 100 to 2 and now goes to the governor for his signature.

It was compelled to fight its way past the Adkins two-thirds rule, in spite of the pleas of Representative James J. O'Toole, in charge of the bill, that the labor interests of Illinois should not be compelled to go to such extremes to secure their requests from an Illinois legislature.

The bill, now ready for legislative action, abrogates the fellow servant doctrine of law that has been followed by the courts in defining the liability of employers where one of their employés is injured by the negligence or inefficiency of a fellow employé. It applies only to hazardous occupations, and the argument of its backers is that it follows directly the federal law.

BILL OF LADING MEASURE O. K.

State Senate Passes Compromise Bill Asked by Both Roads and Shippers.

Springfield, Ill., May 18.—[Special.]—The uniform bill of lading bill introduced by Representative G. A. Miller in the house and passed in that branch yesterday, received the approval of the senate tonight. It is a compromise measure meeting the wishes of both the shippers and the railroads.

CITY HARBOR BILL PASSES

Kleeman's Lake Calumet Measure Also Up to the Governor.

NO OPPOSITION TO EITHER.

Chicago Authorized to Use Day Labor on Municipal Works.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., May 18.—[Special.]—The O'Connor "city" outer harbor bill passed the house tonight by a vote of 125 to 0. The senate amendments to the Kleeman Calumet harbor bill were agreed to, and both measures now go to Gov. Deneen for his approval. There was no objection to the consideration of either bill.

The city bill confers power upon the city of Chicago to proceed with outer harbor negotiations. Necessary bond issues must be submitted to a referendum vote and, if the municipal government can finance the project, business may start after July with action by the city council.

For Lake Calumet Harbor.

The Kleeman bill provides that the sanitary district of Chicago may construct a harbor in Lake Calumet, connected with Lake Michigan throught the Calumet river. The district must construct at least one and one-half miles of the "Sag" channel branch of the drainage canal before proceeding with the building of the Lake Calumet harbor.

The protective sections of the Juul outer harbor bill, which Kleeman choked to death in his committee, were inserted in the Kleeman bill by the senate, and it was to these, covering wharf and harbor privileges and terms of leases, that the house gave its concurrence.

City May Use Day Labor.

The city "day labor" bill also was passed by the house. It authorizes the employment by the city of day labor in any municipal undertaking. It is the intention, as intimated by Corporation Counsel Sexton, following the passage of the bill to use day labor rather than the contract system in the building of the outer harbor, if undertaken by the city, and in the construction of the proposed subway.

LIFT FOR STATE UNIVERSITY.

Bill Authorizing One Mill Tax Annually for That Institution Comes Up Today for Passage.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., May 18.—[Special.]—The one mill tax annually for the support of the University of Illinois went through second reading in the senate and will be on its passage tomorrow.

The bill, should it eventually become a law, will establish a permanent fund by direct taxation for University of Illinois purposes, estimated to yield in the neighborhood of $2,000,000 annually, which shall be handled by the board of trustees of the university.

The senate refused to recede from its amendments to the two university appropriation bills, and these now go to conference, where their fate is in doubt. The bills carry $968,500 and $2,908,800 respectively, for the extraordinary and the ordinary expenses of the institution, and from each of these the senate had sliced off nearly $300,000.

GUARD GETS SIX NEW ARMORIES

Senate Passes $405,000 Appropriation—Two of New Structures for Chicago.

Springfield, Ill., May 18.—[Special.]—Six new National guard armories were provided for by house bill 264, which passed the senate tonight carrying an appropriation of $405,000. The money will be distributed as follows:

Second regiment, Chicago	$175,000
Eighth regiment, Chicago	100,000
Company F, Fifth infantry; Company I, Eighth infantry, and naval reserves, Quincy	50,000
Companies D and H, Third infantry, Aurora	40,000
Company F, Sixth infantry, and naval reserves, Moline	35,000
Company G, Third infantry, Woodstock	15,000

Several thousand dollars also was appropriated in another bill for repairs for the First regiment armory in Chicago.

STARVED ROCK BILL PASSES

STATE WILL PAY $150,000.

Made Lands Park Measure Now Up to the Governor.

Springfield, Ill., May 18.—[Special.]—Starved Rock, one of the most historic and beautiful spots on the Illinois river, will become a state park by virtue of a bill passed by the senate tonight. It appropriates $150,000 for the purchase of the land. The measure already had passed the house.

By a vote of 114 to 0 the MacLean bill granting forty acres of made land in Lake Michigan for park purposes was passed by the house. The measure is now up to the governor.

The two Juul bills authorizing the Chicago park boards to take over lands for park purposes with the permission of the city and to acquire additional lands by purchase, were passed by the house.

The measures are in the interest of the west park commissioners and drawn to cure certain difficulties in the way of extensions in Garfield and Humboldt parks.

HOPE FOR CLEAN ELECTIONS.

Corrupt Practices Bill, Already Through Senate, Will Come Up in House Today for Passage.

Springfield, Ill., May 18.—[Special.]—The corrupt practices bill, already through the senate, was sent to third reading in the house tonight and will be placed on its passage tomorrow.

The Rinaker amendments to the general election law, however, went to defeat through the efforts of Lee O'Neil Browne.

The killed bill is that which was beaten last session by the Browne maneuvers at the instance of his friend, Representative Johnny Griffin, who was in turn the legislative agent and personal friend of Senator William Lorimer's boyhood friend, "Hinky Dink" Kenna.

The bill authorized the election commissioners to pick honest judges and clerks of election. It was intended as a corrective for the rotten conditions in the First and similar wards of Chicago.

The anti-lobbyist bill went to its grave by the objections of Lee O'Neil Browne.

OLSON SANITARY BILLS PASS.

Measures Authorizing Co-operation of Lake County Towns Through Senate.

Springfield, Ill., May 18.—[Special.]—Senator Olson's bill providing for the creation of a special sanitary district comprising Lake Forest, Waukegan, Highland Park, and Lake Bluff in Lake county passed the senate tonight.

One bill provides for a water district and the other for a sewage district. The bills have already passed the house.

By uniting the towns think they can afford to build a crib and dispose of their sewage by aseptic tanks or by arrangement with the sanitary district of Chicago. The bills provide for a referendum.

DENEEN GETS A MERIT BILL.

Springfield, Ill., May 18.—[Special.]—The Municipal courts civil service bill, amended in conference to eliminate the so-called "disciplinary" feature, went to the governor tonight by the adoption in both houses of the conference report.

Strong efforts were made by the judges to retain the section permitting them to discharge clerks and bailiffs for cause.

The conference committee altered the bill so the judges have the right to fix salaries, but discipline must be dispensed by the city civil service commission. The measure carries a referendum clause, due to the original constitutional amendment under which the court was established.

In the conference report is the blanket provision protecting all employés in the list on the date the law is adopted by popular vote.

"PUTS AND CALLS" KILLED BY ADKINS

NO RULES SUSPENSION.

Presiding Officer Assails Measure and Four Chicago Members Vote with Him.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., May 18.—[Special.]—The Chicago board of trade "puts and calls" bill was defeated in the house this afternoon. Speaker Adkins made a speech against the bill, and thereby, his friends believe, nailed a second plank in his gubernatorial platform.

The vote came on a motion of Representative Marcy, chairman of the house miscellaneous subjects committee, which had reported out the bill to suspend the rules for the purpose of considering it on second reading. On roll call there were seventy-six votes for suspension of the rules and forty-four against it. Under the Adkins two-thirds system there was not a two-thirds vote for suspension, and he ruled that the house had refused to suspend and that the bill thereby died.

"Agrarians" Against Suspension.

The votes against suspension of the rules were cast particularly by the "agrarians," who have been prominent in the affairs of the "farmers' club" within the house organization. They are downstate farmers who have been in close touch with the speaker's policy as regards legislation affecting the agricultural sections of the state. It is a noticeable fact that many of the speaker's political advisers, who have been in consultation with him during the session, failed to vote with him at the critical point.

Chicago votes went to the speaker's assistance as follows: Hilton, Hrubec, Hruby, Mitchell.

There were 120 votes cast on the proposition, and two-thirds, under the speaker's ruling, would have required eighty votes. The roll call shows that the bill was four votes shy of enough to bring it before the house, and, had the bill been on its passage, it would have been three short of the necessary seventy-seven votes for a constitutional majority.

Chiperfield Called to Chair.

Speaker Adkins, as he did yesterday, called Representative Chiperfield to the chair, and went to Chiperfield's seat, from which he made his final assault on the bill.

"This means nothing more than legalized gambling," the speaker asserted. "Just as well license craps, layouts, and poker tables. Representing the grain producers and the farmers generally, I am against this bill to the finish."

Representative Swanson of Chicago and Representative Gilbert of Chicago, spokesmen for the measure, argued for suspension of the rules, that the bill might have at least the consideration of the house for the purpose of amendment, should the house so desire.

No further attempt was made to get the bill up, and it expired under the rules and the constitution with the adjournment of the house.

ILLINOIS LEGISLATIVE NOTES.

At 11 o'clock at night the senate halted business to give a stirring farewell tribute to Senator McKenzie, who left at midnight for Washington to take up his duties as congressman. Senator Jones submitted a resolution of regret and good wishes, which was passed unanimously.

The house passed a bill authorizing Chicago board of education to establish and maintain schools for deaf, dumb, crippled, blind, truant, and subnormal children, and also schools for dependent, neglected, and delinquent children.

A bill revising the fish laws of the state went through to third reading. It takes the proposed license off of all hook, fyke, and trammel nets, and practically removes the bond section of the bill, besides prohibiting the killing of frogs weighing less than a quarter of a pound during May and June.

Glackin's bill increases the salary of election clerks and judges in Cook county from $5 to $8 a day, and in counties of second class to $5, was passed in the house.

The house passed the Juul bill giving park boards in Chicago power to buy additional land for park and boulevard purposes, and also his bill authorizing the Chicago park commissioners to take over adjoining land for park and boulevard purposes with consent of the city.

Hurburgh's bill appropriating $15,000 for the committee expenses of the session, including nearly $9,000 for the expenses of the Helm committee, was passed by the house.

The senate passed Chiperfield's bill which creates a rivers and lakes commission which is to have general supervision over submerged lands.

Perkins' bill amending the pure food law and fixing salaries of the state food inspector, one assistant, a food chemist, clerks, stenographer, inspectors, attorney, and bacteriologist of the food department was passed by the senate.

Car and Auto Crash; Two Hurt.

Dr. B. Brindley Eads, 2012 Washington boulevard, narrowly escaped serious injury last night in a collision between his auto and a Paulina street car. Dr. Eads and his companion, Dr. Hunt of Paris, Ill., were cut about the face and hands by broken glass.

MRS. M'CORMICK BOOK BUYER?

Said to Be Chicagoan Who Paid $21,000 for Rare Volume.

TELLS SECRET TO FRIENDS?

Even Husband Was Ignorant of Her Purchases.

The "mysterious Chicagoan" for whom Walter M. Hill purchased the Helyas "Knight of the Swanne" at the Hoe book auction in New York, at the extraordinary price of $21,000, was not a man. The purchaser was Mrs. Harold F. McCormick.

In addition to the "Swanne book," Mrs. McCormick bought the "Amsterdam Cook Book" and another equally rare book, both of which were bid up to remarkable figures.

When Mr. Hill returned from the east a few days ago the report gained currency that it was Mr. McCormick who had commissioned him to buy the "Knight of the Swanne." Both Mr. Hill and Mr. McCormick were asked about this report and both emphatically denied the truth of it.

Many Bibliophiles Suspected.

John A. Spoor was the next person suspected of possessing the Hoe library's musty treasures. He has a national reputation as a collector of rare and costly volumes. He however, regretfully denied the soft impeachment. Then he sailed for Europe.

Alfred L. Baker, Henry K. Gilbert, and Horace M. Martin were then, metaphorically speaking, called to the witness stand. Without going to the trouble and expense of demanding a writ of habeas corpus all three declared that they had had no agent at the Hoe sale and knew nothing about the "Swanne Book" or the other two volumes.

It is believed that the "Knight of the Swanne" was purchased for Mrs. McCormick without the knowledge of her husband. So at the time when he was cross examined by the reporters Mr. McCormick didn't know any more about the "mysterious Chicagoan" than they did.

Tells Secret to Friends.

Within the last day or two, however, Mrs. McCormick has told the secret. It was given in confidence to a few intimate friends and gradually percolated through her social stratum. It was stated last night that the sale of the books to Mrs. McCormick had been thoroughly authenticated.

Although Mrs. McCormick owns a fine library, it was not until the Hoe auction began that she developed into a confirmed bibliophile. Her recent purchases rank her with the world's famous collectors of literary rarities.

150 SILK SKIRTS STOLEN; CARTED AWAY IN WAGON.

Robbers Enter Tailor Shop, Carefully Pack Goods, Stow Them in Vehicle, and Drive Off Slowly.

One hundred and fifty silk skirts, thirty-two bolts of woolen goods, and several pieces of silk aggregating a value of $2,000, were stolen from the tailoring establishment of Samuel Sobel, 2007-9 Division street, by two men, who carried the goods away in a wagon early yesterday morning.

The shop, which is located on the second floor above Herman H. Roth's café, was entered through a door by means of a jimmy. The goods were systematically packed and loaded upon the wagon, which was standing at the alley entrance.

Mr. Roth was in his café working at the books. He noticed the men climb into the wagon and drive west, but by the time he reached the rear entrance they had rounded the corner into Hoyne avenue.

The rear door of the shop was still open, and, suspecting something was wrong, he notified Mr. Sobel, who resides at 1113 North Hoyne avenue.

HOUSE STRIPS ITS CALENDAR.

All Bills Laid on Table Except Those Which Are in Hands of Conference Committees

Springfield, Ill., May 18.—Just before adjournment at midnight the house tabled all senate bills upon its calendar on the order of second reading and all house and senate bills in committees except those that are in conference. To cinch the cleanup, Representative Pierson moved to reconsider the vote by which the resolution was adopted and Representative Chiperfield moved that Pierson's motion lie upon the table. With a roaring whoop Speaker Adkins declared the motion to table carried.

TWO COMMISSIONS CREATED.

One Body to Investigate Public Utilities and Other to Codify Insurance Laws.

Springfield, Ill., May 18.—[Special.]—Joint resolutions were adopted at midnight in both houses creating two commissions of the legislature. One is to investigate the public utilities question and the other is to consider and codify the insurance laws and pending legislation in this session.

CAR KILLS CHILD; PLAYMATE HURT

ATTACK ON MOTORMAN.

A little girl was killed and a playmate probably fatally injured last night when they were run down by a Milwaukee avenue car. Immediately after the accident an angry crowd surrounded Harry Leeson, 1872 Milwaukee avenue, motorman of the car, and he was saved from personal violence by the timely arrival of the police.

The father of the little girl, Jacob Zutousky, 1900 Milwaukee avenue, was disarmed while flourishing a revolver and vowing death to the motorman. With drawn revolvers a squad of bluecoats dashed into the crowd and succeeded in forcing them back.

Both of the children were hurried to St. Elizabeth's hospital in an unconscious condition, while Leeson was taken to the police station.

Dodge One Car, Hit by Other.

The children, Hattie Zutousky, 3 years old, and Sammy Leonard, a few months younger, had been taken for a walk by the father of the former. Directly opposite their house he left them on the sidewalk while he entered a saloon. Almost immdiately the children started to cross the street.

Narrowly escaping one car, they stepped directly in the path of another. Leeson put on his brakes, throwing all the passengers in the car from their seats by his efforts, but he had seen the children too late. The little girl was thrown fifty feet and tossed up against a building. She was dead by the time the hospital was reached. There is little hope for the boy, whose skull is fractured.

Brushed Off Car's Footboard.

Eight passengers were brushed from the footboard of a an old style westbound Belmont avenue car during the evening. Two were injured seriously. The motorman attempted to drive past an ice wagon in front of 2248 Belmont avenue and the passengers were knocked off. Those seriously hurt were Felix Cook, 1933 North Harding avenue, who suffered internal injuries and a scalp wound, and Fred Struckmayer, 4813 Humboldt boulevard, who had a rib broken and his head bruised. He probably is injured internally. Both were taken to the Alexian Brothers' hospital.

Train Bumps Into Car.

A half dozen persons received minor injuries and were badly frightened when the engine of a Baltimore and Ohio freight train bumped into a west bound Sixty-ninth street car at Leavitt street at 5:30 yesterday afternoon. The street car was pushed off the track and was considerably damaged.

Mrs. L. Lyons, 6402 South Carpenter street, was the only one who was painfully injured. She received bruises about the body and probably is hurt internally.

The gates at the crossing were up, and for that reason the motorman on the street car started across.

CAFE ORGY STIRS CHIEF M'WEENY

Declares He Will Clamp Down "Lid" as Result of the Rhodes Expose.

WOULDN'T WAKE HIM UP.

"Entertainer" Tells Patrons to Be Quiet, as the Police Head's House Is Near By.

Following disclosures of violations of the 1 o'clock closing regulation at the Rhodes Café, 476 and 478 East Thirty-first street, Chief of Police McWeeny said last night that he would clamp down the "lid" in that district.

The head of the police department said that he first wanted to verify officially the facts concerning the early morning orgies at that resort and that he had instructed Capt. Halpin to give him a full report of conditions along East Thirty-first street.

Chief McWeeny was aroused when told of an alleged "tip" that such places could keep open all night without any "comeback."

"I am going to be chief of police while I am in this office," said McWeeny, "if I don't last more than three days. If there has been any one passing out the word that there would be no 'comeback' if places stayed open all night and music was continued until 2 and 3 o'clock in the morning in that sort of saloons, some one is going to get into trouble. There is no man in town who can assure these resorts of protection while I am chief. I'll clean up this district and keep it clean. Some one is liable to lose a license."

Warns of Nearness of Chief.

"Were there any policemen in the vicinity?" the chief then asked.

He was told that there were four or five patrolmen within a few yards of the tarpaulin covered front of the café, through which filtered the boisterous shouts and songs until long past 2 o'clock in the morning.

Chief McWeeny's residence is at Vernon avenue and East Thirtieth street, scarcely two blocks away. One of the "entertainers" in trying to quiet the noisy crowd evidently realized this, for he shouted through a large megaphone from the stage: "Cut that noise out, or you'll wake up the chief."

Members of the Douglas Neighborhood club said that the organization would decide upon no action until Chief McWeeny took some step.

"We have tried many times to get rid of 'Billy' Sullivan," said one member, "but he seems to have a pull stronger than any other man along the street."

Fist Fights Mark Opening.

The closing hours of the "grand opening" were emphasized by several fist fights, overturning of beer glasses, chairs, and tables. "Entertainers," one of whom was a girl of 16 or 17 years, turned loose the "grizzly" and "turkey trot" exhibitions, and as the day drew nearer the songs became a little more suggestive.

At 1:30 o'clock in the morning one of the "entertainers" shouted through a megaphone:

"It is now after 1 o'clock. The front of the building is separated from the street by nothing but tarpaulin, and the noise can be heard outside as loud as here inside. On behalf of Mr. Sullivan I want to request you not to applaud or make any other loud noise for this night only. Remember, for this night only."

DEATH TAKES GUSTAV MAHLER.

Former Musical Director of New York Metropolitan Opera House Succumbs to Angina Pectoris.

VIENNA, May 18.—Gustav Mahler, the eminent composer and conductor, died here today. He had been under the care of specialists in France for months and returned to Vienna about a week ago. His ailment was angina pectoris, which became complicated by blood poisoning.

For many years he was director of the Vienna Imperial Opera and for a brief period in 1908 was musical director in the Metropolitan Opera house, New York. He directed the concerts of the New York Philharmonic for two seasons.

Mr. Mahler was born in 1860 in Bohemia and made his first appearance as a conductor at Cassel, and later succeeded Anton Seidl at Prague.

OBITUARY.

ALBERT R. WILSON, 562 Oakwood boulevard, an uncle of State's Attorney John E. W. Wayman, died at his residence last Wednesday night. For many years he was secretary and treasurer of the Standard Asphalt and Rubber company. He is survived by a widow and two children. He was born in 1853 at Martin's Ferry, O. The body will be shipped to Allen, Mich., for burial.

JAMES F. BIRD, first assistant auditor of the Pullman company, died Wednesday at St. Luke's hospital. Death was due to heart disease. He was born fifty-nine years ago in Cambridge, Mass., coming to Chicago thirty years ago. The Apollo commandery will have charge of his funeral. He will be buried at Oakwoods. He is survived by a widow and four children.

MRS. ANNIE WAKEMAN LATHROP, wife of Lorin A. Lathrop, American consul at Cardiff, Wales, is dead at London, England. She went to England in 1883 as correspondent of the Boston Herald and later contributed regularly to THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Philadelphia Record and San Francisco Chronicle.

"TRIBUNE" want ads have been the means of bringing all sorts of employment to all sorts of men and women. The stories of success already printed have told some tales of wonderful human interest. The ads have put men and women into their life work—positions which seemed always to have been waiting for them, but which they surely must have missed had it not been that they advertised what they could do, or answered the ad of some one else.

THE TRIBUNE has been the want ad medium not only for Chicago, but for many thousand miles of tributary territory. Men in distant parts have by its means been enabled to barter and sell property which all other mediums had failed to aid them to dispose of; men and women in other cities have been led to lucrative and pleasant employment, have even attained partnerships and stock holdings in large concerns, by means of little ads they inserted or answered through THE TRIBUNE.

Today we have one of those simple stories of success told by a young woman who secured a permanent position of trust through the never failing medium of THE TRIBUNE want ads.

As a daily reader of THE TRIBUNE I cannot praise too highly the benefit to be derived from the want ad columns by those who go to them intelligently for help. Good, clean ads for every form of employment fill the want section, and there, too, are found the ads of those who are offering lands or some article of manufacture, at moderate prices.

It is through your want ads that I now hold my present position as clerk in charge of a large postal station on State street. The position I applied for was office clerk in a large mercantile house, which I saw advertised in THE TRIBUNE just four years ago. I answered the ad, and was put at work immediately.

For a few months I labored incessantly with my figuring, until one day at 5 o'clock I was called into the superintendent's office and was told that I was to learn a new position, the one I now hold. While the position of postmistress of a substation on State street does not pay the wages that a civil service position does, I have been greatly benefited by the work. I learn as each day goes on that Uncle Sam has a wonderful country, and that the people in it come from every land under the sun.

I have made out postal orders for or sent letters to the most remote parts of the globe. I am familiar with the money of many lands, and I often wonder as I handle these money orders what the people who receive they think of the land from which they come. Because of these things and the great trust reposed in me by the superintendent I consider that I have been greatly helped in filling this position.

I can truly say that I never would have had this position but for THE TRIBUNE want ad I answered. The position is a permanent one, which means much to me, as my mother is a widow and my sister and I support her. I can say that advertising is the greatest medium for bringing work and people together, and that THE TRIBUNE is the one and only newspaper on which to rely with certainty for guide and get results.

END MEDICAL SCHOOLS WAR

KILL COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

Stem Attack on Chicago Colleges; Force Adjournment Without Action.

Cook county physicians, delegates to the sixty-first annual convention of the Illinois State Medical society at Aurora yesterday, joined forces to defeat the report of the society's education committee, which attacked a number of Chicago medical schools and branded thirteen colleges as "fakes."

Although at variance on other issues, the Cook county delegates "got together" Wednesday night and planned a solid opposition against indorsement of the report. Their combined strength was sufficient to force a sine die adjournment of the convention without allowing the document to come up for consideration.

Charge Committee Exceeded Duty.

In return for the charge of the education committee that "thirteen medical schools in Chicago have no legal or moral right to teach medicine," the Cook county physicians declared that the committee had gone out of bounds in its attempt to reprimand local medical men for alleged apathy with reference to educational conditions.

Following adjournment, Dr. J. F. Percy of Galesburg, and other members of the educational committee declared that the entire report will be published in the state medical journal and that copies will be sent to physicians throughout the state.

Cook County Divided on Election.

Though voting solidly on the report question the Cook county delegates were at variance on the election of a president. The "insurgents" placed in nomination Dr. J. W. Hamilton of Mount Vernon. He was opposed by Dr. L. H. Nickerson of Quincy, the candidate of the downstate forces. The Cook county "high-brows" lined up with the "country" doctors, and Dr. Nickerson was elected by the small majority of two votes.

The project to appropriate through legislation $100,000 for a medical department of Illinois university received the unanimous indorsement of the medical society. Springfield was chosen as the next meeting place. The following officers were elected: President, Dr. L. H. Nickerson, Quincy; first vice president, Dr. J. W. MacDonald, Aurora; second vice president, Dr. J. E. Miller, Pittsfield; treasurer, Dr. E. J. Brown, Decatur; secretary, Dr. E. W. Weis.

KIDNAPER OF WALDO ROGERS PLEADS GUILTY AT LAS VEGAS.

Boy's Grandfather Is Millionaire Attorney of Santa Fe Road—Companion Denies Part in the Affair.

Las Vegas, N. M., May 18.—Will Rogers pleaded guilty today to the charge of kidnaping Waldo Rogers, the grandson of Henry L. Waldo, the millionaire general solicitor of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fé railroad. Joe Wiggins, an ex-convict and alleged accomplice of Rogers in the kidnaping, pleaded not guilty.

KIME ADMITS HE "LOST" BABY

DENIES DROWNING INFANT.

George Kime, a boarder at the home of Mrs. Selma Henks of 535 North Park avenue, who is accused by her of having kidnaped and hidden her baby because its crying annoyed him, admitted before a jury in Judge Scanlan's court yesterday that he had taken the baby away from the Henks home.

He said that Mrs. Henks had told him she wanted to get rid of the child and once tried to have it placed in St. Vincent's Orphan asylum, but failed. Finally, he said Mrs. Henks told him to take the baby to the Moody church at La Salle and West Chicago avenues and leave it there in the hallway. He did this and never saw the child afterward.

Denies He Drowned Baby.

"Did you throw the baby into the river?" the defendant was asked.

Kime shrugged his shoulders. "No," he said, "I did not."

Kime became restive when Assistant State's Attorney Day produced a letter he had written to the mother superior of St. Vincent's asylum while he was in the county jail. In this letter he asked if the authorities at the asylum could tell him what had been done with the baby. Kime said he wrote it to get out of jail.

Mother Says Child Was Stolen.

Mrs. Henks testified that Kime had taken the baby away from her despite her protests. Afterwards he had refused to say what had become of the child. She denied Kime's story about her asking him to take the baby to the Moody church.

Mrs. Emma Clyde, 107 East Indiana avenue, said that she had seen Kime carry the child out of the house on the night of June 30. She also swore that she had seen him attempt to smother the baby with a pillow. On the night that the baby was taken away she says Kime told her that he intended to drown it.

The case will go to the jury today.

MAYOR REJECTS SINGLE FARE PLAN

Says City Must Not Permit 55 Per Cent Share in Profits to Be Jeopardized.

TRACTION MEN GIVE UP.

Think Suburbs Are Committed Now to Pay 10 Cents for Ride to Loop District.

Probably the last glimmer of the suburbanite's hope for a 5 cent fare to the heart of Chicago disappeared yesterday.

The mayor asserted he would not consider any agreement that would risk a reduction in the city's share of the railway company's proceeds or check an increase in its share of those profits.

Representatives of the "remnant lines" admitted that this affected adversely all plans thus far discussed and that there was little likelihood of the discovery of a scheme which would not endanger the city's interests.

Tells of Mayor's Refusal.

"We reviewed briefly the history of the events leading up to the present situation," he said after the conference, "and the necessity for cutting off the service of the old Consolidated lines at the city limits when those parts inside the city were taken over by the Railways company. We told the mayor of the truce made with some suburbs, and of futile efforts to establish a plan whereby these suburbs could be given a single fare from their further limits into the heart of Chicago.

"We asked the mayor to suggest or devise some plan acceptable to the administration whereby the through service could be granted, but he stated, and to my mind stated with uncompromising finality, that the administration could not consider any agreement that would lessen the city's present or future share in the Chicago company's earnings."

City's Percentage Must Not Suffer.

"The administration firmly believes the city's 55 per cent of the traction profits must not be lessened or even jeopardized," he said, "and that is the only position the city can take. I believe that position has the backing of public opinion. We do not object to the Railways company's carrying suburban passengers over the line into the city, provided the company's receipts are not lessened thereby; that is, that it gets a nickel for every passenger carried on its lines. I would be glad to see some solution found whereby all suburbanites wanting to come into Chicago could be brought to the city limits without extra expense, but I am unwilling to see it done at the city's expense."

Virtually the only means of obtaining a 5 cent fare left to the suburbanites, according to traction representatives, is to annex their communities to the city, but this, it was said, they oppose with an assertion that their increased taxes after annexation would far exceed the extra expense incurred by the double fare to the city.

HARRY M. ROLSTON SUCCUMBS; HEAT AND WORRY HASTEN END

Chicago Undertaker Suddenly Becomes Ill While Downtown and Is Taken to Residence, Where He Dies.

Harry M. Rolston, one of Chicago's best known undertakers, died shortly after 2 a. m. yesterday. Death was unexpected.

Rolston had had many operations, and the great heat, coupled with worry over labor troubles, are believed to have hastened the end. Three weeks ago he superintended the moving of his establishment to 740 Wabash avenue. A strike of electricians prevented the immediate installation of service in the new place.

The undertaker felt ill on Wednesday and rested at the La Salle hotel. His condition grew steadily worse and he was taken to his residence, 5437 Lake avenue. The family was finally notified and were with him when the end came. He is survived by a widow, his mother and sister. He was a thirty-second degree Mason.

Pigeon Watches Court Work.

An inquisitive pigeon entered Judge Landis' courtroom yesterday afternoon and flew to an electric light standard behind the judge. For two hours it remained and it was not until United States Deputy Marshal Alexander Conley turned out the lights in the courtroom that it departed.

ATTACKS FOUR SCHOOL GIRLS

Man Invades Blaine Building; Chased by Janitor.

POLICE PUT ON HIS TRACK.

Woman Saves Three Children Walking with Thug.

Mothers residing in the vicinity of the Blaine school at Southport avenue and Grace street were panic stricken yesterday by the announcement that a man who has been attacking little girls in that vicinity during the last three weeks and had nearly killed two of his victims, had made his appearance in the school building itself.

Police of the Town Hall and Sheffield avenue stations were notified immediately of the newest outrage and the search for the perpetrator is being made through both districts. The names of the little girls attacked were given to the police and the newspapers. They will not be printed by THE TRIBUNE.

Victim No. 1 was a child 10 years of age. She was playing near her home on the afternoon of April 29, when the man the police are seeking approached and offered her a pair of roller skates if she would go with him while he bought some groceries.

Threatens Girl with Knife.

She accepted the invitation and he took her to a barn where he threatened her with a knife. An hour later she awoke from a swoon and staggered home, more dead than alive. She has since been under the treatment of a physician.

Victim No. 2 is 7 years old. The man found her playing in the street and enticed her to a vacant flat at 1010 Roscoe street. She, however, took fright and ran away before she had been seriously hurt.

A week ago Mrs. Anna Carlson of 3220 Kraft street saved three little girls from this man. He had offered them roller skates if they would go with him. They accepted the offer and were walking along with him when Mrs. Carlson met them, became suspicious, and asked the children where they were going. While she was questioning them the man walked out of sight.

Invades School Playroom.

A day or two later he entered the basement of the Blaine school and went into the girls' playroom. He had seized one of the children when the janitor heard her cries. He got away before the janitor could reach him.

This incident aroused the whole neighborhood to a fever heat of excitement. When the man reappeared yesterday, and again got away, the police were called upon from a dozen different points to make a strong effort to drive him out of the neighborhood.

The man is described as being 40 or 45 years of age, five feet six inches tall, and weighing 150 pounds. He has black hair, But is slightly bald, has a brown moustache and wears a gray suit and a black stiff hat.

Bruce Purcell, a janitor, is locked up at the Stanton avenue station, charged with offenses against four little girls in the neighborhood of Thirty-sixth street and Vincennes avenue. Four children have complained. Purcell was taken before Municipal Judge Scully yesterday afternoon. His bond was fixed at $5,000. Purcell lives at 3632 Rhodes avenue.

WHAT IS REAL MINCE MEAT?

Uncle Sam Wants to Know and Dr. H. W. Wiley Struggles with Definition.

Washington, D. C., May 18.—[Special.]—In order that the American people may have pure mince pie next Thanksgiving, Dr. Harvey W. Wiley, chief of the government bureau of chemistry, and Dr. F. L. Dunlap put in a perspiring afternoon today trying to decide what is mince meat. They had the assistance of thirty mince meat manufacturers, but no decision was reached.

The inquiry is a result of the government's criticism of the use of the word "mince meat" on packages of products containing no meat. Some makers use a good deal of meat, others not so much, and some none at all.

Several manufacturers placed in evidence recipes for mince pies dating as far back as the Mayflower in which mention of meat is lacking. Craig Atmore of Philadelphia submitted a University of Pennsylvania professor's definition running back to the Oxford dictionary. Some of the mince meat men had lawyers and all had briefs. Dr. Wiley took the matter under advisement.

Gas Explosion in Conduit.

Persons were alarmed and windows in buildings within a radius of a block were shattered at 2 o'clock yesterday morning by an explosion probably caused by gas in a conduit of the Commonwealth Edison company in the alley between South State street and South Wabash avenue, 100 feet south of East Forty-second street.

TWIGG HOLDS UP HAGENAH REPORT

Suddenly Puts Off for Another Week Result of Telephone Rate Investigation.

SURPRISE TO COMMITTEE.

Alderman Says He Has Good Reasons, but Public Would Not Understand Them.

The public be damned.—W. H. Vanderbilt.

My reasons for withholding the phone report are good and sufficient, but the public would not understand them.—Ald. Charles Twigg.

Although Ald. Twigg announced Saturday that he would make public yesterday the findings of Expert Hagenah's investigation into telephone rates in Chicago, he put off the matter during the day for another week.

He said he would not give any light on his reasons for withholding the report. He did not even tell other members of the committee what his reasons were.

Surprise to Other Committeemen.

His action in forbidding Expert Hagenah and assistants from delivering copies of the report to the press, as promised, caused surprise to almost all the other members of the committee and to Mayor Harrison, who questioned him, it is said, regarding his move.

The other members of the committee gathered in the city hall for a meeting announced by Ald. Twigg on Saturday, but as he did not appear no meeting was held.

"Unable to Retain Bemis."

"I'm surprised that the committee has no meeting," said Ald. Peter Reinberg, "as Ald. Twigg told me yesterday that there would be a meeting today. Our instructions were to inquire into the possibility of retaining E. W. Bemis as a gas expert, and as we have found this impossible we wish to report so that this matter will not be delayed any longer."

"It was my understanding that a meeting was to be held," said Ald. W. J. Pringle, "and I do not understand why there is none. As chairman of this committee it was my policy last year to call a meeting as soon as a report was ready."

Electrocuted by Feed Wires.

Charles Schoomy 2012 North Halsted street, was electrocuted Wednesday afternoon when he touched heavily charged feed wires on the roof of a power house in Garfield park.

ADVERTISE IN THE TRIBUNE

This Laxative Cured Their Constipation

When a person has become discouraged through years of failure to find a cure, and finally, perhaps, gives up trying, it is small wonder that he becomes skeptical.

We wish you would try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a laxative tonic that has been used for a generation. Thousands are using it; surely some of your friends among the number. You can buy it of any druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, but better still, send your name and address to Dr. Caldwell for a free sample bottle. He will send you enough to convince you of its merits, and then if you like it you can buy it of your druggist. Mr. Albert Rosenfield, 1138 W. Sixty-first street; Mrs. A. Ashard, 3819 Sixtieth place, and many others of both sexes and in all parts of the city first used a sample bottle and now have it regularly in the home.

You will learn to do away with salts, waters and cathartics, for these are but temporary reliefs while Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is guaranteed to cure permanently. It will train your stomach and bowel muscles so that they will do their work again naturally without outside aid. Cast aside your skepticism and try Syrup Pepsin.

Send your address to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 700 Caldwell Bldg., Monticello, Ill., and he will mail a free sample bottle to your home, or you can get one by calling at the Economical, Public, Central, Buck & Rayner, or Independent Drug Co., all conveniently located in the loop. Every druggist in Chicago sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin and will guarantee it to you personally that it will prove as recommended or refund your money without argument.

START U.S. INQUIRY IN JOINT ICE RAISE

BIG BUYERS TO SUFFER.

Knickerbocker Officials Admit They Are Trying to Boost Price to Large Consumers.

United States District Attorney Edwin W. Sims yesterday took steps to ascertain the reason for the boost in ice prices in Chicago. If surface facts warrant a grand jury investigation will be started to determine if it can be established legally that the big ice companies have formed a combination or entered into a gentlemen's agreement to raise prices. The simultaneous raise by the various companies is known.

While the federal government was considering the advisability of a grand jury inquiry rumors of more raises in price to other than domestic consumers were heard on the streets and an officer of one large concern gave corroboration to these reports.

"I will not say there will be an investigation of the raise in the cost of ice from 30 to 40 cents a hundred pounds in the north part of the city," Mr. Sims said. "I will say that this office has had its attention called to the matter and that we will look it up. If circumstances indicate that there has been an agreement among the big companies to raise prices an investigation will follow."

De Woody's Office Has Evidence.

Mr. Sims held a conference with Charles F. De Woody, superintendent of the bureau of investigation of the department of justice, who probably will make the investigation should one be determined upon. Mr. De Woody refused to discuss the ice "trust" matter, but it was learned that his office already was in possession of evidence concerning business methods of the Chicago companies.

Many of the consumers have had to accept season contracts at a higher rate than in former years. This class includes saloonkeepers, butchers, restaurant and hotel men. One restaurantkeeper said he was paying a cent more a hundred than last year.

Officials of the Knickerbocker Ice company admit they are trying to raise the prices to the larger consumers.

"We are trying to get 'stronger' contracts this season," one of them said, "because we have had to sell too cheaply to this class of ice consumers in past seasons."

John T. Boyle, president and manager of the Boyle Ice company, which is charging "trust" prices to the small consumer, said that if there was a further advance it would hit the big consumer. It was the first day an official of the Boyle company has been "at home" to interviewers since the price soaring orders were issued last Monday.

Big Consumers Face Raise.

"We never felt that the small consumer should have to pay more than 40 cents a hundred," Mr. Boyle said. "A higher price might work a hardship, so in case a shortage makes it necessary for a price raise it is the big consumer that will be hit. We raised the price from 30 to 40 cents because we had to in order to pay dividends."

Mr. Boyle was unable to explain how it happened that his company happened to raise the price last Monday—the same day that the boost orders were issued by its biggest north side competitor, the Knickerbocker. He took exception to the statement of Vice President W. J. Shedd to the effect that it was the Boyle company which cut the price from 40 to 30 cents last season and thus compelled the other concerns to sell at the same figure.

"That is a matter of veracity," he said. "We claim the Knickerbocker cut the price first. We had to keep our customers, so we had to cut the price, but we made no money on 30 cent ice."

Small Dealers Profit at 30 Cents.

Peddlers and small dealers who buy their ice from the Knickerbocker and other big companies continue to sell it for 30 cents in competition with the large companies that are charging 40 cents for the same quantity. The small dealers insist they are making a profit at the lower figure, and they buy their ice from the big companies with which they compete.

"It is certain that the big companies can sell ice cheaper than we and make money," an official of one of the independent companies said. "They have more system to their business; their routes are shorter, and their waste from melting much less. Naturally, too, their manufacturing cost is not nearly so great in a big plant."

City Sealer Peter Zimmer started out after short weight ice dealers. Eight deputy inspectors were ordered to watch for violations of the ordinance. Many complaints have been received from consumers. Arrests will be made wherever short weights are discovered. Every ice dealer will be required to have on his wagon a scale in good order.

of the Holy Angels, 554 Oakwood boulevard, where Bishop W. J. McGavick confirmed several boys and girls. It is reported that shortly after 3 o'clock a boy and girl fell over the altar railing while receiving their communion wafer. They had to be assisted from the church.

Two Boys Drown; One a Hero.

Seven year old Chester Suwalski, 1339 Sloane street, attempted to grasp a plank floating a few feet away from the bank of the Chicago river at Blackhawk street, and in doing so lost his balance and fell in. As he disappeared beneath the surface he called to his bosom friend and protector, Casimir Stasiewicz, 2341 Sloane street, 11 years old, to save him. Although the other children present ran away from the scene young Stasiewicz plunged into the river in an effort to save his little friend. Both were drowned.

One of the children who had fled from the scene—he hurried from the station without giving his name—notified the Rawson street police that two boys were drowning at the foot of Blackhawk street. The patrol wagon was hurried to the scene, the bodies recovered and taken to Jazembowski's undertaking rooms at 1356 Noble street.

Mrs. Flora Mather, living four miles west of Plainfield, committed suicide Wednesday night by jumping into a quarry hole and drowning. She was in a night dress and was not found until morning. She had been delirious, her condition being ascribed to the heat.

Eleven Bitten by Dogs.

Following a number of attacks on persons by heat maddened dogs during the day, Chief of Police John McWeeny ordered a more rigid enforcement of ordinances relating to stray dogs. Policemen are asked to look for unmuzzled, unlicensed dogs, reporting immediately to the impounders. Persons reported injured are:

George Brent, 12 years old, 4933 North Winchester avenue; attacked while playing near home; bitten on left arm.

Most of the children were attacked while at play. None of them are thought to be seriously hurt with the exception of the Van Voorhees boy, who is at St. Bernard's hospital.

Loop Like a Hot Oven.

Parks, beaches, boats, and fishing piers claimed all of the population that could escape responsibilities. Many heat fugitives bound for Lincoln park availed themselves of the opportunity to ride by launch from Grant park landings.

Exhilarating zephyrs swept through the launch canopies out "at sea." Tinkly music came from a negro string trio. The engine throbbed droningly as the boat swished through the water. It was easy to take, that boat trip—and cool.

The whole effect was so restful that on one trip a captain counted eight passengers asleep on the benches.

Seek Refuge Under Trees.

Trees all over the city became shelters for sewing circles, reading parties, and just plain sleeping bees. A Lincoln park policeman declares that in his explorations yesterday afternoon he saw several clusters of barefoot young women in the sequestered spots.

Lincoln park beach wasn't open to bathers yesterday, as many learned to their disappointment. If the torrid weather isn't immediately broken it is probable that the park commissioners will accommodate swimmers late this week.

But the privately conducted beaches of the pay-as-you-enter sort, were open and well patronized. Those who were too languid to swim watched from shaded benches. There really was more enjoyment for the spectators than the bathers. The water was frigidly cold.

It was refreshing to see little barefoot folk playing in the sand withdraw their toes shiveringly when a wave touched them. Many of the bathers were so chilled after a short swim that they had to lie in the hot sand for long periods before they were comfortable.

Water Too Cold for Girls.

After 5 o'clock the beaches were populated with girl workers from downtown. It was the fashion for these fair beach strollers to trip quickly to the water's edge, inundate a toe or a finger, and then scream:

"Ooh, it's way too cold!"

Every one became sunburned bathers, boaters, and strollers. Boys patted browning arms tenderly and approximated the time when the skin would begin to peel.

Straw hats were common for the first time downtown. All of the stores displayed their stock of cool headgear. Money registers in the haberdashery stores tinkled a tune of hot weather all day.

Several horses with sponges on their heads appeared on State street. The restaurants were advertising "cool dishes." The ice wagons dripped along the street. Most folk were investing in awnings, lawn mowers, reels of hose, and armless, legless, diaphanous——

Saves Employes from Panic.

Thirty girls and ten men employed in the Theodore W. Hanrath tape measure factory, 2127 West North avenue, were saved from injury in a fire panic yesterday afternoon when Mr. Hanrath, discovering the fire in the elevator shaft, opened all exits before he notified employes on the second floor.

MAYOR OF GARY TAKEN AS THIEF

Fifty-five Year Grant Given to Railroad with No Benefits Guaranteed to City.

Mayor Thomas E. Knotts of Gary, already under indictment by the Lake county grand jury, was arrested last night by deputy sheriffs of Hammond on warrants sworn out in County Clerk E. L. Shortridge's office at Crown Point, charging him with embezzlement, perjury, and misfeasance in office.

In the afternoon City Clerk Harry L. Moose of Gary filed an affidavit in the Circuit court charging Knotts with embezzling approximately $2,000, said to have been collected by him while serving as judge in the city court and which he failed to turn into the city treasurer's office, according to City Treasurer E. C. Simpson

Franchise Grab Passed.

Developments came thick and fast following the passage of the Geist franchise grab by the city council. This gives C. H. Geist of the Calumet United Railway a fifty year franchise. There is no provision for transfers, no requirement as to when construction should begin, and the company is given three years to build their lines after securing franchises in other cities surrounding Gary.

Because John J. Nyhoff, commissioner of public works, gave a statement to the press, wherein he declared Mayor Knotts promised him that the franchise would return to the board for modification, he was discharged by the mayor.

May Try to Impeach Mayor.

A. P. Melton, city engineer, also a member of the board, handed his resignation to the mayor, refusing to be a part of the board while the mayor resorted to such tactics. Other city officials are expected to resign today.

Tonight the Gary Commercial club will hold a meeting, to which the citizens have been invited, and it is said, that if the mayor does not resign, impeachment proceedings will be started.

FEARS CITY WATER SHORTAGE

Engineer Sets 5,000 Men to Guard Chicago's Summer Drink

AUGUST TO SEE PERIL END.

New Pumps, Long Needed, Then Will Be Ready for Duties.

Chicago with millions of gallons of Lake Michigan at its doorstep, is going to be short of water this summer. This was the statement of City Engineer John Ericson yesterday after issuing orders to the various park boards to shut off all avenues of waste.

Hundreds of residents during the day appeared in person or telephoned complaints to the city hall, asserting that no water flowed through the faucets in their residences. Shortage in water prevailed in all sections of the city, but the north side and the extreme southern portion suffered most.

Orders to watch for violation of the sprinkling ordinance were issued to the police department, to the bureau of engineering, and to the bureau of water.

"All park boards have been notified that they can use only water actually necessary. Fountains will have to be shut down, and, if possible, water for street sprinkling purposes in the park district will have to be obtained from other sources than the city main."

He said he could anticipate no improvement until the completion of the Roseland pumping station in One Hundred and Third street and the installation of two more engines in the West Twenty-second street station. These improvements now are under way, but cannot be finished before Aug .11.

SPENDER WATSON TO DUNNING: SISTER STILL HOLDS $50,000.

"Col." Charles L. Watson, soldier of fortune, who passed out currency and negotiable securities to Tom, Dick, and Harry as he encountered them in big Chicago hotels, is resting today in the Cook county asylum for the insane at Dunning.

When the "colonel" was brought before Judge Owens yesterday he informed the court that he had been brutally beaten by attendants at the detention hospital.

"They broke my legs in four places—several compound fractures," said Watson. Yet he walked jauntily to the bar.

"Anything else?" the judge asked.

"They brought in royal Bengal tigers and pythons and boa constrictors hanging from trees and they annoyed my friends.

One of the witnesses examined was Watson's sister, Mrs. Mary I. Berner, 4700 West Congress street. She said that her brother had transferred to her nearly $50,000 worth of securities, all of which she said she would retain for his benefit.

78 YEARS OLD: WEDS BRIDE NO. 5

President of Aurora Brewing Company and New Wife Will Sail for Germany for Honeymoon.

J. F. Thorwarth, president of the Aurora Brewing company, and Mrs. Carrie Geyer were quietly married last night at 8 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. Geyer, 70 South Fourth street. It was Mr. Thorwarth's fifth marriage. He is 78 years old. His bride is 59. They left at noon for New York City to sail May 23 on the steamer Rotterdam for Germany.

MADERO TO LEAVE FOR CAPITAL SOON

CONFIDENCE IN LEADER.

Gomez Wants Understanding with Federals Before Departure for Mexico City.

Juarez, Mexico, May 18.—Provisional President Francisco I. Madero Jr.'s announcement today that he will leave for Mexico within two days to participate in a reconstruction of the federal government was the signal for a general exodus of political chiefs, go-betweens, and others who feel that the scene of peace negotiations is about to be shifted to the capital city.

Peace agreements, official concessions, and the machinery of the provisional government have been temporarily swept aside by the expectation that Madero will quietly arrange with the federal government a lasting peace and political emancipation.

Federal Envoy Leaves Friday.

Judge Carbajal, the federal envoy, will leave tomorrow. The provisional governors, who expect to be retained in that capacity through the official reorganization or election of the legislators of five states—Chihuahua, Sonora, Zacatecas, Coahuila, and Sinaloa—are preparing to leave tomorrow for the capitals, there to await instructions from Mexico City as to the time for their assumption of gubernatorial duties.

"Peace, peace!" Madero remarked today, slowly, as he meditated on the fruits of the advisory powers offered him, which, he believes, when digested, will mean his rise to a presidential zenith. "Peace is bound to come. I am going to work hard. We want merely what is reasonable, but we must be guaranteed these things. I am glad that I shall be able to effect these guarantees by personal activity."

Gomez Wants Understanding.

Dr. Vasquez Gomez thinks some kind of an unofficial understanding by telegraph or otherwise should be established with the Mexican government before the departure of the rebel leaders. He realizes, for instance, that such things as a cabinet reorganization, the placing of the governors in power, and other details concerning the reconstruction of the federal government cannot be written into any agreement. Señor de la Barra cannot officially promise to name any one to his cabinet.

The federal government, too, can only suggest to the state legislatures the appointment of provisional governors, but such points as the payment of indemnities, the pensioning of soldiers, and the like, which are strictly departmental matters, Dr. Gomez wants arranged before Madero leaves.

Proposition to Cabinet.

This is the proposition which he will submit to the provisional cabinet tomorrow, and about which Judge Carbajal expects to receive some instructions before the afternoon.

As understood here, Provisional President Madero is to go to Mexico City, where he probably will first be received by Señor de la Barra, the minister of foreign relations. These two men will map out the course to be pusued.

Gossip has it that six of the eight members of the new cabinet will be Maderistas. One thing is certain. Of the members of the present cabinet only De la Barra will remain after reconstruction days. Dr. Gomez will occupy some post in the cabinet. He, however, expects to be a candidate for vice pesident with Señor Madero as presidential candidate.

Opinion here tonight is that the armistice will be prolonged while President Diaz is in office, and later, until amicable relations are established beyond doubt.

FORM PEACE BODY WITH THE UNIONS

Association of Plumbers and officials of the Chicago Building Trades council to furnish workmen necessary to carry on construction work. The building has been tied up six weeks.

Alpine made several fruitless attempts to form dual unions of bricklayers and hoisting engineers to take the places of the men on strike in sympathy with the steamfitters. C. C. Heisen, owner of the building, gave Alpine until last Tuesday to supply the required number of men.

When Alpine failed, after several requests for an extension of time, Mr. Heisen ordered his agreement with the United Association of Plumbers abrogated and reinstated the contract with the W. A. Pope company, whose employés are International Association steamfitters.

The situation resulted in a complete victory for the Steamfitters' union, whose members were forced to quit on the building because of the fight made on their union by the officials of the United Association of Plumbers.

Trades Return to Work.

The trades that returned to work are the carpenters, bricklayers, hodcarriers, and building laborers, hoisting engineers, lathers, plasterers and laborers, painters and glaziers, boilermakers and helpers, and the International association steamfitters and helpers.

The fight at the building started when the plumbers called a strike and forced Heisen to make an agreement to employ steamfitters of the United association and discharge the I. A. steamfitters in order to get the plumbers back to work.

When the I. A. steamfitters were discharged, however, most of the other trades struck in sympathy with the discharged men. This resulted in a worse tieup than that caused by the plumbers' strike.

A number of gun fights in which several men, including steamfitters, were shot, took place at the building during the progress of the strike.

President Alpine left Chicago several days ago for the east. He is scheduled to return today to take part in a peace conference called by a committee of contractors and architects. It was said that unless Alpine attends the meeting the conference will be postponed.

Members of the local and international executive boards of the brickmakers' union took charge of the brickmakers' strike and were given full power to act in negotiating for a settlement with the brick manufacturers.

ERECTORS' ASSOCIATION CHARGED WITH WRECKING.

Pittsburg Ironworker Accuses Employer's Detectives of Crimes Because He Was Not Paid for Services

Pittsburg, Pa., May 18.—James Elliott, a structural ironworker of this city, appeared before labor leaders here tonight and made an alleged confession, in which he charged officers of the National Erectors' association and detectives employed by it with the wrecking of buildings constructed by non-union labor.

The alleged confession was made to William Kelly, president of the Iron City Trades Council; A. L. Collins, secretary; and H. W. Legleitner, vice president of the Structural Ironworkers, and was sworn to.

In his statement to the police Elliott said he made the confession because he was not paid for information he furnished the erectors' association.

William J. Burns said last night that he never heard of Elliott and laughed at the idea of his being implicated in a plot to ruin McNamara. "It is a good joke," said Burns, "but I am not surprised to hear that I am in a plot. Stories of that sort may be expected for some time. I don't know a thing about it."

ROOSEVELT FOR RIGHT TO FIGHT

BUT HE TRUSTS BRITAIN.

Submission When Honor of the Country Is Involved Meets His Disapproval.

New York, May 18.—Former President Roosevelt has an article in the Outlook on "The Arbitration Treaty with Great Britain," in which he says:

"Between Great Britain and the United States it is now safe to have a universal arbitration treaty, because the experience of ninety-six years has shown that the two nations have achieved that point of civilization where each can be trusted not to do the other any one of the offenses which ought to preclude any self-respecting nation from appealing to arbitration.

"But no language should be used in the treaty which would tend to obscure this cardinal fact, this cardinal reason, why the treaty is possible and desirable.

For a Clear Understanding.

"Either it should be tacitly understood that the contracting powers no more agree to surrender their rights on such vital matters than a man in civil life agrees to surrender the right of self-defense; or else it should be explicitly stated that, because of the fact that it is now impossible for either party to take any action infringing the honor, independence, and integrity of the other, we are willing to arbitrate all questions."

Mr. Roosevelt refers to armed bodies of Mexican troops having fired across the boundary and killed or wounded American citizens, and says:

"In this case we have chosen to submit to such invasions, as is our right and privilege if we so desire. But it would be absolutely intolerable to bind ourselves to arbitrate the questions raised by such invasions.

"In the same way, if a dispute arose between us and another nation as to whether we should receive enormous masses of immigrants whom we did not desire from that nation, no one who knows anything of the temper of the American people would dream that they would for one moment consent to arbitrate the matter."

Berlin Views on the Treaty.

BERLIN, May 18.—The American arbitration proposal attracts general attention in the German press.

The Tageblatt is the only paper that greets the proposition as a loyal attempt toward complete arbitration. The chauvinist papers, as is usual when referring to America, have adopted an attitude unfriendly to the American proposal.

The Taeglische Rundschau believes "the mountain has brought forth a mouse," and that the proposal will be a disappointment to peace idealists. No nation, the paper says, will submit questions of national honor and vital interest to a tribunal in which there are representatives of hostile states.

TAP 45 FOR YALE SOCIETIES

OVERLOOK SOME ATHLETES.

New Haven, Conn., May 18.—Under the spreading branches of an old maple tree members of the junior class at Yale assembled today in the college yard while the fortunate forty-five were tapped for membership in the three senior secret societies, Skull and Bones, Scroll and Keys, and Wolf's Head. As each man was tapped he was greeted with cheers.

Especially applauded was the tapping for Bones of Arthur Howe, quarter back on this year's varsity football team and captain for next year. E. W. McDevitt of Duluth, Minn., guard on last year's football team, refused election to both Scroll and Keys and Wolf's Head, but was not tapped by Bones. Harold Carhart, varsity catcher; P. F. Francis of the football and track teams, and Morse Ely of Chicago, manager of the basketball team, failed of election.

Among the selections are:

SKULL AND BONES.

Alexander C. Tener, Sewickley, Pa., manager Dramatic association.
Archibald McClure, Chicago, president Y. M. C. A.
Cavour Hartley, Duluth, Minn.
F. P. Mullins, Salem, O.
Edwin A. Strout, Seattle, Wash., football quarter back.
Robert L. Gardner, Chicago, former golf champion, promenade committee, glee club, and champion pole vaulter.

SCROLL AND KEYS.

Philip G. Platt, Scranton, Pa., member track team.
William B. Chapman, Kansas City, member Courant board.
E. P. O'Brien, New York City, manager hockey team.
H. T. Clement, Buffalo, N. Y., leader glee club.

WOLF'S HEAD.

Peter Henderson, New York City, manager of freshman crew.
William K. Kaynor, Sanborne, Ia., manager 1912 football team.
X. J. Farrar, London, O., member track team.
F. L. Augustine, Kirkwood, Mo.
H. F. Perry of Crete, Neb., member wrestling team.
T. H. Tweedy, Washington, D. C.

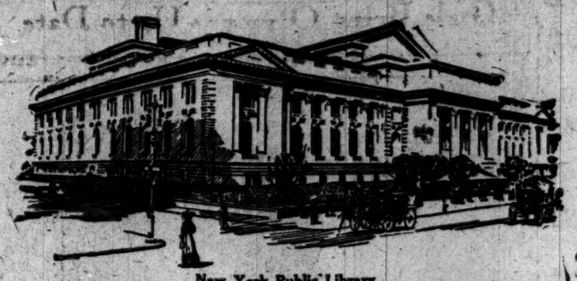
DECIDES WALSH'S FATE SOON.

President Expects to Announce Ruling on Chicagoan's Pardon Plea by Tomorrow.

Washington, D. C., May 18.—[Special.]—John R. Walsh, the former Chicago banker, who is serving a sentence in the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kas., will know on Saturday whether he will be liberated or will be compelled to remain in prison at least until paroled next September.

Former Banker Charles W. Morse of New York, also serving a term for violation of the banking laws, now in the Atlanta penitentiary, will know his fate at the same time.

At the White House today it was stated President Taft expected to complete the preparation of his decision in both cases in time to make it public on Saturday.



New York Public Library

In the New York Public Library, to be opened this week, the problem of dust removal is acute. Not because there will be more dust than in any building of similar size; but because there are more places for the dust to hide.

The problem is not alone to take care of the dirt that is tracked in daily by thousands of pairs of feet—not alone to clean the floors, furniture and walls.

But to clean the tops of 3,500,000 books, and the nooks and crannies between and behind them.

To keep clean the sixty-three miles of book shelves on which these books are stacked.

There is no nook or cranny in the 2,930,000 cubic feet of this library that cannot be cleaned by this "Richmond" system.

Cleaned every day, if desired, without interruption or annoyance to a single reader.

And the saving in labor alone will pay the whole cost of the system, over and over again.

"Collect the Dust —Don't Spread It"

Such buildings as the 41-story Singer tower, the U. S. Custom House in New York, the Cook County Court House in Chicago, the Pennsylvania State Capitol, the U. S. Mints at Philadelphia and San Francisco and the White House itself.

Such hotels as the Knickerbocker, Plaza, Ritz-Carlton, St. Regis of New York; La Salle, Auditorium Annex, Chicago; Bellevue-Stratford, Philadelphia, and 209 others of the best known hotels in America.

Such stores as Marshall Field & Co., Carson, Pirie, Scott & Co., Chicago; Altman's, Arnold-Constable's, Macy's, of New York; Wanamaker's of both New York and Philadelphia; Jordan, Marsh & Co. of Boston; William Taylor & Sons, Cleveland, and well known stores in every prominent city.

Wherever installed—in a ten room residence or a building which measures its floor space by the acre—"Richmond" Vacuum Cleaning will pay for itself in from eighteen to thirty months.

The economy is three-fold:

First, it halves the labor, and consequently the cost of cleaning.

Second, it puts an end to the annual tear-up called housecleaning—and to all of the expense, wear and tear, breakage and depreciation which housecleaning involves.

Third, it eliminates the chief cause of all wear and depreciation—dust, grit, grime; and doubles or trebles the life of all carpets, rugs, wall coverings, hangings, upholstery. Keeping everything always bright and new.

"Richmond" Vacuum Cleaning can readily be installed in old buildings as well as new—in residences, apartments, hotels, schools, office buildings, libraries, churches, theatres, factories, stores, garages and public buildings.

ANNOUNCEMENT

To the People of Chicago and the Northwest

Two criticisms have been passed on THE CHICAGO DAILY NEWS' stories of "The Civil War Day by Day," both in a kindly spirit. One reader, an Illinois lawyer, writes that more is printed about activities in the North than in the South. Another, a resident of Indiana, suggests that more space be given to the West and less to the East.

These suggestions are pertinent and welcome, and those to whom they were made will try to profit by them. It is well, however, for readers to understand that the plan of the series, based on a chronological presentation of the events of the war, with the story each day marking some semi-centennial, imposes certain limits on what may be told in one story or in the stories of a given week. The day that the East is holding the stage, there may not have been an equally important and interesting action in the West. The day that the North appears to have the floor, the South may have been marking time. As the series progresses, every part of the country and the soldiers of every state will receive attention.

A still further allowance, however, needs to be made. The literature of the southern side in the war is meager, compared with that of the North. The East has a like advantage over the West. What was done in the great centers of population, which lay almost wholly in the East fifty years ago, naturally attracted more notice in newspapers and books than the scattered movements in agricultural regions. Moreover, New England, New York and Pennsylvania, being older communities, and in the habit of recording their activities, contribute a very large portion of the literary records of the war. The historian finds, therefore, that, notwithstanding his disposition to treat all states and sections alike, there is a great inequality in the material at hand.

The aim is to present a truly national story of the Civil War, and to that end all available sources are being sought out and will be drawn upon. The final result will represent a thorough study of all the books and periodicals and a careful search of newspaper files, and, we trust, the completest and fairest story of the Civil War yet produced.

THE DAILY NEWS acknowledges the very generous appreciation given this important undertaking by the people of Chicago and the Northwest, and bespeaks their continued co-operation in the effort to give these stories of "What Happened in the Civil War Fifty Years Ago Today" the widest possible circulation. It is especially gratifying that their educational value has been so generally recognized by teachers and professors in the schools and academies of the Northwest. Mrs. Ella Flagg Young, superintendent of the public schools of Chicago, in an enthusiastic commendation of the series, said:

"The publishing of the 'Day by Day' stories is indeed commendable, as it will give the school boy or girl opportunity to become familiar with the human side of the great struggle. The cut and dried history books are too prosaic. They say to the student that the armies met at a certain place and a certain battle was fought, and in that certain battle one army was defeated and the other victorious. They say that a certain number of men were killed and that the results of the battle were certain specific things. They do not touch the real heart or human side of the Civil War. I believe these stories will fulfill a mission of peace. They are interesting and are certainly instructive. I feel that I can give them my endorsement. They are very good, indeed. I recommend the stories to the school children."

BRITISH DECEIVE NATIVES OF INDIA

SPEECH OF LORD MINTO.

BY GEORGE A. DORSEY, PH. D., LL. D.

CALCUTTA, Bengal, India, March 17.—"Gentlemen, I welcome the members of this newly constituted imperial council on their first assembly at the capitol of the Indian empire.

"The occasion is replete with political meaning. It marks the close of a system of administration which, under the guidance of many illustrious statesmen, has contributed much to the prosperity of India and to the glories of her history. It opens a new era with the inauguration of broader principles of government.

"These years have witnessed the consolidation of the Indian empire as it exists today. They tell a story of troubles and anxieties, of hard won successes, and many glorious successes. But they have throughout been years of recurring administrative changes in harmony with social progress and an advance in political thought largely due to the results of an educational system introdduced into India by British rule.

"It has been a period of evolution. We have moved in successive stages.

Critics Forget History.

"I have merely ventured to sketch the progress of British legislation, because I cannot but feel that much of the criticism of the recent policy of the government of India has been oblivious of past history and has been based upon the assumption that the India of twenty years ago can continue to be the India of today. That is an impossibility. Many influences have combined to make it so.

"We have had to follow in the footsteps of the statesmen who have preceded us and to recognize that British rule must again be readapted to novel conditions—conditions far more novel than any with which our predecessors had to deal in that political forces unknown to them have come into existence in India, which it is no longer possible for British administrators to ignore, whilst the trend of events in the far east has accentuated the ambitions of the eastern populations.

"Before I had been in the country a year [1907] I shared the view of my colleagues that beneath a seemingly calm surface there existed a mass of smothered political discontent, much of which was thoroughly justifiable and due to causes which we were called on to examine. You cannot sit forever on a safety valve, no matter how sound the boiler may be. Something had to be done, and we decided to increase the power and expand the scope of the act of 1892."

Quotation from Lord Minto.

Now reread the second and third paragraphs. Then reread the paragraph just preceding this.

Next understand that the quoted words are not those of a soured Anglo-Indian who, like Sir J. D. Rees, has gone home to vilify India and apologize for the government of India. Nor are they from the pen of an Indian newspaper correspondent who endangers his paper's bond by exclaiming that there exists a mass of smothered political discontent, much of which is thoroughly justifiable. They are the opening paragraphs of the address of his excellency the Earl of Minto on Jan. 25, 1910, in his capacity as viceroy and governor general of India before his council assembled for the purpose of making laws and regulations under the provisions of the Indian councils acts, 1861-1909.

It really was an epoch making day in the constitutional history of India. The oath of office had just been taken by fifty-five "additional members." Quite a jump from six to sixty-one legislators. Yes, it was concession with a vengeance. And most Indians swallowed the bait, hook, line, and sinker.

Should Have Been Frank in Past.

"We should have been more frank long ago is the opinion of many Anglo-Indians," Lord Minton continued. "We should have told India that we are rulers, that we propose to continue in that capacity; that self-government is not and cannot be to England's interest and is therefore impossible; that the sooner Indians stop talking it and settle down to the business of paying taxes and growing opium, cotton, and rice and paying interest on their debts, the better it will be for them.

"We are called upon to deal with subterranean machinations and methods of assassination and robbery dangerous to the public safety and discreditable to the fair fame of India. We are aware of associations doing their best to inveigle into their meshes the youth of the country, poisoned by the dissemination of revolutionary literature, which, out of a chivalrous unwillingness to interfere with any form of freedom of speech, British administrations have tolerated far too long.

"Present dangers we are prepared to meet, and the moral training of the rising generation our duty will no longer allow us to neglect. We can no longer tolerate the preachings of a revolutionary press. We are determined to bridle literary license."

Bottom of the Reform.

No doubt about it. The youth are poisoned; and we are going to bridle the press. What more? Here we come face to face with the bottom of the reform. Stand up, all you Indian additional members, and hear Lord Minto charge the jury.

Girls Bring Olympus Up to Date to Aid Cherry Victim's Daughter.

BLANCHE TOLLMAN

AIMEE MORRIS

An original play called "Olympus Up to Date," written by Helena Stevens, Ruth Shaffner, and Blanche Tollman of the Faulkner school, will be presented by girls of the class of 1914 at the Kenwood parish house, Woodlawn avenue and Forty-seventh street, tonight. The proceeds will go toward a fund for a girl whose father died in the Cherry mine disaster. Among those who will take part in the play are: Susan Burns, Rosalia De Beck, Constance Hartman, Adelyn Joseph, Marguerite Lanyon, Elizabeth Martin, Aimee Morris, Virginia Porter, Ruth Shaffner, Marcella Spry, Isabel Richardson, and Agnes Murray.

SEARCHERS IN RIVER WYE FAR FROM BACON'S SECRET.

Although American Still Believes He Will Reveal Authorship of Shakspeare's Plays, Project Seems Failure.

CHEPSTOW, England, May 18.—The gang of workmen who have been engaged for months excavating in the mud of the River Wye have now practically uncovered the timbers beneath which Dr. Orville W. Owen, the American searcher, asserts are buried Baconian relics.

The timbers form a bulkhead such as is usually erected to hold the foundation for bridge piers, the compartments being filled with broken rocks. Most of this rock has now been removed.

Although Dr. Owen is still optimistic of finding evidence to prove Bacon was the author of the Shakespearean plays, the opinion is gaining ground that the Chepstow undertaking, at this point at least, is about to be abandoned.

Argentina Will Inscribe Message in Bronze Letters on Former President's Tomb.

BUENOS AIRES, May 18.—The message of greeting which the America government and people sent to the government and people of the Argentine republic on the occasion of the centenary of Domingo Faustino Sarmiento, will be inscribed in letters of bronze on the tomb of the former president. This was decided by a unanimous vote of the chamber of deputies.

MASSACRE AGAIN FEARED BY JEWS

INQUIRY NOW UNDER WAY

American Committee Believes Czar's Government Is Back of Accusation.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 18.—The serious situation which has arisen through the threatened massacre of the Jews at Kieff following the finding of the body of a boy under such circumstances as to raise the cry of a "ritual murder" has aroused the authorities in their endeavors to solve the mystery of the boy's death.

Meanwhile even the anti-Jewish newspapers admit that the reports on which the agitation is based for the most part are not worthy of credence.

In an interview today M. Sliosberg, a leading Jewish lawyer, said hardly a year passes without a revival of the old myth about Easter time in connection with the temporary disappearance of a boy or a girl or in connection with some untraced murder. The ignorant become excited and their excitement lasts until the case is cleared up.

In the majority of cases it was shown there was no murder, and in the remainder the murder was traced to the culpable agents and it was proved that Jews had no connection with them.

Jews Acquitted of Crimes.

Only two cases of alleged ritual murder in the last forty years, said M. Sliosberg, warranted investigation by the courts, and in both instances the verdict was acquittal for the adherents of the Jewish faith, who had been arrested.

The first of these cases was tried at Kutais, transcaucasia, in 1879, and the other at Vilna in 1902. In the Kutais case the court acquitted the defendants of the murder of a girl. For a long time after this case the accusation against the Jews was not renewed, because the whole subject had been thoroughly thrashed out and condemned by the court and public opinion.

The Vilna affair had to do with the alleged attempt to murder a woman domestic servant. A barber was accused of trying to cut her throat, but a jury acquitted him.

M. Sliosberg said in the present case—the killing of the boy Yushchinsky—the investigation had yielded no results, or the results were not ready for publication. All that could be said was that no Jew had yet been arrested or was implicated.

Blames Government of Russia.

New York, May 18.—The American Jewish committee today issued a statement expressing its belief that only a wide publicity can avert a recurrence of the horrible massacres which took place between 1903 and 1906, especially at Kisheneff, Odessa, and Bialystok, when thousands of Jews were cruelly massacred and millions of property destroyed.

It asserts that the stories recently sent out by the Russian government from St. Petersburg, Kiev, and Moscow and published in American newspapers respecting the alleged murder of a boy at Kiev are precisely similar to the unfounded tales circulated by the Russian government previous to the Kisheneff, Odessa, and Bialystok pogroms and are founded upon baseless calumnies, originated by one Prince Mentchikow, formerly a Liberal and follower of Tolstoi, but now an editor of the Novoe Vremya.

"The Russian government," the committee says, "has always resorted to massacres of Jews whenever the political situation was one of great tenseness and has repeatedly utilized this method to provide an outlet for the pent up feelings of her excited populace. The government, by the use of the soldiery, the police, and the administrative officials, has always instigated and directed the massacres at such times."

CABLE TOLLS TO BE HALVED.

British Postmaster General Announces in Parliament Reduction in Rates of Submarine Messages.

LONDON, May 18.—In a statement in the house of commons, today, concerning the postoffice appropriations, Postmaster General Herbert L. Samuel announced that he had arranged to obtain some control over cablegram rates from now on by the insertion of a clause in the licenses of cable companies, giving the government power to protest against excessive rates and in case of dispute, to refer the matter to an impartial tribunal. The cable companies had agreed, he said, to reduce by 50 per cent the rates on messages written in plain language, which are liable to a delay not exceeding twenty-four hours. This does not affect cable rates in America or other countries.

Madam— Let US Keep the Stockings Whole

The Lightest Summer Weights Guaranteed

Why sit up hot nights with the darning when there is no need to darn stockings at all?

Thousands of women no longer have to do it. Their families wear genuine "Holeproof," the original guaranteed hose. Don't judge "Holeproof" by other makes. There's a vast difference. Others may be heavy—cumbersome—coarse—but "Holeproof" are light in weight, soft and attractive.

No hose ever made were more stylish or better fitting. They look just the same as unguaranteed kinds, but they wear six times as long as the best of the old-time hose. You can get them in more than 200 stores in Chicago.

FAMOUS Holeproof Hosiery FOR MEN WOMEN AND CHILDREN

Six pairs wear six months, or you get new hose free, and six pairs cost but $1.50 up to $3.00, according to finish and weight. So, for $3.00 to $6.00 a year, one can banish darning forever.

Think what that means, not only to darner but wearer.

The Widest Assortment

There are twelve colors, ten weights and five grades for men; seven colors, three weights and three grades for women, and two colors, two weights and three grades for children. We can suit every preference and every pocketbook.

Buy a box of "Holeproof" for your husband, yourself and your children, today.

Ask to see the silk "Holeproof," three pairs guaranteed three months—for men $2.00, for women $3.00.

Carl Freschl, Pres.

The genuine "Holeproof" bear the trade-mark shown here and the signature of Carl Freschl, Pres. Hose that bear other marks are imitations. Do not accept them or judge "Holeproof" by them.

The Finest Yarn

We have had 38 years of experience and we pay the top market price for our yarn—an average of 70 cents per pound. Common yarn sells for as low as 30 cents, but it is "short fibre" and only two-ply.

Buy Them Today

Ask in some store for "Holeproof"—TODAY. Let the family see what they're like. Then ask each member to buy six pairs and try them for your sake as well as their own. What is the use of darning when there are hose like these? Answer the question by trying "Holeproof."

Wears Mother's Wedding Gown at Own Nuptials.

MISS MARGUERITE HARPELL, when she became the bride of Walter Douglas Sethness at St. John's Episcopal church in Irving Park last night, wore her mother's wedding gown and veil. She carried a shower bouquet of marguerites in compliment to her name flower.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Stephan Harpell, 4049 North Forty-first avenue, and the groom a son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O. Sethness of Irving Park, his mother having become well known in woman's club circles. The wedding service was performed by the Rev. Howard E. Ganster at 8 o'clock.

Miss Vera Kool was the maid of honor and Miss Dorothy Bauder, Miss Grace Price, Miss Elizabeth Killoran, Miss Helen Stewart, Miss Margaret Bowen, and Miss Callie Parish were the bridemaids. Ralph E. Sethness served his brother as best man, and the ushers were Russell Harpell, Chester Austin, William Harpell, Charles Karasek, Marshall Fletcher, and Syprell Williams. The maid of honor and bridemaids were gowned in white silk batiste and carried spring flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Sethness will be at home at 4049 North Forty-first avenue.

Mrs. George Young of Beverly Hills will entertain a number of University of Chicago young women in honor of Miss Lauretta Octigan tomorrow at a picnic luncheon. Mrs. Ewald Diersson, 2428 Smalley court, will be hostess at bridge on Wednesday, May 24, for Miss Octigan, who is to be a June bride, and Miss Florence Barrett, 4400 Michigan avenue, will give a matinée party on Saturday afternoon, May 27. Mrs. James Roach, 317 Garfield boulevard, will give a dinner that evening, and on Monday afternoon, May 29, Miss Cushing, 3041 Washington boulevard, will give a bridge party. Miss Snow, 5014 Washington avenue, will give a dinner at the Chicago Athletic club, and on Friday, June 2—the evening before the wedding—Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Clark Octigan, parents of the bride, will give the bridal dinner.

Miss Florence Neff will be unattended on the occasion of her wedding to Harry I. Miller on the afternoon of June 15. The wedding is to be celebrated at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McDoel, Miss Neff's parents, at Geneva, Ill. A special car will take out the Chicago guests.

Mr. Miller will have Alexander Rutherford of New York for his best man. Mr. Rutherford and his fiancée, Miss Helen Smyth of New York, who also will come on for the wedding, will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick D. Countiss at their summer place on Lake Geneva. Mr. and Mrs. Countiss will go to Lake Geneva today.

Among those who have taken boxes for the north shore music festival to be given in Northwestern university gymnasium at Evanston on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of next week are:

John Lee Mahin, James A. Patten, Parke E. Simmons, W. F. Hypes, Miss C. G. Lunt, C. D. B. Howell, Frank S. Shaw, John R. Lindgren, Arthur W. Underwood, W. D. Allen, D. H. Burnham, W. L. Brown, W. H. Miss Gretta Bailey and Miss May Fitzgerald are among the former students of the Convent of Notre Dame of Bourbonnais who are working for the success of the dance and card party to be given by the alumnæ association Tuesday evening at the West End Woman's club. Others interested in the affair are Misses Juliette Bourgeois, Mary Croe, Julia Brennock, Florence Gleason, Mary Boyle, Olive Leitch, Kathryn Cleary, Winnifred Danlher, M. Gilbride, Helen Wheeley, Mary McDevitt, Madie De Long, and Lillian Boyle, Mrs. Daniel Hayes, Mrs. Rome O'Connell, Mrs. Stephen Sugrue, and Mrs. Lee Kinney.

Patronesses of the affair are Mrs. Carter H. Harrison, Mrs. Lawrence J. Reed, Mrs. Edward F. Dunne, Mrs. John Dadie, and Mrs. Albert Flanagan.

William P. J. Hally will lead the grand march with Mrs. O. De St. Aubin, who is president of the alumnæ. The affair will close with a flower cotillon, which will be led by George E. Warren.

Illini Girls Give Maypole Dance.

Champaign, Ill., May 18.—[Special.]—University of Illinois girls gave their annual Maypole dance this evening on Illinois field, where a gallery of 5,000 persons applauded as the dancers revived the quaint old English dance in elaborate manner.

Years ago the custom was inaugurated at the university, and it has become the opening feature of the big interscholastic carnival. This evening the dance was given with many new features and 250 young women participated, including many from Chicago. Miss Doris Osborne, a pretty sophomore from Woodstock, Ill., was crowned queen with all the old time ceremony. Miss Amy Overland of Windsor Place, Ill., was her maid of honor and Miss Claribel Fehrman of Pekin the canopy bearer.

President Gives White House Dinner.

Washington, D. C., May 18.—[Special.]—The president gave a dinner tonight at the White House in honor of the fur seal conference. His guests were: The secretary of state, the British ambassador, the Hon. Joseph Pope, Mr. Ernest Poland, Mr. Alfred Fraser, Mr. W. A. Found, Mr. James Macoun, Mr. George Young, the Japanese ambassador, Mr. Hitoshi Dauke, Mr. Tasaku Kitahara, Mr. Masanao Hanihara, the chargé d'affaires of Russia, Mr. Pierre Botkine, Baron Nolde, Mr. Branikoff, Mr. Nabokoff, the secretary of commerce and labor, the governor of Michigan, the secretary to the president, Mr. Chandler Anderson, Mr. Robert Lansing, Mr. Hugh M. Smith, Dr. B. W. Everman, Mr. Seth Low Pierrepont, Maj. Archibald W. Butt.

Mrs. Taft and Miss Taft arrived this afternoon at the White House. Owing to the excessive heat and the fatigue of the journey from New York, Mrs. Taft did not take part in the dinner this evening, and for the same reason will relegate to Miss Helen the duty of receiving guests at the garden party tomorrow.

Among the Clubs.

Mrs. John MacMahon, retiring president of the Catholic Woman's league, will be the guest of honor at a luncheon to be given by the board of directors of the league at 1 p. m. tomorrow at the Blackstone. The luncheon will be in charge of Mrs. William H. McCarthy, and she will be assisted by Mrs. Albert Flanagan, Mrs. John W. Trainor, and Mrs. Herbert O. Bennett. Miss May McMahon will be toastmistress.

The toasts will be as follows: "As a Child," Mrs. J. J. Delaney; "As a School Ma'am," Mrs. W. A. Rogan; "As a Home Maker," Mrs. Hadley W. Smith; "As a Friend," Mrs. John W. Trainor; "As a Diplomat," Mrs. F. B. O'Gallagher; "As a President," Mrs. Celia O'Shaughnessy; "As a Delegate," Mrs. W. T. J. Plummer; "As a Financier," Mrs. William J. Lloyd; "As a High Private," Miss Grace Reed; "As a Predecessor," Mrs. J. L. Reilly; "Happy Thoughts," Miss Sallie E. Gaynor; "To Ourselves," Miss Alice T. P. Keary.

The table will be decorated in May flowers and will be in the shape of a horseshoe.

Gesellschaft Erholung, German Charity society, is preparing for a May party to be given Thursday evening, May 25, at 8 o'clock at the Lincoln Park casino. The proceeds will go toward replenishing the funds of the society, which are unusually low on account of a hard winter. One of the features of the party will be the election of a May queen. The president of the society is Mrs. Minna Vehstedt.

Twentieth anniversary of the founding of the University of Chicago will be celebrated with three nights and two days of reunion and home coming, beginning June 15 and coming to a climax the night of June 17. The invitations, issued by the University of Chicago Alumni council and a committee of the Alumni club, were mailed yesterday to every male graduate and former student of the university.

The celebration will open with the "C" dinner, at which Coach Stagg will preside. June 16 will be Fraternity day. The program on Saturday includes class games on Marshall field, indoor and outdoor baseball, lunch at the commons, Chicago and Waseda baseball game, dinner in Bartlett gymnasium, parade of classes in costume to Marshall field, and finally the pageant and fireworks on Marshall field, which will start at 9 p. m.

Children in the neighborhood of St. Philip's church, Gault court and Oak street, are to be given a free moving picture show by the Sunday school of the church. The object is to entice the children from the streets. The money will be raised at an entertainment to be given Sunday, May 28, at the Marquette council hall, 1126 La Salle avenue. The Sunday school has been unable to provide any sort of amusement for the children on account of lack of funds, and the money from this entertainment will be used to give them some attractions.

Western Yale Clubs to Be Chicago Guests.

MOST of Yale university will be removed from New Haven tomorrow and temporarily set down in Chicago when the Associated Western Yale Clubs hold their seventh annual meeting at the Onwentsia club, the University club, and the Hotel La Salle.

President Arthur T. Hadley will forsake the campus elms and put in a day with the western alumni. So will Dean Frederick Jones, so will the University Glee club quartet, and so will the famous old "Yale fence." At least, the fence will appear in replica on the greensward of the Onwentsia.

Five hundred graduates from all the midwestern cities from Kansas City to Pittsburg will be present. The real object of the celebration is "the day in the country." This festival will be in Lake Forest, for which a special train leaves the Northwestern depot at 11:30 o'clock tomorrow morning.

From the Lake Forest station there will be a "Yale parade" up to the Onwentsia club, where they will be greeted by a roar of yacht cannon and the hoisting of an immense Yale banner. Then the sons of Eli will have a luncheon and play baseball, golf, and tennis.

In the evening the college men will be brought back to town in their special train for a banquet in the Hotel La Salle. The ballroom of the hotel will be turned into a giant bower of Yale blue. President Hadley will speak. Edward Hidden of St. Louis, president of the Associated Western Clubs, will be toastmaster. The other speakers will be President George E. Vincent of the University of Minnesota and Col. Norris G. Osborn, editor of the New Haven Journal-Courier.

Arrangements have been made by which Chicago Yale men may get their tickets for the festival today from David B. Lyman, Chicago Title and Trust building.

Edward J. Phelps, '87, of the Northern Trust company, president of the Yale Club of Chicago, will act as the official host. With Mr. Phelps and Mr. Clow, the committee in charge is composed of George S. Isham, S. Leonard Boyce, Granger Farwell, James O. Heyworth, George S. Payson, Charles Garfield King, Carroll Shaffer, J. L. Houghteling Jr., William McCormick Blair, Richard E. Danielson, and Julian S. Mason.

I.K. Pond Criticises Chicago Architecture.

Washington, D. C., May 18.—[Special.]—The architecture of prominent buildings in the business district of Chicago was roundly scored today before the American Federation of Arts by Irving K. Pond, a Chicago architect himself and president of the American Institute of Architects.

"The new Cook county courthouse and Chicago city hall form together," he said, "one of the grossest misconceptions of architectural art in the world. Rather than have these misconceptions and misrepresentations it would be better to have the building as plain and simple as a warehouse.

"I hesitate and tremble to mention the names of these and other buildings in this connection, and I want it distinctly understood that there is nothing personal intended by my remarks. I do not wish to reflect on any individual. Similar conditions prevail all over the country. I mention Chicago simply as an example of the monstrosities of building design."

Mr. Pond referred to a Chicago national bank building which he branded as a "stupid misconception of a Roman temple."

"The new building of the People's Gaslight and Coke company, however, is the most imposing structure of its kind in this country," he said. "Compared with other Chicago structures it is a building of remarkable beauty of design."

Mr. Pond made a plea for individuality in art and said it would be a sorry day when Paris, New York, Tokio, or Chicago dictates art ideals for any locality.

Presbyterians Choose Dr. Carson Moderator.

BY HUGH T. KERR, D. D.

Atlantic City, N. J., May 18.—[Special.]—The Rev. John F. Carson, D. D., of the Central church, Brooklyn, was elected moderator in the 123d general assembly.

Two ballots were necessary. The first stood: Dr. Carson, 347; Dr. Matthews, 21; Dr. Hinitt, 139; Dr. Dixon, 97. Dr. Dixon withdrew and the result was the election of Dr. Carson by the following vote: Carson, 454; Matthews, 219; Hinitt, 124. The election was made unanimous.

Dr. Carson has been in his present charge twenty-seven years and it has been his only pastorate. Under him the church he now serves grew from a mission of sixty-seven members to a metropolitan church numbering over 2,500 members. He has been a tireless worker for civic reforms and he possesses the gifts which Dr. Jowett asked for in spiritual leadership, love and good works, and a sound mind. Dr. Carson is looked upon favorably by both conservatives and liberals and is expected to guide the church safely through the stormy waters of present theological controversy.

The sermon of the retiring moderator, Dr. Charles Little of Wabash, Ill., has been the talk of the commissioners everywhere. In view of the theological atmosphere surrounding this assembly it was doubly significant.

"Let there be no antagonisms," said Dr. Little in his last official deliverance. Two types of prophetic ministry were presented and the church he declared needed both. "See that ye fall not out by the way," was his closing admonition. It was a strong plea for unity and coöperation.

"In the last analysis," he said, "all will admit the mission of the pulpit is to proclaim salvation through Jesus Christ to every creature." These utterances evoked great applause and the "heresy atmosphere" is not so thick or menacing tonight.

Dr. Woodrow Wilson received official recognition in the moderator's retiring sermon and was lifted into the presidential limelight. He said:

"The present governor of this state of New Jersey within whose bounds we meet today is not a minister, but his church life and duties have brought his mission into close affiliation with that of the minister. He heard (if we may interpret him by his acts) a voice bidding him as he understood it take the larger vision and lead the commonwealth to a nobler citizenship, so that there might be presented to the individual fewer temptations and a better ideal of life. It is not amiss for this assembly, with this example in mind, devoutly to hope that the number of Christian statesmen may increase, even though at times, yet not too often, they are recruited from the ranks of college presidents and the clergy."

The sacrament of the Lord's supper was observed tonight in the First Presbyterian church. Dr. Herrick Johnston, emeritus professor of McCormick Theological seminary, who is here with his bride, assisted in the service.

On the program for tomorrow night are three other Chicago men. Dr. James G. K. McClure and Dr. John Balcom Shaw, who will speak, one upon young people's work and the other upon evangelistic work, and Mr. Andrew Stevenson, who speaks upon ministerial relief.

The main subject of interest tomorrow will be the election of the standing committees, which will perform the laborious work of the assembly and the presentation of the report on Christian life and work, which will sound a bugle blast for efficient service from men. It will state that one-fourth of the Presbyterian pulpits in Illinois are vacant and will call for men. "What the church needs," said a leading educator, "is not more money but more men who will not shirk the task before the church."

Congregationalists Censure Court.

Moline, Ill., May 18.—[Special.]—A resolution censuring the Illinois Supreme court for a recent decision practically declaring the reading of the Bible in the public schools to be unconstitutional was adopted at today's session of the state Congregational conference.

The 1912 conference will be held at Elgin, Ill.

Dr. F. N. White of the First Congregational church, Chicago, was elected moderator by a majority of eight over Dr. W. E. Barton of Oak Park. In view of Dr. Barton's action on Wednesday in resigning from the trustee board it was proposed by his friends to elect him moderator. If Dr. Barton insists on his resignation he will be out of touch with the business affairs of the church, where it is considered that his counsel is invaluable.

Swedish Mission Church Grants Licenses.

Galesburg, Ill., May 18.—[Special.]—The Illinois conference of Swedish Evangelical mission churches today recommended that licenses to preach be issued to thirty-one candidates, most of whom are attending the theological school in Chicago. The Rev. J. J. Johnson of Galesburg was elected a member of the national license committee. The revised constitution was adopted, but changes from the old one are of minor importance. The Rev. Aug. Erickson this afternoon denounced spiritualism, Christian Science, and Russellism as modern heresies.

Latest Swat War News; Swaturrectos Are Winners.

BY RICHARD HENRY LITTLE.

HEADQUARTERS OF THE SWATURRECTO ARMY OF CHICAGO, IN THE FIELD, May 18, 1911.—[From Your Special Correspondent on the Swat.]—In a decisive battle fought today between the Swaturrecto army and various battalions of the Fly army many glorious victories were achieved. The enemy are now on the wing and are reported falling back in great confusion.

The Swaturrecto soldiers brought into action the famous new hand grenade, with which great execution was done. The hand grenade consists of a square of wire netting nailed to the end of a stick. Whenever it was possible to engage the enemy in hand to hand combat, the patriot soldiers fighting for their own homes and butter dishes caused great loss among the insolent foe, who left large numbers of dead on the field and tablecloth.

As is usual in war, a large number of noncombatants and innocent bystanders were injured, but such regrettable incidents cannot be prevented.

The first case reported was that of Tomlinson Goop. Mr. Goop was seated at his breakfast table reading the full report of the terrible head-on collision between the Standard Oil company and the Supreme court. His hand was playfully toying with a spoon which he had just filled with orange marmalade. Maj. Sally Goop, in command of a volunteer detachment of the Swaturrecto forces, was out gunning for several straggling privates of the Fly army who had invaded the Goop home and captured the orange marmalade dish. Maj. Sally secured a hand grenade and stealthily advanced in line of skirmishers upon the enemy.

She saw two of the Fly soldiers, hopelessly intoxicated from overindulgence in the orange marmalade, go reeling across the table in search of more spoils. Seeing the spoonful of commissariat supplies slowly trecking in the direction of the expectant mouth of the elder Goop, the marauding Flies pounced greedily on their prize.

Feeling that not a moment was to be lost, Maj. Sally immediately opened fire with a hand grenade and swatted with all her might. The two Fly soldiers fell dead, but there was also a moan of pain from Father Goop. The elder Goop's injuries were confined to a slightly bruised hand, lacerated feelings, and three hunks of orange marmalade on his shirt front. He was also shot in the necktie. He was taken to the field hospital in the bathroom and given first aid treatment with the south end of a wet towel and is expected to recover.

Maj. Sally was commended in general orders by the commander in chief for her reckless daring and will receive the Swaturrecto medal of honor.

The next casualty involving a noncombatant, reported today, reflects doubtful credit on the part of the Swaturrecto officers concerned in the affair, and they have been degraded by the commander in chief of our gallant forces. The action took place on Indiana avenue, near Thirty-ninth street. A detachment of Swaturrecto forces, commanded by Capt. Lucy Snoopers and Lieut. Jimmy Snoopers, were in camp in a flat. Just before breakfast time the camp was heavily invaded by a large force of the enemy. Capt. Snooper's company has for many days attempted to nave its camp protected by a wire barricade at the embrasures, but the janitor of the camp does not think that screens are absolutely essential until along in November.

He thinks the screens are for the purpose of keeping out frost and snow instead of guarding against the cruel and sanguinary attack of the Fly army. Accordingly, the enemy, gaining access to the Snoopers camp, attacked the Snoopers baby with their usual demonacal cruelty. Little Baby Snoopers was carried by the Swaturrecto officers into a clothes closet and concealed and the marauding Fly soldiers retreated.

Then it was that Capt. Lucy and Lieut. Jimmy resorted to a strategem that involved them in trouble. Anxious to lure the enemy back, again, they prevailed upon Grandpa Snoopers to sit near the window, well knowing that his shining bald head would provoke the enemy to a fresh onslaught. Some justification must be admitted in this matter, as Grandpa Snoopers is one of those who sit about and croak:

"O, the flies don't hurt anybody. Leave 'em alone."

As soon as Grandpa Snoopers was backed into position Capt. Lucy and Lieut. Jimmy placed themselves in ambush behind a lace curtain and a book case. Two scouts of the enemy came in and carefully reconnoitered Grandpa Snoopers' bald redoubt for a while and then, concluding that he was holding the position alone and had no friends, they passed the word back to their troops and a whole battalion of Fly soldiers appeared and viciously attacked him. Just as they were crawling in glee over the white thought battlement of Grandpa Snoopers there came a vicious "swat, swat" from the hand grenades of the Swaturrecto forces in ambush, closely followed by an awful wail of anguish from the ancient Snoopers.

Eighteen dead were left on the field of battle, which is now being carefully anointed with vaseline and covered with a cotton cap. Grandpa Snoopers inspected the scene of awful carnage by means of a looking glass and immediately hailed both Capt. and Lieut. Snoopers before a summary court martial, where they were reduced to the ranks and their arms taken from them. The two officers have appealed the case and as they both have good records for efficiency they will again be permitted to fight with the Swaturrecto army on condition that they will not in the future use their respected Grandpa Snoopers' bald head for bait.

The matter before alluded to of properly fortifying all camps of the Swaturrecto forces with wire entanglements and barricades at the windows will be taken up with the proper officials. The recent warm weather has caused great activity in the Fly army and they are prosecuting a most vigorous campaign and forcing the fighting in every direction.

The Swaturrectos are pointing out to those whose duty it is to erect the wire entanglements and barricades that these defenses are for protection against the Fly army, and not against snow or frost, icebergs or glaciers. Some of the proprietors of camps wherein various detachments of the Swaturrecto forces are camped or flatted seem inclined to the opinion that the wire barricades, or screens, as they are called, are for protection against elephants and the rampaging hyena and there being none of these ferocious beasts in Chicago therefore the putting in of the wire barricades at the windows is a most unseemly waste of effort.

Petitions are being circulated among the Swaturrecto forces calling the attention of those in authority to the fact that the wire entanglements for the port holes or windows are to keep out marauding detachments of the Fly army and should be immediately put in place if they are to be of any service during the present campaign.

Later. Great victory. Janitor on north side just interviewed by Lieut. Col. Swipe of the Swaturrecto army, said: "O, you ban want to keep dem flies out. All right. I fix it for you."

Still later. Disastrous defeat. This janitor when further interrogated and asked to explain said: "Sure I fix it for you. I ban give yo hammer and som' nails an you nail down windows. That vill then keep dem flies out."

How May Marriageable Young People Meet?

BY LAURA JEAN LIBBEY.

[Copyright: 1911: By Laura Jean Libbey.]

THERE are all sorts of ways and means devised by which the daughters of the rich may be brought in contact with marriageable men to help carry out the great plan of life, but as far as I can see there is no regular provision made for the daughters of the poor as to where and how they are to meet marriageable young men.

There are those who tell us that the meeting of young people of opposite sex is a matter hardly worth bothering over; they manage to meet somehow, so there's the end of the discussion.

I take issue with the people who hold this theory and insist that the meeting of young people is a matter of such vital importance that it should arouse the interest of the world at large and, last but not least, the framers of laws, who hold the lever of the machinery that turns the world—not only the present, but for generations to come.

The vital need is for a meeting place for the working girls, who are wealthy in youth and beauty, though they may be poor in purse, to meet nice, eligible young men. There should be fine parks to which respectability and a nominal fee would be the passport for women of good moral character. There should be a committee to whom the young man could apply to secure an introduction. Cupid would do the real. The young couple should be made to realize, however, that the society would keep a vigilant, pleased eye upon their wooing and provide a week's outing for the couples who wed.

Great libraries of marble and gold are reared and parks that cost the government vast fortunes are laid out from one end of the land to the other. They do great good in their way—the former to increase knowledge, raising the masses to a higher plane of life and thinking; the latter to give God's fresh air to thousands of babes, their tired, overworked mothers and fathers, and to the aged, who love the green of the grass and the bench beneath the broad, spreading shade trees.

The library and the park mitigate the weariness of the lives that are—but they do not prepare for the lives that may yet be.

This can only be done by bringing the best classes of workers together. The philanthropist who puts this scheme into a reality would do more to benefit the world at large than all other schemes that have gone before.

With what delight young working girls would welcome it! How few of them have a nice place to go on a Sabbath afternoon; the fresh air would do a world of good, and the hope would spring up, phœnixlike, in thousands of breasts that the vital need of the working girl was to be met substantially at last.

As it is today, thousands of sweet and modest girls who would make the best and noblest of wives toil through their youth time and far into old age, dying unwooed, unwed, because there was no opportunity to meet a good intentioned, earnest young man who wanted a wife to love and to love him.

There are many movements for the world's betterment. None are more needed than this one which would mean so much to posterity.

There are always triflers to be encountered in every path of life; these could be as easily weeded out as weeds are raked away and flung aside by the gardener, ever watchful for the welfare of his roses. These parks would soon become the rendezvous for the marriageable men, who would soon be made to comprehend there was no levity in the idea—that all the young girls were on marriage intent and that it would take a noble man to win one of these sweet flowers from the "garden of girls."

What joy a "heart park" would be to the fair young girl shut up in shop and factory during the dreary week, and waking up on the Sabbath to see only the four bare walls of her hall bedroom, if there was an incentive to don her best, lay care aside, and go forth, perhaps to meet her husband, on that sunshiny day.

Be Careful, "Troubled"!

"Dear Miss Libbey: I have made the acquaintance of a young man over the 'phone. He seems to be a gentleman and wants to make an appointment to meet me, but I do not think this proper. TROUBLED."

I do not approve of acquaintances made over the telephone. One usually runs pretty big risks. For all you know, the man may be married. If you decide to meet him, have him come to your home some Sunday afternoon or evening.

* *

Silly Superstitions.

"Dear Miss Libbey: I am 28 years old and engaged to a young woman whose sister has been married once before and is going to marry again. Some party has told my friend that two of the same family should not marry in one year. ANXIOUS."

Pay no attention to such superstitious, silly ideas. No one of intelligence believes in such things. To believe in them labels one as ignorant.

He Wasn't Serious.

"Dear Miss Libbey: I became acquainted with a girl who is a member of the Amana society, which is a quaint German religious sect located in Iowa. After I was with her a few times she became fond of me. I respect her and yet I do not love her. They think over there that if you go with a girl a few times your intentions are serious, which is not the case with me. After asking several times to call on her and write to her, I promised that I would. She will feel so bad if I don't write that I hate not to write, and if I do write she will think I am serious. What shall I do?

"AWFULLY DISTRESSED."

The manly thing to do would be to write her a letter letting her know how you feel in regard to her and then do not write again.

* *

Should She Thank Him?

"Dear Miss Libbey: The other evening a girl friend of mine and I were out walking. We met her brother, who treated us to an ice cream soda. Afterward they walked home with me. Should I have thanked him for treating me? I did not do so, and am afraid I did not do the right thing. Also, when a young man is calling on a girl and starts to leave should she ask him to stay longer?

"MAUDE."

Yes, Maude, it would have been courteous to have thanked him for the ice cream soda. In regard to your second question, a great deal depends upon what time it is. Usually when a fellow suggests going home it is a good plan to let him go.

* *

He Is Getting Tired.

"Dear Miss Libbey: I have been keeping steady company with a young man two years my senior for the last two years. Now, he has been calling on me three times a week, but lately has decided to call only twice a week. He has been acting rather cool and curt lately, and I cannot account what his reasons are for doing so. Now, I love this young man very dearly and am at a loss to know what to do. Kindly advise me regarding same. H. W."

The fellow has been calling on you entirely too frequently. The next time he calls tell him that you do not wish him to call oftener than once a week and that he must not stay later than 10 o'clock. I do not know what his reasons are for acting cool. He probably calls too frequently and is getting tired of you.

Send Her Roses.

"Dear Miss Libbey: I have a dear girl friend whose birthday will be the middle of next month. What kind of flowers would be appropriate to send? She lives in a city about fifty miles distant, she being about 24 years of age and I about two years her junior. Would it be well to send anything more than a birthday greeting with them?

"WAUPACA COUNTY."

Send her a couple of dozen of roses. Simply inclose your card.

Now He's Sorry!

"Dear Miss Libbey: About two years ago I made the acquaintance of a young lady and it was love at first sight with the both of us. After keeping company with her for six months I, for some unaccountable reason, experienced a dislike for her and consequently jilted her unintentionally. The girl was desperately in love with me, and it naturally caused her much vexation. Now, Miss Libbey, I do love the girl, and at this time it seems that I cannot live much longer without her. We, however, have not spoken to each other for a year and a half. What manner should I pursue to regain her love? BILLY."

Billy, you would better leave matters as they are. You don't seem to be able to know your own mind. The girl has lost confidence in you and it would be hard work for a weakling like you to regain the girl's affection.

Miscellaneous Recipes.

Prune Dumplings—Cook a half pound of prunes in plenty of water, stone them, and when they are soft sweeten them and pour into baking pan. Make a rich biscuit dough from one cup of flour and one teaspoon of baking powder. Divide into four parts and place on water when done to make a sauce, adding a little butter. Serve hot.—Mrs. Frank Dolan, 803 South Albany avenue.

Prune-Rice Pudding—Stew half a pound of prunes until soft, pit and chop fine. Boil two-thirds of a cup of rice until soft and dry. Place alternate layers of rice and prunes in a buttered dish, finishing with a layer of rice. Dot with butter, dust with sugar and grated nutmeg. Bake in a hot oven. Serve with brown sugar.—Mrs. C. W. Nethercot, Glencoe, Ill.

Creamed Eggs.—Four eggs, one large cup of milk, one tablespoon butter, one-half tablespoon flour. Make a cream dressing and add the four eggs, which have been boiled hard and cut in quarters. Season.—Miss Mary Hipple, Elgin, Ill.

Peach Meringue.—Three cups of yellow dried peaches, bread crumbs, one egg, sugar to taste. Stew peaches in a little water, sweeten to taste, and stir in the well beaten yolk of the egg. Butter a pudding dish and cover bottom with fine bread crumbs. Put in the peaches and bake fifteen minutes. Cover with meringue made of the white of the egg and one tablespoon of sugar, and brown slightly in the oven. Serve cold.—Mrs. Thomas W. Scott, 5439 Jefferson avenue.

Casserole of Rice and Meat.—Boil one cup of rice until tender. Chop fine one-half pound of cold cooked veal and add one-half teaspoon of salt, one-half saltspoon pepper, one teaspoon each of chopped onion, celery salt, chopped parsley, one saltspoon each of thyme and sweet marjoram, two teaspoons fine cracker or bread crumbs. Moisten with hot water enough so that it will pack easily. Butter a mold, line with rice, pack in meat, and steam forty minutes. Serve with tomato sauce.—Francis M. Hall, Wilmette, Ill.

TAKE CHILD WORK TO WHOLE NATION

Directors of Welfare Show Plan to Invade Big Cities of Country.

DISCUSS GIRL PROBLEM.

Organization of the Child Welfare exhibit, now at the Coliseum, as a national display became more than a possibility yesterday. Following a conference between Charles F. Powlinson, secretary of the New York exhibit, Mrs. Emmons Blaine, Miss Jane Addams and other officials, it was decided to appoint a permanent director of the exhibit with power to take it to other cities. It is probable the appointee will be C. E. McCahill, manager of the New York exhibit.

As the exhibit is expected to take on new magnitude with the addition of the display of every city, a plan to show it by moving pictures in smaller towns and educational institutes has been developed. The taking of the pictures will begin tomorrow morning. The expense and responsibility has been assumed by Mrs. Emmons Blaine.

Talk Problem on Girls' Day.

It was "Girls' day" at the Coliseum. The inclination of sociologists to lay all the stress of reform and welfare upon the boys suffered a relapse. Speakers, exhibits, everything combined in showing that a good deal more interest and legislation is needed to protect the girls of Chicago and the United States.

About 1,400 children took part in the afternoon entertainment.

"Delinquent girls are the most important, the most neglected, and the least understood of our social problems," Judge M. W. Pinckney of the Juvenile court said in an afternoon speech in the conference room. "It is a problem, too, which becomes more serious each year. We do not meet her needs. I have found that the average girl becomes delinquent from one of three reasons—parental neglect, environment, or temptation.

Booker T. Washington to Speak.

"Of 475 cases in my court last year the majority were the result of parental neglect. The parents were either dishonest, intemperate, shiftless, or immoral. They had no idea of the responsibility which this exhibit is even now attempting to teach. A bad environment, as I define it, is one which allows 1,125 children in the same block, as is the case in the Ninth ward. Temptation is the result of low wages, of callous employers. Every human being loves pleasure. If wages are so low as to forestall it the result will too often be delinquency."

Judge Pinckney also emphasized the need of better housing facilities for the girl wards of Chicago. In this he was seconded by Mrs. Ophelia L. Amigh, superintendent of the Geneva Industrial school, and Miss Mary W. Dewson, superintendent of the Massachusetts Industrial school.

At 8 o'clock Judge Pinckney spoke again, as did Judge Harry Olson of the Municipal court and Judge Charles C. Cutting.

The program for this afternoon includes singing and gymnastic work by 2,000 school children and a plea for the negro child by Jane Addams and Booker T. Washington. At night there will be another musical program by 1,300 pupils and a talk by Prof. Edward T. Devine, general secretary of the New York Charity Organization society, on "The Economic Basis of Sound Family Life."

SHOTS DRAW MEN FROM WORK JUST AS STRUCTURE FALLS.

Six Workers Attracted to Fight of Policeman with Negro Escape Death from Collapsing Tank.

Minneapolis, Minn., May 18.—Six men working on a 50,000 gallon tank on top of the Great Northern implement building climbed down and ran to the other end of the building where they were attracted by the revolver shots which resulted in the shooting of Policeman Charles Anderson by James Russell, a negro, who afterwards killed himself.

Just as they reached the other end of the building they heard a rumble and looking back saw the tank sway and fall to the ground. The attraction of the shooting had saved their lives.

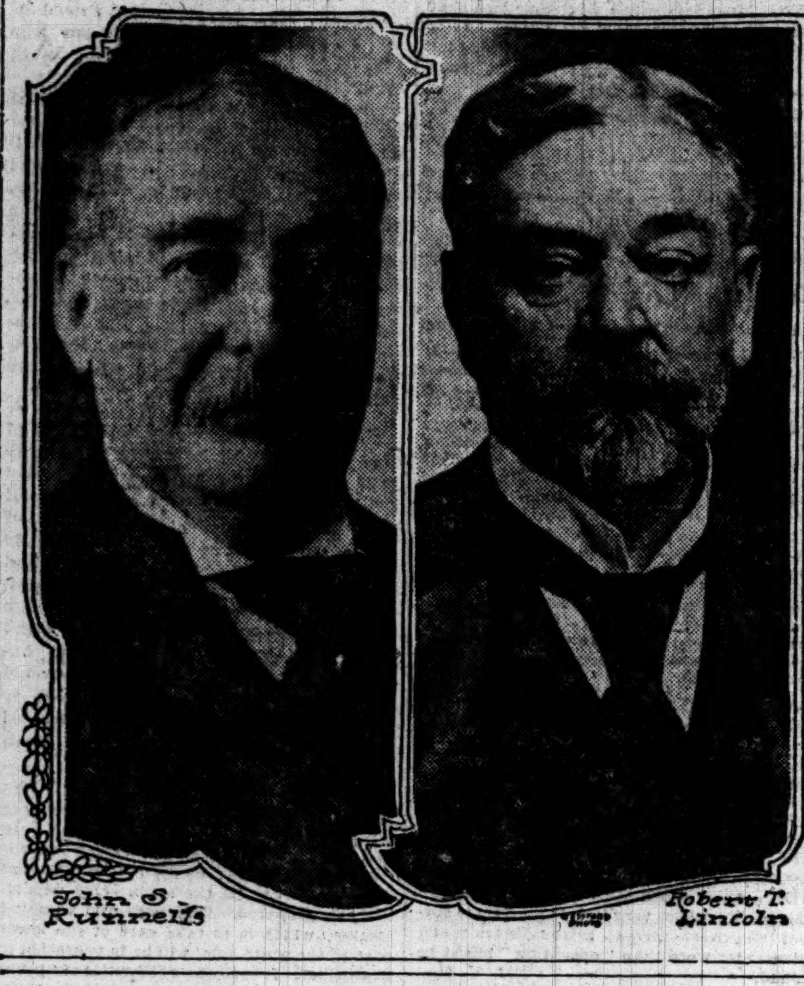
Retiring Pullman Head and Successor.



J. S. RUNNELLS PULLMAN HEAD

ROBERT T. LINCOLN RESIGNS.

Son of "Honest Abe" Elected Chairman of Board of Directors.

Robert Todd Lincoln, son of Abraham Lincoln, presented his expected resignation as president of the Pullman company yesterday at a meeting of the directors in Chicago and was elected chairman of the board.

John Sumner Runnells, vice president and general counsel of the company, was elected president. Charles S. Sweet, who has been assistant to Mr. Lincoln, was elected assistant to President Runnells.

Mr. Lincoln, who is retiring from active office on account of ill health, has been president of the car company since George M. Pullman died in 1897. He is now 68 years old, and has been away from his office on account of poor health much of the time for several months. Mr. Runnells meanwhile has administered the office duties.

General Counsel Since 1887.

Mr. Runnells has been general counsel of the $120,000,000 Pullman company since 1887 and has been vice president since 1905. He is also senior member of the law firm of Runnells, Burry & Johnstone and is a director of the Merchants' Loan and Trust company, the Pullman Trust and Savings bank, and the Roseland Savings bank.

He was born in Effingham, N. H., July 30, 1844, graduated from Amherst college in 1865, and after studying law at Dover, N. H., removed to Iowa and became private secretary to the governor of that state. From 1881 to 1885 he was United States district attorney for Iowa.

In 1879 and 1880 he was a member of the Republican national committee, and in 1880 was a delegate to the Republican national convention. He lives at 525 North State street.

Lincoln Active in Public Life.

Mr. Lincoln, retiring president, was born Aug. 1, 1843, at Springfield, Ill. During the civil war he served as captain on the staff of Gen. Grant, and was admitted to the bar in 1867 at Chicago. From 1881 to 1885 he was secretary of war in the cabinets of Presidents Garfield and Arthur, and from 1889 to 1893 was United States minister to Great Britain.

During the life of George M. Pullman, founder of the car company, Mr. Lincoln was his special counsel, and on Mr. Pullman's death he was made president.

MAIL BOX PICKPOCKET'S AID

Often Drops Plundered Purse There to Forestall Detection.

$60,000 RECEIPTS REGAINED

Victim Gets Wallet by Mail; Shows Detectives as Thieves' Prey.

Recovery of a pocketbook taken by pickpockets from E. L. Hopkins, Devils Lake, Wis., at Lincoln park, led yesterday to an interesting discovery that hundreds of stolen and plundered purses are dropped into mail boxes every month in Chicago.

Hopkins' wallet contained receipts for $60,000 worth of bonds, but the pickpockets obtained his address from articles in THE TRIBUNE telling of the robbery. They wrote the address on a slip, enclosed it in the wallet in place of the $20 of currency that had been there and dropped it into a mail box.

Purse Returned to Hopkins' Home.

The pocketbook was turned in to the inquiry division at the postoffice by the mail collector, and was sent to the Hopkins residence at Devils Lake. Hopkins received a telegram from his wife saying that the wallet had been returned there. He inquired at the postoffice and was shown scores of pocketbooks, which had been taken from mail boxes all over the city within a few days.

At the inquiry division of the postoffice it was said that the receipts of pocketbooks from which all currency had been taken would run as high as ten on some days, and would amount to hundreds a month in the summer time.

Thieves' Favorite Depository.

"An experienced pickpocket always uses the mail boxes as a receptacle for that portion of loot that does not have any value to him," said Gen. John D. Foster of the inquiry division. "In the past few weeks there has passed through this office no fewer than three times the pocketbook of a well known milk dealer of the city. We have returned the wallets of three city detectives recently."

FUNDS STOLEN FROM VAULTS?

J. M. Secrist Sues Safe Deposit Companies for $25,000—Says Box He Rented Was Rifled.

Trial of a suit for $25,000 against the American Trust Safe Deposit company was started before Judge Cowing yesterday. The suit was brought in 1909 by John M. Secrist and alleges that $25,000 which he placed in vaults rented from the defendant company was stolen.

STOLE FOR BRIBES TO SAVE HIS PALS

Booth Fisheries' Cashier, $1,500 Short, Says He Was Duped by Partners.

"PAID FOR IMMUNITY."

Was Told Money Would Keep Oleo Moonshiners Out of Penitentiary.

Erick Lindstrom, cashier for the Booth Fisheries, 501 North Desplaines street, after being arrested yesterday told a remarkable story of how he was duped out of $1,500 which he had stolen from his employers. He said that two men, employés in a small butter business he conducted, represented to him that they needed the money to buy immunity for him and themselves from prosecution by the federal government for selling oleomargarine instead of butter.

One of the men named by Lindstrom, Harry J. Davis, is under arrest on a charge of extortion, and the other man, Benjamin Epstein, is being sought on a warrant charging the same offense.

Federal Authorities on Alert.

Lindstrom was arrested at the office of the Fisheries company after L. P. Christenson, an investigator, had found the shortage in his accounts. The police say he admitted his guilt. He was questioned at the Harrison street station by federal secret service men who have begun an investigation to determine whether or not a charge of selling oleomargarine can be placed against him and his employés.

According to Lindstrom he obtained the first money three months ago. He said Davis came to him at that time and told him Epstein had been arrested by secret service men and that $750 would be required to "square the case." He said also, according to the police, that he was told that he would be prosecuted, too, for selling oleomargarine if the money was not forthcoming.

No Money, Uses Employers'.

He did not have the money and is said to have taken it from his employers. A short time later he was induced to part with an additional $750 in the same way.

Davis, according to the prisoner, came to him again and told him that Epstein once more was in the clutches of the federal government and that $300 would be required. He was preparing to get it when he was arrested. After he told his story he agreed to help catch Davis and Epstein.

Absolute Independence

If you were the possessor of absolute independence you would be in a position unattained by kings. In our organized society we are all dependent. Your problem in your business is to be as nearly independent as possible.

Where in your business can you be really independent? Not in the factory, for you have men there you cannot replace. Not at your Bank, for you may need accommodation from time to time. Not with your wholesale customers, for they don't HAVE to buy your goods. Not even in your purchasing department, for you must have raw materials, and some of the houses you buy from are so strong that you can't afford to antagonize them.

What commercial independence is possible for you? This alone: If your goods are used by individuals widely scattered, who buy them knowing that they are your goods, because they are your goods, and because they have found them satisfactory—then only are you as independent as it is possible to be.

If you have this distribution, no middleman can hold you up, no competitor can shut you out of a given territory, no buyers of large houses can make you compete against the other man in price. The loss of no one customer or one set of customers can seriously embarrass you.

Our booklet on Modern Sales Methods may enable you to get a better idea of how this measure of independence is being achieved by others. Sent free on request.

NO REFORM FOR CRICKET.

A rash and ruthless reform reaches out to lay its unholy hands on cricket. Conservatism which only yawns as it sees a determined government knocking the props from under the house of lords is wide awake now and holding up an alarmed but resolved hand in command that this shall not be.

It is given to few Americans to understand either the mechanics or the psychology of cricket, but the defense of the game as it stands against the proposed rules which would remodel it reveals an admirable theory of sports. Possibly our admiration will be chill and not enthusiastic, but it will be compelled.

Cricket, as the opponents of the new rules point out, is intended for playing, not for winning. It is made next to impossible for the average spectator to see a contest won. A county cricket match occupies three days. A man may see an hour or two of it or he may see a day of it, but seldom is it desirable or possible for him to sit it through.

He goes not to see something won but something played. He is not chiefly concerned with the result. He is occupied with the process. If in the period which he devotes to it he sees good bowling, sharp batting, and clever fielding, he is satisfied. The score is of secondary importance. Thus Englishmen draw a sharp line between their cricket and their football. The latter appeals to them exactly as baseball does to the American. A match is played in an hour and a half. The victory is emphasized. The win is what is wanted. An English football following is precisely like an American baseball following. It crowds to support a winning tram; it deserts a losing team.

Hence probably the difference between cricket and baseball is not a difference between national temperaments but strictly a difference between games. The proposed rules, it is protested, would add an "unhealthy excitement" to the game. A false value would be put on the score. The spectator would be attracted away from the playing and to the result.

As well have a reader skipping through Hamlet to "get the ending" or through King Lear to "find how it comes out."

ICE IN HOT WEATHER.

United States District Attorney Sims yesterday made his office a most effective branch of the Child Welfare exhibit.

He instituted an investigation of the increase in the price of ice, and if he finds an illegal combination of ice companies the result may be a restoration of competition with a reduction in the price of this great summer necessary.

The people of the congested districts should have ice at the lowest price within reason. The lives of many very young children depend upon it. If there is an unlawful enhancement of its price it should be corrected by the law.

FOOLISH OBSTRUCTION.

The report is persistent that "friends" of the initiative and referendum amendment, recently defeated by a narrow margin in the house, were chiefly responsible for the defeat of the tax amendment resolution yesterday. If this is the case they are not friends of the initiative and referendum or friends of the "people." The fact that their own reform measure failed at this session does not relieve them of responsibility for postponing a reform which they know is sorely needed by the people. Their hostility, if this report is true, is puerile and injurious to the cause they pretend to champion. If the tax amendment is not submitted it will come up for hearing at the next session, to dispute the right of way once more with the initiative amendment. Sensible men would get it out of the way, so that such men as believe it to be of paramount importance may be free to favor the initiative and referendum, if they believe in it, the next time it is proposed.

WILL THE SENATE ACT?

A special committee of investigation of the Illinois senate, after protracted hearings checked only by the dubious intervention of a compliant court, has reported "that the election of William Lorimer before the last general assembly would not have occurred had it not been for bribery and corruption."

The Illinois senate itself by the overwhelming vote of 39 to 10 has accepted that finding and passed a resolution asking the United States senate to reopen investigation of the Lorimer election.

This appeal is the official voice of the commonwealth of Illinois to the senate of the United States. It is an appeal that is backed by the people of Illinois and of the nation, who have not cherished the specious doubts that served the cause of Mr. Lorimer so well at the first trial of his case. It is an appeal which has been fortified by new evidence of the best character. And it is the appeal of the highest legislative body in the state, not merely the appeal of a newspaper trying to perform a duty of citizenship on behalf of clean government.

It was one of the most distinguished and authoritative members of the senate, Elihu Root, who declared that the verdict of the committee on privileges and elections confirming the election of Lorimer could not stand. And he declared that if it did stand, the republic could not stand.

That warning of farseeing statesmanship confronts the United States senate today. The fate of Lorimer is as nothing to the issue he has come to represent. That issue is whether great interests seeking or enjoying privileges shall be allowed to purchase representation away from the people, shall be permitted to poison the sources of representative government, shall substitute government by and for money in the place of government by and for men.

FOR CARE OF THE MENTALLY DISEASED.

Representative Shanahan's bill to establish a new state insane asylum with a capacity for 1,500 has passed the senate. The need for this institution is most urgent. It challenges the common humanity of the house. Even though that body is in a tangle of politics and personal grudge serving, it should be able to rise to the duty of providing for the unfortunates so long neglected because of an unwise and false economy.

THE TRIBUNE does not wish to endanger this measure by making it the object of assault by the Browne faction. It has no more interest in the measure than in the vital statistics bill, which was merely the interest which every decent citizen and every decent newspaper should have in a humanitarian measure of social importance and unquestionable need. It is to be hoped the house will recognize this and vote for the institution.

TRY CRACKED ICE.

"It is not fair to Judge Petit to blacken his character as is done in this resolution. [The senate resolution setting up the protest that the judge had exceeded his judicial powers.] People of Chicago will turn against him and he will be banished forever from society if you pass this resolution."—Senator James A. Henson.

This interesting case of inflammation of the imagination would indicate that the Hon. Mr. Henson has applied a hot brick to his intellectuals. We suggest that he try an application of cracked ice.

WORKING FOR AN ANTHEM.

Without intending to discourage the members of the board of education who are hunting for a new national anthem, it may be suggested that it is most likely to be found when national consciousness has been inspired and exalted by a great period of national life. A great genius might arise above the satisfied level of commonplace life and sing a nation's true song, but we doubt that the proposed tour de force will produce an anthem.

CHINA AND OPIUM.

It has been argued seriously that if the Chinese could not obtain opium they would take to gin rickies, Scotch highballs, whisky toddies, and other forms of hard liquor injurious to their health and their morals. The justification of the practically enforced importation of the drug by China from India has sounded suspiciously like an argument that opium is useful in helping a Chinaman to forget that he is a Chinaman—some people must be unfortunate enough not to be English, but they may drug themselves and forget it.

The new agreement between Great Britain and China, according to announcement from Peking, sets 1917 as the date for the final abandonment of Chinese production and Indian export of opium, by which time the Chinese nervous system is to have accustomed itself, through a series of gradual reductions, to total abstinence. England's position, which has been much attacked, has been that China should not practice virtue at the expense of India—if the Celestials wanted to give up opium growing they might prohibit opium imports, but they might not grow their own poison and refuse to take that of India.

A PROBLEM OF VALUES.

A correspondent asks to be informed if any person ever has written the numbers from 1 to 1,000,000 consecutively. She is engaging in the task, and at the date of her letter had waded as far as 481,000. Another year's work, she estimates, will complete it. Our guess would be that no one ever had. This is based on the prevailing notion that life is short and time is fleeting. Further inquiry is as to possible remuneration. Even to guess here would require a greater knowledge of human nature than we possess.

There is supposed to be a value to anything that no other human ever has done before, whether it be falling off a seventeen story building and living happily ever afterwards, walking over Niagara on a tight rope, eating a barrel of sauer kraut at one sitting, or wheeling a barrow of green peas across a continent.

Just what the value is we do not know, but something in it suggests the predicament of the man whom the secret service operatives found the other day taking 25 cents worth of time to make a counterfeit nickel.

GOVERNMENT BY GAVEL.

Charles Adkins of Bement, with one substantial foot resting easily on top of the speaker's desk and the other sticking through the constitution, is not nearly the heroic figure he imagines himself to be. His pose may satisfy himself temporarily, but it will not be permanently comfortable. He has inflated himself with a dangerous assumption of power.

It is a ridiculous non sequitur that "unwarranted executive interference" gives license for an unconstitutional, arbitrary, and insolent interference by him.

Mr. Adkins is not in his legislative childhood. He will not pretend, except to persons unfamiliar with legislative methods in general and the history of the waterway bill in particular, that such a measure should never, in session after session, reach the floor of the house; that its fate should be determined by a committee carefully selected to oppose it, and that the house itself never should have the opportunity to consider it.

Mr. Adkins is not the artless innocent he seems, and certainly not the ingenuous patriot he would be taken to be. For two sessions now the waterway bill, one of the measures of state wide importance before the assembly, has been killed in the house committee. There has been no opportunity for its consideration by the house of representatives.

Eliminating the sentimental antics from Mr. Adkins' heroics, what he says is practically that it is a proper method of legislation to pack a committee against a bill and permit that committee to destroy it, regardless of whether a majority of the house want to pass it or not. Further: If that committee, packed as it is, shows any signs of weakening, of allowing the bill to emerge even with an unfavorable recommendation, then it is a proper method of legislation for the speaker to announce that he will recognize no one to move or speak on this subject, and that to obtain consideration for it he must be thrown physically out of his seat.

One other speaker of the Illinois house of representatives took some such position and was thrown out. But Mr. Adkins is safe from violence. Hence, possibly, his bravery.

Mr. Adkins, like many a speaker before him, is in a hasheesh dream of political advancement.

This causes half the trouble in the house of representatives session by session, and its power for mischief does not diminish, although the record shows that a speaker does 90 per cent of his running for governor while he sits in the speaker's chair, and is not heard of afterwards in respect to that office.

A vain man placed in this position listens willingly to the suggestions of shrewd manipulators who tease his imagination with the temptation of office. That they do it for their own purposes, and that he is left sitting, hat in hand, in the anteroom when he has served their ends, unhappily does not become apparent to him until he awakens.

Adkins will come out of his dream and will find his pose too uncomfortable to hold, but in the meantime his unfairness, his assumption of power, and his disregard of constitutional obligations is depriving the state of the right to have an important bill voted on by its representatives. That is costly, and Adkins makes the state pay the bill.

Case of Mistaken Identity.

"Mornin', ma'am," said the ebony hued person who had knocked at the kitchen door. "I got a load o' coal fur dis place. Whar d'yuh want it?"

"In the basement," answered the woman of the house, "but you will have to go down there and open the window from the inside. You can get in through the back door; it's open."

Down in the basement was Norah, doing the family washing. Hearing footsteps approaching she looked up. A huge black man was coming in through the door.

"Howly Moses!" exclaimed the panic stricken domestic.

MARQUISE DE FONTENOY.

(Copyright: 1911: By the Brentwood Company.)

IN ENGLAND, as all those Americans are aware who, frequenting London society, have been brought into contact with royalty, curtseys must be made by women not only to the queens and to the princesses of the reigning house, but also to the king and to the princes.

The curtsy is, however, not made to the royal princes until they grow up. Although the Prince of Wales will not attain his majority [at the age of 18] until June 23, 1912, that is to say, more than a year hence, the king and queen have caused it to be known that after his seventeenth birthday next month, it is expected the token of deference indicated in a curtsy will be paid to him by the women whom he meets.

He also is addressed as "sir" by all of his father's subjects, just in the same way that his only sister, Princess Mary, although still in short skirts, is addressed as "ma'am," even by elderly dowager peeresses, who have known her mother since the latter's childhood.

Lady Dashwood, who has just been elected churchwarden for West Wycombe, in Buckinghamshire, is mother of the premier baronet of Great Britain and widow of that Sir Robert Dashwood who attracted American newspaper notoriety some years ago by his remarkable performance of the rôle of "Romeo" on board ship during his trip across the Atlantic to New York.

Later he attracted attention through becoming involved in legal proceedings in England with a bookmaker, during the course of which it was brought to light that Sir Robert had for years been carrying on a betting business in Vigo street, London, under the name of "Henry Benson."

He had sold out his interest in the concern to his partner, a bookmaker named Gotschalk, who, when the baronet subsequently made bets with him, declined to pay him his winnings on the ground that Sir Robert had got the better of him in the purchase of the business. The judges decided the law did not admit of the recovery of bets through legal process.

The Dashwoods are an old Dorsetshire family, which flourished in the reign of Queen Elizabeth, and the fortunes of which may be said to have been founded by George Dashwood, Turkey merchant, and an alderman of London in the reign of James I.

The second baronet was that Sir Francis Dashwood of unsavory memory, who desecrated Medmenham Abbey on the Thames through the foundation there of the infamous Hell Fire club, but who managed, in spite of his villainies, to obtain the office of chancellor of the exchequer, and died at an advanced age as Lord Le Despencer, having inherited the barony as such from his uncle, Lord Westmoreland.

Having no legitimate issue the peerage fell into abeyance at his death and still remains in that condition. He left, however, an illegitimate daughter, who, under the name of Fanny Antonia, furnished much material for the chroniques scandaleuses at the beginning of the nineteenth century, and who, wonderfully beautiful and clever, has been immortalized by De Quincey in a vivid character sketch under the title of "The Female Infidel."

It cannot be said that Lord Le Despencer has enjoyed undisturbed repose since his death. For the family mausoleum of the Dashwoods at West Wycombe Park, where he lies entombed, has been repeatedly broken into by vandals, and subjected to the most ghoulish desecration, the last outrage of this kind having been perpetrated as recently as five years ago. Nor have the criminals ever been discovered or brought to justice, in spite of the large rewards offered for their arrest.

Sir Edwin Hare Dashwood, father of the late baronet, and grandfather of the new 15 year old Sir John, the present master of West Wycombe Park, died mysteriously in Paris in 1882. He was a victim of the alcohol habit, which had reduced him to almost complete imbecility, and necessitated his being placed under restraint. His family, however, were reluctant to incur the publicity incidental to any commitment to a sanitarium.

He was sent off to reside in Paris with a keeper with whom he lived in wretched rooms in the Pantheon quarter of the gay metropolis.

Sir Edwin died so suddenly that his family became convinced he had been the victim of foul play and instituted inquiries which led to the arrest of the keeper. The magisterial investigation did not go far. Before the second hearing came on the keeper committed suicide by hanging himself to the bars of his cell.

Sir Edwin's demise found his eldest son and namesake, Sir Edwin Abercrombie Dashwood, in New Zealand, where he had been living up to that time an adventurous sort of hand to mouth existence as a gum digger, which is about the lowest form of labor in the Antipodes. He married a New Zealand girl, Miss Florence Norton, and on dying without issue left everything that he could to her, and away from his younger brother and successor, the late Sir Robert, with whom he was on bad terms.

Of course litigation ensued and among the most interesting features was the suit between the New Zealand widow, Lady Dashwood, and her brother-in-law, Sir Robert, with regard to the possession of the superb Gobelin tapestries which constitute the glory of West Wycombe Park.

The New Zealand Lady Dashwood claimed them under her husband's will, whereas Sir Robert justly insisted that they were part and parcel of the entailed property, and as such inalienable by his brother. The judge, on hearing the tapestries had been specially woven for the rooms, to the walls of which they had been attached by battens for nearly 200 years, decided that they were a fixture of the manor house and therefore part and parcel of the entailed property and as such not alienable.

There is another Dashwood baronetcy, owned by Sir George Dashwood, who is only remotely related to Sir John, though descended from the same stock. Sir George, a couple of years ago, sold to young Lord Leven and Melville his country seat of Kirklington, in Oxfordshire, one of the most beautiful and important places in the country, extending over an area of several thousand acres.

In ancient times it belonged to the reigning house, both John of Gaunt and Henry V. having made their home there. The present mansion was built at the beginning of the eighteenth century, contains notable examples of Grinling Gibbons' carvings, and has an apartment called the monkey room in consequence of the painted ceiling, by Claremont, on which are portrayed a number of monkeys engaged in field sports.

There is only one other ceiling of the sort in existence, and it was painted by the same artist in the fishing lodge on Monkey island on the Thames below Taplow, for the then Duke of Marlborough.

Emperor Nicholas is so often blamed in this country for tolerating maltreatment of prisoners by their warders that it is only fair to call attention to the fact that some twenty of the latter, employed in the great prison of Nikolaieff, including the chief warder of the prison and his two chief assistants, have just been sentenced to terms ranging from three years' to six months' imprisonment with hard labor by the Circuit court of Kazan. They were convicted of cruelty to inmates of the Nikolaieff prison. In most instances it took the shape of flogging the prisoners with ox tendons.

A LINE-O'-TYPE OR TWO.

THE Helm committee has concluded that Lorimer was elected by corruption. It is equally true that the earth is round, that the sun radiates heat, and that the moon shines with reflected light.

Unusual interest is being centered by some in Slezak, the tenor, who created such a furore in Chicago last year. Some critics compare him with the golden throated Caruso. Atlanta's music lovers are reserving their opinions and are not to be influenced by the press. Caruso holds his own with them by the imperial right of his superb voice, they forgetting all of his idiosyncrasies, of which he has many. These fade into the distance when he stands before them and pours out his very soul in song. Sunny Italy, with its environment of blue skies and land of sunshine, owns him as a true and native son. When he sings, one seems to smell the faint, sweet perfume of all the tropical blossoms of that sunny clime, and in imagination the song of the nightingale pours forth a story of love and passion that makes you weep, weep, and then weep again.—Meridian (Miss.) THE EAST WINDOW.

"I'll not hurt thee, says my uncle Toby, rising from his chair and going across the room, with the fly in his hand.—I'll not hurt a hair of thy head:—Go, says he, lifting up the sash, and opening his hand as he spoke, to let it escape;—go, poor devil, get thee gone, why should I hurt thee?—This world surely is wide enough to hold both thee and me."

This appealed to me once, as it appealed to Master Shandy, as a very pretty bit of sentiment; but now the sentiment is as old fashioned as the punctuation, and false to fact; for science instructs us that the world is not wide enough for both flies and humans. Before science interested itself in the matter the fly was regarded with more than tolerance. "Busy, curious, thirsty fly, drink with me and drink as I," wrote a seventeenth century poet. And baby's precious nose, now vigilantly guarded, was once a parade ground for tickling toes. The fly was annoying, but he was a scavenger, and it was assumed that his scavengering was beneficial to mankind. Now we pursue the pest around the meridian. The survival of the fittest is the survival of the cleanest. The "swatter" is mightier than the sword.

A sociable wretch is the fly. You cannot take a journey without him, or arrive where he is not. In the heart of the desert, in the depth of the ancient forest, by Greenland's icy mountains and India's coral strand, he buzzes briskly in his season; and we will never be shut of him. When Macaulay's traveler from New Zealand takes his stand on a broken arch of London bridge to sketch the ruins of St. Paul's he will pause frequently to brush a fly from his nose, and Tom Hood's last man will leave the world to darkness and—to flies.

I wonder what my Aunt Jennie (now departed) would think of the present campaign against the nuisance. How dear to this heart is the memory of the farmhouse kitchen on the top of Goshen hill! I can see the table, set for dinner, and dotted with a thousand flies—staking out claims on the sugar, navigating the cream, wiping their feet on the cookies, and merging their identities with the huckleberries. I think we gave them one grand "shoo" before we sat down; but they expected this formality, and rejoined us almost instantly.

"THE FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE."

THE WATER SITUATION.

Chicago, May 16.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Why should any one who has the fortune to reside on the south side, especially those in the near vicinity of the stockyards and occupying third flats, be deprived of water on these hot days? I live on West Garfield boulevard and between Halsted and Center, and today since early morning we have not had a drop of water in our flat. It is an insanitary condition of things and would appear that all pressure is taken off during the daytime. What for, we cannot say. Is it to supply the stockyards, because if so I fail to see why families should suffer for this. The water is there, and landlords should see that we receive what is paid for. B.

Chicago, May 17.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Please advise through your paper what relief is to be afforded the people of Rogers Park in the way of water supply. Since the beginning of hot weather we have been unable to obtain water between the hours of 5 and 9:30 in the evening. A number of people nearer to the lake receive enough water to sprinkle lawns, etc. Can't there be some way to increase the water supply in this locality which would enable the residents in this section to receive sufficient water for the household necessities? An answer would be greatly appreciated,

R. W. HAWKINS, 7105 Ridge avenue.

Many letters like the above are coming to the Friend of the People. Mr. John Ericson, the city engineer, said yesterday that the unseasonable warm weather of the present month had caught the engineering department unprepared. The Roseland pumping station, which is to take care of the lower part of the south side, will be in operation in September. It took the authorities six years to provide the money to carry out the plans Mr. Ericson made for this station. In the same way he was hampered in his designs for better water supply for the northern part of the city. He asked for three pumping engines; they gave him one. The condition in Lake View has been as bad as any in the city. That engine was the first new one he had been able to secure in five years, while in the eight years previous to that period no less than seventeen engines had been installed.

Usually at this season engines which need overhauling can be cut off and put in shape. At a time when this should be the case there is a midsummer demand for water. Broken machinery at Sixty-eighth street and Fourteenth street have crippled those stations. The former will be going full time again in three and the latter in two weeks.

In August the Twenty-second street station, run by electrical power, will be in operation. This will supply the stockyards district and there will be 25,000,000 gallons to be had from the Roseland district over what is the requirement for that station.

The two engines which have been installed so tardily in Lake View will give that district a supply adequate for the time being, but that section, as well as the west and south sides, has increased so in population that it will not be long before the demand will far exceed the supply.

This does not offer much hope for the period from now until August, and each water user should remember his neighbor and the man in remote districts, where, in some instances, water cannot be had above the second story. Obey the sprinkling regulations and do not waste water in bathrooms, laundries, or kitchens.

HOURS FOR SPRINKLING LAWNS.

Chicago, May 18.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Please let me know the hours for watering lawns, etc., and to whom I can report violations of this ordinance. My children have to go without baths, and, worse still, my closet cannot be flushed because sidewalks are being washed down. A reply will be appreciated.

THIRD FLOOR.

The use of water for sprinkling lawns, etc., is confined to the hours 5 to 7 a. m., and 7:30 to 10 p. m.

EXHIBITIONS IN WINDOWS.

Chicago, May 18.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Is there a law against "demonstrations" in shop windows?

C. H.

There is an ordinance prohibiting any show or exhibition which causes a crowd to collect and interfere with the free passage of pedestrians upon the sidewalk.

TO BE NATURALIZED.

La Salle, Ill., May 15.—[To the Friend of the People.]—I have never taken out my first naturalization papers, and I have moved about so much since coming to this country that I do not know if I can comply with the law as to witnesses. What does it say about this? J. K. B.

It will be necessary for your petition for naturalization to be verified by at least two credible witnesses who are citizens of the United States covering the whole period of your residence in the state where petition is filed, which must have been for at least one year immediately preceding the date when the petition was filed. These witnesses must appear in person with you before the clerk of the court where petition is filed when it is filed and again before the judge at least ninety days thereafter when the case is heard.

That part of the five year period of residence in the United States required to be proved during which you resided within the state may be proved by deposition. The witnesses must be citizens of the United States and must have personal knowledge not only of your continuous residence in the United States during the period covered by their testimony but of your good moral character during such period.

ALLEY PASSABLE; LOT TO BE TIDIED.

Chicago, Ill., May 18.—[To the Friend of the People.]—Having read the scores of complaints which have been remedied through THE TRIBUNE'S valuable efforts, I would like to bring to your attention the condition of the alley and vacant property located at the rear of 317 and 319 East Sixty-seventh street. The property has been used as a common dumping ground for some time. Is building new houses in this location, the builder has dumped loads of dirt, sand, etc., in the alley, and in case of a fire or any other emergency the fire department or any one else would have a hard time in getting around. Also several loads of manure and other refuse have been dumped on this property, including a load of old tar paper, which was torn from the roof of a neighboring house.

As I do not know whom to make a complaint to I take the liberty of calling THE TRIBUNE'S attention to the fact, hoping that this matter will be attended to as promptly as other complaints.

WALTER ELLSWORTH.

On investigation I find there is no obstruction in the alley that would hinder any vehicle from passing; neither is the alley in bad condition from garbage or ashes. The houses surrounding the alleys are practically new and from building the rear fences and walks there is some debris left in the alley, but nothing of an unsanitary nature. Manure that was dumped there was for back yard gardens and has been put in yards. Just east of the alley there is a vacant lot on which some manure and old tar paper was dumped by Mr. Bush, who built the houses, and I have asked him to remove it. This is on private property over which this bureau has no jurisdiction. If the ash and rubbish wagon makes its regular calls through this place, it will be tidied up and put in first class condition. REBATES ON IMPROVEMENTS.

Chicago, May 17.—[To the Friend of the People.]—I am anxious to obtain information when rebate on payments for paving Union avenue between Twenty-sixth street and Thirty-third street is to be declared. This street was improved over five years and six months ago, and all payments have been made. Also for opening Thirty-second street between Emerald avenue and Halsted street. This street has been opened over ten years, paid for, and no rebate given. M. SCANLAN.

Ask the special assessment clerk at the board of local improvements.

EMPLOYE SHOULD HAVE STOOD UP.

Chicago, May 17.—[To the Friend of the People.]—While riding home on a Thirty-ninth street car last evening a Chicago City railway employe, wearing badge No. 1504, occupied a seat and let an old lady, who could hardly stand up, hang on to the strap in the car. Isn't there some rule regarding this in the conductors' and motormen's rule book? C. E. A. M.

This is contrary to the rules of the Chicago City Railway company. The matter has been brought to the attention of the officials.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

DAY BELONGS TO THE VETERANS.

Chicago, May 17.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—I have read with a great deal of interest the letters published in your paper in regard to the horse parade on Memorial day. By all means let the veterans have their way. In a few more years "taps" will have been sounded over the graves of the last of the boys in blue who carried the flag through the battle scarred south for four long years. Let us not have it said of Chicago that it was unpatriotic enough to sanction such a desecration of a holy day. A. E. P.

THE BATTLE OF THE TREES.

Chicago, May 15.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—May 10 O. L. Davis of Oak Park in a letter you published asserted that the Carolina poplar "is not the common poplar" [no one said it was] or cotton shedding poplar." He also asserted that the "box elder" was not a maple. "It is far from it," he said, and then goes on to laud the "hard or sugar maple," of which I had said nothing. May 11 "H. S. P. W. S. Property Owner/" asserts that the North Carolina poplar (there is no such tree) is not a "cottonwood," or, to be exact, he said, "I consider it absolutely untrue."

L. H. Bailey, in his "Cyclopedia of American Horticulture," naming the various species of poplars, places the so-called Carolina as the fifth in his series, gives its botanical name as populus deltoides (or monilifera), and gives as its only common name that of "cottonwood." This is the only populus he calls cottonwood. He says it is only good "for temporary shelter," gives the place where planted "a look of cheapness," and that it is better to use them for temporary effects, allowing better trees to take their places.

Britton and Brown, in volume 1 of their "Illustrated Flora of the United States," give the same botanical name of the so-called Carolina poplar as is given by Bailey and give as its common or vulgar names "cottonwood" and "necklace poplar."

Gray in the seventh edition of his "New Manual of Botany" gives the common name of the Carolina poplar as "cottonwood" and "necklace poplar" and gives no other cottonwood.

Britton and Brown give as the ninth branch of the acers (maples) acer negundo as the proper name of the box elder and its common name as "ash leaved maple." Acer is the botanical (Latin) name for maple and is used for no other tree. Remember that.

Bailey calls it ash leaved maple and box elder and says it is much prized in the west, where "it withstands cold and dryness," and this makes it an admirable shade tree for the streets of Chicago!

Under date of May 12 "X." writes you from Red Oak, Ia., that there the "box elder grows gnarly." It is the fault of the conditions in and around Red Oak, for the wind blows there all the time and will distort the shape of any tree that is planted on the bleak wind swept naked prairie of western Iowa.

J. F. DE POISTER.

Humboldt, Ia., May 15.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—The North Carolina poplar is about second cousin to the cottonwood. It is a far handsomer tree than the cottonwood, grows vigorously, has a dense and handsome foliage and a clean body. So far as I have seen, no insect has come along to attack it. The box elder is one among the poorest trees grown. I have seen many under varying conditions and for many years, and they are about the last tree I suggest for any one to plant. They invariably grow crooked and scrawny and die young.

AN ANCIENT RAIN GAUGE.

The credit of inventing the rain gauge has always been given to Castelli, a contemporary of Galileo, who made one in 1639, but the director of the Corean meteorological observatory, Dr. Y. Wada, has shown that it is due to a Corean king. The latter, King Sejo, in the year 1442 caused an instrument of bronze to be constructed to measure the rain, and it is set out in the historical records of Corea that this was a vase fifteen inches deep and seven inches in diameter, placed upon a pillar. An example of this was placed in the observatory, and each time the rain fell the officials were instructed to measure the height and make it known to the king. Other instruments were distributed to the provinces and cantons, and the results of the observations made were sent to court.—Knowledge.

HYACINTHS CALLED POISONOUS.

Hyacinths have been banished from the public garden by City Forester D. Henry Sullivan because they are poisonous, and they are not to take part in the procession of the flowers which will give delight to the countless thousands who traverse the public garden paths this summer. Not a bulb of the variety was tucked for its winter sleep within the inclosure.

It has long been known that those who handle the bulbs have an affection of the hands which is very troublesome. And this is often communicated to the skin of the face. It is not a serious poison, but sufficient to give annoyance. It has been discovered that these bulbs also poison the soil and make it unfit for their successors of the later season, and for this reason they have been banished as far as the public grounds department of Boston is concerned.—Boston Transcript.

BY SAM WELLER.

There was another demonstration of modern baseball at Comiskey park yesterday afternoon, and the White Sox emerged victors after a wild and weird combat with those Boston Speed Boys. The score was 12 to 8, and each side batted out fifteen hits during the struggle, which lasted for two hours and twenty minutes.

The White Sox excelled in defense when there was a chance to knock down some of the drives. They also excelled in pitching, but Manager Duffy used three twirlers to win the game, calling upon Big Ed Walsh in the sixth inning, after Dr. White had been batted out and Scott seemed helpless to stop a vicious rally by the bean team. Boston, on the other hand, used only two, a youngster named Killilay, and the veteran Hall. Both were hit hard and both were wild, nine passes all told being issued to the home club. Even the summer heat which prevailed doesn't seem to produce any better pitching nor take any life out of that lively ball. The players reveled in the heat and ran the bases until their shirts were wet with perspiration. It seemed there was a base hit or a tally every minute and after the seventh inning was over, the Red Sox had lost hope and played to end the contest as quickly as possible.

Boston Away in Lead.

Boston started off boldly and after three rounds of old style baseball had been played they had a two runs' lead. But in the fourth the White Sox went on a stampede that continued to the end of the game, the climax being reached in the fifth, when they batted clear around, drove one pitcher from the slab, and five men home. With a five run lead it looked safe for Chicago and the sweltering crowd settled back in glee to watch the visitors' struggle.

It was almost a shock to see them start in on Doc White in the sixth and hammer him from the rubber. Then when Scott came in, he fared even worse and lasted only long enough to get one man out, when Ed Walsh was summoned from his state of convalescence to get the side out. Before Ed could recover from his illness and realize he was back in a game of ball, the ripping Red Sox had tied the score. Then Ed began to pitch and struck out the last man in the round. He was strong from then to the finish, though a three base hit at the start of the eighth gave the visitors one more tally.

Callahan Hero with Bat.

James J. Callahan was once more the batting king, getting four hits, all of them singles. He put in a couple of stolen bases, too, just to assure the fans that he was back in every sense of the word. Ping Bodie, our other fence buster, couldn't get mixed in the hitting much yesterday, his only safe one of the day being a fluke, for it was a bounder in front of the plate that the catcher didn't even throw, claiming it a foul ball. Ping was unfortunate, though, in coming up on two occasions when a bunt was in order, and Ping has no chance to break fences by bunting and has never acquired the habit.

It was the demure Mr. Tannehill, though, that made the hit that brought the fans to their feet. It came in the fifth inning climax, just after the young twirler, Killilay had been removed from the battleground sorely wounded. Hall took his place, the bases were filled, and only one man was out. Tannehill walked into a straight one and clouted, and it started high and far in the right center field direction. The three base runners ran half way to each succeeding base and stopped to see what would happen. Outfielder Riggert, who is subbing these days for the speedy Mr. Speaker, was after the fly with great leaps and bounds, but he couldn't get under it. As soon as it fell all three-base runners legged it for the plate and crossed in a bunch that could have been hidden under a bedspread. Tannehill pulled up at third base and died there when the next two men were put out. His three base hit, though, was the feature of the game.

Luck Deserts Doc White.

White seemed effective in his pitching, but had no luck, and when he got into a deep hole in the sixth he was taken out quickly. The two runs made by Boston at the start of the game seemed almost accidental. Two were out in the first inning when Riggert got his shin in the way of one of Doc's curves and limped to first base. Then Doc tried to catch him off the bag and was declared guilty of a balk, letting the runner go to second. Lewis, one of Boston's prominent sluggers, was next, and he slammed out a single that brought Riggert home. Engle died on a grounder, closing the round.

Two were out in the second when the Speed boys made another tally. Nunamaker poked to left field for a single and Pitcher Killilay landed one in right field close to the foul line for a double that scored Nunamaker from first base. Hooper fanned and ended that round.

In the fourth the luck turned and the Sox tied the count. Lord hit over second for a base and Callahan dropped one back of second for a single. Bodie was expected to bunt and bounded one in front of the plate, Catcher Nunamaker grabbing it just on the foul line. He didn't even throw and Bodie ran it out, the umpire calling it a fair ball. This filled the bases. Collins worried the pitcher and drew a pass, forcing Lord home. Tannehill tapped to the pitcher and Callahan was forced at the plate. Corhan singled over second, scoring Bodie, then Sullivan hit into a double play, ending the first rally.

Dentist Starts Big Rally.

In the fifth Doc White started the big stampede by walking to first. McIntyre singled to right, sending the dentist to third. Lord singled to the same spot, scoring White and putting Matty on second. Callahan dropped another single to right, scoring Matty, while Lord took second. Bodie tried to bunt and popped out to the pitcher. Collins got a short single to left, filling the bases, and Killilay was jerked from the slab, Hall taking his place. Then it was that Tannehill drove his three base swat to right center, scoring Lord, Callahan, and Collins. Corhan grounded out, Tanne staying at third, and Sullivan fanned, ending the inning.

Though five runs behind, the Red Sox came right back in the sixth and in a game and desperate fight again tied the score. Riggert, the first batter, fanned, but Lewis walked and Engle singled. Wagner drove one to the right wall for three bases, scoring Lewis and Engle. White was taken off the slab and Scott went in. Carrigan rapped a single over second, scoring Wagner, and Nunamaker hit safely to left field. Hall fanned, but Hooper singled to left, scoring Carrigan. That finished Scott and Walsh was called to the rescue. Gardner was up and hit one over second for a single, scoring Nunamaker and sending Hooper to third. This tied the score and also seemed to arouse the ire of Big Ed, who fanned Riggert and closed the rally.

The White Sox went ahead in their half of the same round and stayed in front thereafter. Walsh walked and McIntyre singled. Lord bunted and was safe when Carrigan dropped Engle's throw. Walsh scored on the mistake, Matty going to third. Callahan then made his third single, scoring Matty and putting Lord on third. Cal stole second and Bodie walked, but Collins fanned and Tannehill hit a low fly that Wagner captured in short left field, then doubled Cal off second.

Two more in the seventh, put the game on ice for the White Sox. With one out, Sullivan walked. Walsh singled. McIntyre forced Ed at second and Gardner threw wildly to first, trying for a double play. Sully scored on the error and Matty took second. He then stole third. Lord walked and Callahan made his fourth single, scoring Matty and sending Lord to third. Cal stole second, but Bodie let a third strike go by and ended things.

Nunamaker opened the eighth for Boston with a triple and scored when Hall grounded out. The next two died on grounders. Collins scored for Chicago in the eighth. He walked and went to second when Tannehill was passed. Corhan forced Tanne at second, Collins going to third. Sullivan fouled out, but Walsh singled, scoring Collins. Matty's fly ended the round. Boston failed to count in the ninth.

SAM WELLERISMS.

The White Sox tackle the Speed Boys again this afternoon.

Detroit hasn't gained any on us now for five days. They're still only nine games ahead.

Either Scott or Southpaw Jess Baker will be on the slab for Chicago. Wood probably will pitch for Boston.

Ed Walsh probably will be given credit for winning yesterday's game. The score was tied while he was working, then the Sox won out.

Tris Speaker was missed. He can go farther after a fly ball than any outfielder in the league. He has a bad ankle that may keep him out for two or three more days.

Perhaps the new paint on the center field wall helped the hitting. Comiskey has had a coat of dark green spread over the space opposite the batters' eyes.

There was a switch of umpires yesterday. Tommy Connolly and Jack Egan have replaced Perrine and Sheridan. The Boston boys claim this pair has been trailing them all season.

It seems shameful to ask Ping Bodie to bunt just because it's considered good baseball when men are on first and second with no one out. Why, a home run would score both of them and a bunt would only move them up one notch.

There may be a bit of good fortune attending the Sox in that they are fighting the strong eastern clubs while the latter are in a crippled condition. There's a general opinion though that the Sox are playing in good enough form now to beat any regular team.

Jim Johnson, the hustling outfield recruit of the White Sox, was shipped last night to Birmingham for another season in the prep school of the National game. With Callahan, Bodie, McIntyre, Dougherty, and Chouinard here, there wasn't a likelihood that the recruit would have caught one fly ball all summer.

The White Sox have made only two errors in the last five games, showing their defensive play may have something to do with the five straight victories. One of the errors was in the last Philadelphia game when Collins let a throw from Lange get through him. The other was in the third game of that series when a perfect throw to second by Sullivan hit Baker on the shoulder as he slid back to the bag and when the ball bounded away, Baker got to third. There hasn't been a wild throw or a fumble or a muff by the Sox in the entire winning streak.

SMITH ALMOST A SOX AGAIN; COMMY CONSENTS TO WAIVE.

Old Roman at First Refuses to Pass Up the Piano Mover, but Finally Lets Him Go to the Reds.

South side fans came within an ace, or queen, or something like that of watching Frank Smith in action again in a White Sox uniform. Only the generosity of President Comiskey allowed President Taylor of the Boston Red Sox to dispose of the services of the former iron man to Cincinnati.

The story leaked out yesterday and Mr. Comiskey last night verified the report that he had refused to waive on Smith, who went to Boston with Billy Purtell in exchange for McConnell and Lord. When the Boston magnate became convinced that he wanted nothing more of Smith on his team he used the usual method of finding out if any of the other clubs in his circuit wanted the piano mover. Every team was heard from with the exception of Chicago, and Mr. Taylor took it for granted that he was not wanted on the club from which he came. With this in mind he went ahead and closed the deal with Cincinnati.

When President Comiskey returned from New York last Saturday morning he found the request for waiver on the former Sox and immediately wired "nix." Then Mr. Taylor kept the wires hot, and finally after several appeals the Old Roman consented to waive. President Comiskey said he believed there still was lots of good pitching in Smith.

Only one contest was played in the Cook County High School Baseball league yesterday, Hyde Park dropping Bowen High from the four team tie for first place in the major section. Four contests were scheduled in the minor division, but three of these were forfeited, while the fourth was postponed.

McKinley failed to put in an appearance for its game with University High, North Division could not gather nine players to meet Medill, while Marshall was short three men when the umpire called for the opening of the game against Englewood. The Oak Park-Austin clash was postponed to Decoration day, when the game will be played at Phipps' field.

Hyde Park won from Bowen at Jackson park, 6 to 3, by hard, consistent hitting, only one of the South Chicagoans' errors aiding Hyde Park in the runmaking. Ufer sewed up the contest in the sixth inning when he whaled a triple to left field with two on the bases. Miller pitched one of his best games of the year, allowing the Bowenites only four hits and striking out fifteen. The losers secured all three runs on battery miscues. Score:

BY I. E. SANBORN.

Philadelphia, Pa., May 18.—[Special.]—Those rag tag Cubs, led by a big bear who ought to have been in bed, wrestled the first game away from the full chested Phillies today by a score of 11 to 2.

This surprise in addition to the way the Cubs whanged away and drove Earl Moore to the woods after he had been carefully groomed for the occasion caused so much pique in the camp of Dooin that the Daisies exploded in a kick fest in the eighth inning. Before the fest was over Jack Doyle had chased three men off the lot in the highest of dudgeon.

Mordecai Brown who had not been saved for the game, but was tossed in nonchalantly kept the gloating leaders crossed most of the afternoon. It was five innings before they could get a hit, and only six were made the rest of the way. It would have been a shutout for Mordecai but for two scratches. One run scored on a wild pitch of unusual origin, and the other on a hit which bounded over Chance's head when he was set to eat it up.

Bed Place for Chance.

Chance was suffering with a raging headache in addition to his cold, but he refused to send his warriors into the crucial series leaderless and with a kid infield throughout. Without belittling the P. L.'s grit by unseemly levity, it might be remarked that the Phillies hope Chance does not get any sicker before tomorrow.

The first time up today he slammed a home run into the bleachers on the fly, the next time he missed right field fence by a couple of feet only. Then for a couple of trips he was passed winding up his sickly performance with a single.

Every one on the visiting team made up for the recent famine in base hits with the exception of Brownie. Schulte landed three safes ones, including a triple; Archer ripped a home run into the left field bleachers on the bound, and Sheckard poled a mighty fly over the right field screen. Altogether it was an extremely joyous afternoon and when it was over the champions had fourteen clean swats for a total of twenty-eight bases. Much swatting at least.

Moore Lasts Four Innings.

Earl Moore lasted only four innings, during which the Cubs trimmed him for more hits than Earl could stand for. He was succeeded by Shultz, the University of Pennsylvania prodigy, who fared pretty well until the eighth and ninth innings, when Chance and his men gave him something to think of overnight.

If there was any signal tipping bureau working the Cubs were getting the signals and the Phillies were not. No indications of wig-wag or buzzer were discovered by watchful scouts assigned to keep the lookout on account of rumors sown and spread by Manager Griffith and his Red gang while here.

Not to take unnecessary chances the Cubs worked out a system of signals which would give any wig-wag artist delerium tremens trying to guess them. If there is anything doing here the new system was successful, for the Phillies never came near starting a batting rally.

It resulted in one run for the locals, however, when Brown crossed wires and pitched a fast one to Archer, who was expecting a curve, and let in a run in the sixth inning.

Moore started like a winner by striking out Sheckard, but Schulte caught one he liked and knocked a corner off one of the bricks in the wall, good for three bases and a run when Hofman was thrown out at first on a nasty bounder to Doolan. Chance followed with a slam forty feet over the bleacher barrier into the crowd. Doyle doubled to right, but was left when Shean whiffed.

Angry Cubs Break Chains.

Moore kept the Cubs chained to a pole for two innings, then they got after him again in the fourth. Doyle was bruised by a curve. Shean could not bunt so whaled a double against the right field wall on which Doyle made third. Zimmerman pulled a screamer through left center for two bases and two runs scored. Zimmy was caught and run to death on Archer's bunt and shortly after the side was retired.

Schultz was drafted into the fray in the fifth and started by passing Hofman and Chance. Doyle advanced them by suicide methods and Hofman scored on Shean's demise on a grounder. Up to this time the Phillies had not made a hit off Brown and only one of them had reached first, a boot by Shean giving Paskert a short life on the path. In the last of the fifth with two out Luderus combed a single to right center. He tried to stretch it into a double and Hofman threw him out.

Archer's home run started the sixth inning, but Schultz let no one else score in that session.

In their sixth the Phillies made their first tally. Doolan opened with a single, went around to third while two were being retired, and scored on a crossed wire wild pitch. In the seventh with two out Paskert pasted a double to left and scored when Luderus' grounder bounded high over Chance's head.

Bears Keep Up Onslaught.

With the score only 6 to 2, the Cubs were taking no chances with a lively ball, so opened up on Schultz in the eighth. Singles by Sheckard, Schulte, and Chance, and a pass to Hofman scored two runs after two men were out.

In the ninth Shean and Zimmy singled and Archer was hit, filling the bases with no one out. A double play on Archer and Brown let Shean home and Sheckard lifted his home run over the tall screen for the other two tallies off Dooin.

The play which started the kickfest came up in the Cub eighth. Apparently Umpire Doyle missed a fast play to catch Schulte off first base. First Doolan was ordered to the clubhouse by Doyle, then Magee sauntered in from left and kicked himself out of it, too. Walsh went to short and Welchonce to left. A couple of the Cubs came to bat and then Knabe opened the old kick about Schulte and he was ordered to the woods, bringing in another recruit named Lehr.

With the whole home team upset, Brown had no difficulty in holding them in the last two innings. Score:

CUB SYDELIGHTS.

Manager Chance refused to be advised to stay in bed or on the bench, but may be willing to rest tomorrow unless he is better, as Tinker will be eligible again and that will mean one veteran on the infield.

The crowd was smaller than it would have been but for a heavy thunder shower just after noon, which made the going a bit heavy and increased the humidity to such an extent that the already steaming atmosphere was almost unbearable.

Archer had an unlucky day. He was hurt in a close play at second base in the fourth inning, then a fast ball caught him on the hand while at bat in the ninth inning, and just before that a wild pitch hit him in the arm while he was catching.

Pitcher Griffin probably will be let go to the Atlanta club of the Southern league, from which he was obtained last fall. The addition of Richter to the staff, in exchange for Pfiester, gives the Cub boss as large a pitching staff as he thinks he needs without Griffin.

Zimmerman made the swell play of the day when he robbed Schultz of a base hit in the eighth inning by a great one-handed stop while on the full run. He would have performed the same holdup act on Titus in the sixth inning, but slipped and fell just as he grabbed the hit. He could not recover in time to get his man.

The blow which Chance got on the head from one of Suggs' curves a couple of weeks ago is bothering him now and is the cause of his severe headache, he thinks. The P. L. says the left side of his head feels as if it were stuffed with sawdust. It is surmised that some ball players' heads are all stuffed that way, but not Chance's. We will fight on that.

The play which caused all the exodus of Phillies was a good one. Sheckard was on first when Schulte singled into right. Sheckard went to third and Titus whipped the ball to second. Schulte rounded first toward second, thinking the play was over, but Doolan relayed the ball like a shot to Luderus and it looked as if Fred had Schulte by a narrow squeak. Doyle said no, and the powder mill blew up.

President Fogel was speechless with indignation over the treatment his league leaders received by the Cubs and by Umpire Doyle. After the game he announced he would get out an injunction tomorrow restraining Klem or Doyle from entering the ball park again, and, what is funnier, he was serious about it. If that does not prove successful perhaps Horace will get out an injunction restraining the Cubs from entering the yard again, thereby winning the rest of the games by forfeit.

Mike Donlin is trying to engineer a trade between Chicago and New York by which he and Ames can be traded to the Cubs in exchange for Reulbach. Manager Chance says he is willing to consider the proposition if McGraw is. The deal would give the Cubs in Ames a pitcher who would win about as many games in a season as Reulbach, but would scatter them through the season instead of getting them in a bunch somewhere. In addition Donlin would be a handy man to have around in a pinch, although he could not displace any of the regular gardeners, of course.

REFUSES INJUNCTION AGAINST PRESIDENT OF BOSTON CLUB.

Court Holds Contract Illegal in Part and Restrains Russell from Selling Page's Option Stock.

Boston, Mass., May 18.—In the controversy between President William Hepburn Russell and Vice President Page of the Boston National league baseball club Judge Pierce today found that Page was not entitled to an injunction restraining Russell from voting his stock in the club to amend the bylaws.

Mr. Page charged that President Russell intended to increase the directorate from four to five members, and maintained that this violated a contract he had with Russell for the purchase of part of Russell's stock. Page already had paid $25,000 for a quarter of Russell's 765 shares of stock, and claimed to hold an option on a quarter more.

In sustaining a demurrer by President Russell Judge Pierce ruled that the contract was illegal in part, but found at the same time that it restrains Russell from disposing of stock on which Page had an option to purchase.

Decatur, Ill., May 18.—[Special.]—After poor base running and errors had allowed Milliken a three run lead, Lake Forest went to the front in today's game and won, 12 to 3. Wills blew up in the seventh inning and five runs crossed the plate.

FINAL JOLT FOR FIGHT BILL

HOPES OF BOXING FANS DEAD.

Five Missing Votes Are Fatal to Reconsideration Motion.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Springfield, Ill., May 18.—[Special.]—The last blow was struck at the Carroll six-round boxing bill this afternoon. A second effort was made to get it up for consideration on second reading in the house, but under the Adkins two-thirds rule it went to pot.

Representative McNichols made the motion today to have the rules suspended for the purpose of consideration and 73 yeas were recorded for the motion. This was within four votes of enough to pass the bill, had it been on its passage. There were 45 votes cast against the immediate consideration proposal. This made 78 votes, or two-thirds of the votes necessary to get it out where action could be taken. These five missing votes killed the bill, and the legalized boxing game is a dead one so far as this session of the legislature is concerned.

Senator Carroll and the representatives who fought for the bill in the house are confident that if the bill had come along in the usual course it stood a good chance of enactment.

Lang Matched with Lester.

SYDNEY, Australia, May 18.—Jack Lester, the Cleelum, Wash., heavyweight, and Bill Lang, the Australian pugilist, were matched today for a return fight to be staged June 3. In their bout last Saturday Lester was disqualified for going to his knees without being hit.

NEW AMSTERDAM WHIST CLUB WINS CUP FOR FOURTH TIME.

New Yorkers Take Washington Trophy as Emblem of the Championship of Big Woman's League.

Baltimore, Md., May 18.—For the fourth time the Washington trophy, which carries with it the emblem of the championship of the Woman's Whist league, was won today by the New Amsterdam club of New York at the fourteenth congress of the league here. The Cavendish trophy was won by the Women's club of Indianapolis, and the Howell Woman's Whist club of Boston captured the Omaha cup.

The Boston trophy went to the New Amsterdam club of New York, and the New Rochelle Whist club, which contested for it in combination. Mrs. C. S. Waterhouse of New York gained permanent possession of the St. Louis trophy by winning it for the third time.

GARY OUTPOINTS DANNY GOODMAN

FIGHTER'S JAW BROKEN.

BY ALT H. ECKERSALL.

Hammond, Ind., May 18.—[Special.]—In a ten round bout featured by clean hitting and clever blocking Tommy Gary of Chicago Heights shaded Danny Goodman of Chicago tonight in a ten round bout before the Hammond A. C. Gary's advantage was not decisive, but he earned the decision by his willingness to mix matters at all times.

Goodman was in better shape than he has been for a long time and he put up a creditable exhibition.

The Yiddish battler depended upon right swings for victory which Gary had little or no trouble in avoiding. Danny landed a few times, but the blows lacked the force to have any affect on the Chicago Heights boxer, who used his left and crossed his right to good advantage at all times.

Tim O'Neil and Phil Schlossberg, the navy champion, tonight were matched to fight ten rounds here on Decoration day.

In the first preliminary Artie Stewart of West Hammond was given the decision over Lew Messe of Chicago at the end of the third round. Stewart broke the Chicagoan's jaw in the first session and Messe's seconds through up the sponge. Messe showed great gameness in finishing the two sessions in a crippled condition. Freddie Andrews of Milwaukee shaded Morris Kroake in a collar and necktie bout in the semi-windup which went six rounds. Both boxers held on and rested about the ring in uninteresting fashion.

RAYCROFT GOES TO TIGERS; DEAN FINE CONFIRMS REPORT

Former Maroon Basketball Coach Will Head New and Important Branch of Princeton's Physical Department.

Princeton, N. J., May 18.—[Special.]—Dr. Joseph E. Raycroft of Chicago will head the new department of physical education at Princeton university, according to an official statement given out by Dean Henry B. Fine today. The nearest approach to the position to which Prof. Raycroft has been called was that of the directorship of the gymnasium, which has recently been made vacant by the resignation of George Goldie.

BLOOM AND "SPIKE" KELLY MEET IN RING TONIGHT.

Welterweights to Clash for the Second Time at Niles, Mich., Their First Bout Resulting in a Draw.

Morris Bloom and "Spike" Kelly, local welterweights, are ready for their ten round go at Niles, Mich., tonight. The boxers finished training yesterday and will leave for the scene of battle today, accompanied by a retinue of trainers. The men fought a slashing ten round go recently, and it is their eagerness to settle superiority that has led to their being rematched. They will meet at catchweights.

Message and Krone, the newly appointed matchmakers of the Kenosha A. C., have selected George ["Knockout"] Brown and Tony Caponi as the principals in the windup of the show to be held in Kenosha on May 29. Several other good bouts will be staged. Jack Dillon will not meet Caponi at Winnipeg on May 24, owing to injured hands.

Jack Roberts, one of the local lightweights, will meet Ray Temple in the semi-windup to the Jimmy Clabby-Jack Gibbons fight to be held in Milwaukee on May 26. Jack is working out every day at O'Connell's.

Jeff O'Connell, the coast featherweight, has been taken under the management of Message and Krone, who will match him with some good boxer at the Kenosha show on May 28.

In all probability "Knockout" Brown and Jimmy Clabby will meet in a ten round go at Hammond early next month. The managers of the fighters have agreed on everything but the date, which will be settled within a few days. Brown will start training at O'Connell's on Monday.

"Spike" Kelly, who is under the management of Fred Gilmore, has been matched to meet Frank Kenny at Dayton, O., on June 7. The fighters will box fifteen rounds, the weight to be 142 pounds at 3 o'clock.

Johnny Coulon, who is to meet Tommy Daly on May 25 during the Elks' convention at Fort Wayne, Ind., over the ten round route is getting into condition rapidly at his Logan Square gymnasium. Johnny is anxious to have some of the local bantams and featherweights come out to his place and spar with him.

Eddie ["Mickey"] Sheridan, the local jockey lightweight, took a hard workout yesterday in preparation for his ten round encounter with "Chuck" Larson at Gary on May 24. Besides doing a lot of gymnasium work "Mickey" boxed three fast rounds with Eddie Higgins. The little Irishman is improving every time he boxes.

Larson also put in a lively day at O'Connell's by skipping the rope, punching the bag and doing other exercise. He finished his workout with a rattling three round session with Tim O'Niel.

Jack White has finished training for his fifteen round bout with Eddie Dennis at St. Joe, Mo., on Monday night. Jack is bent on retrieving the laurels which he lost to Joe Mandot at Memphis recently and if hard training will bring about the desired results Jack should bring home the bacon. White and his manager, Fred Gilmore, will leave for the "show me" town tomorrow night.

Johnny Duggan, one of the local lightweights who went west in quest of matches, writes from Kansas City that he has been matched to meet Tommy Dixon at Excelsior Springs on May 25 over the fifteen round route. Johnny also stated he has had three fights in Oklahoma and won two of them, the other being a draw. Duggan expects to return to Chicago after the Dixon affair.

Coulon Not to Fight Burns.

New Haven, Conn., May 18.—Announcement was made today that the bout between Frankie Burns of Jersey City and Johnny Coulon of Kenosha, Wis., which was to have been held in this city on May 29, has been canceled.

Badgers Go to Champaign.

The University of Wisconsin track team in charge of Manager P. F. Kelley passed through Chicago last night en route for Champaign, where the Badgers hook up with the Illini in a dual meet today. The Badgers are optimistic and expect to take the meet by a small margin. Manager Kelley said that Sanders will be shifted from the quarter mile run to the 220 dash, and that Richards will run the quarter. These are the only changes in the Badger front. A number of rooters accompanied the team.

More Money Will Be Awarded in Prizes as Result of Contest Board Decision.

BY JOHN G. DE LONG.

Deciding it is capable of standing alone the Chicago Motor club, through its contest board, yesterday notified the American Automobile association that the Algonquin hill climb of June 8 will be run by the local organization as an independent affair and not as a national circuit meeting as previously announced.

The fixture will, of course, be conducted under A. A. A. auspices. The decision to run it without aid from the national body merely means that the Motor club will hustle for its own entries instead of depending upon the circuit for them and that local officials will be in charge instead of those furnished by the national body. Previous Algonquin hill climbs have been so successful that Contest Board Chairman Charles E. Gregory and his associates do not anticipate any difficulty in securing a big entry list.

One strong reason advanced for running the climb independently is that the money required for a place on the circuit might better be expended in providing prize money to attract some of the star drivers and big cars that will take part in the big Indianapolis speedway race on Decoration day. As matters stand now the Elgin stock chassis races to be conducted by the Motor club on Aug. 25-26 will be the only national event on the schedule of the organization.

Now that the last signature has been secured to the document giving the consent of the property owners to the running of the Elgin races, arrangements for the meeting are rapidly going forward. General Manager Fred Jencks of the Elgin Road Race association was in communication with Chairman Gregory during yesterday's meeting of the contest committee. Mr. Jencks reported good progress in the work of improving the racing circuit and also in the efforts to bring about the oiling of the road between here and Elgin.

The Chicago Motor club is coöperating with the Elgin people in the oiling movement and on Sunday members of the contest board will drive to Elgin for the purpose of inspecting the race course. On the way out they will stop at several places and ascertain what assistance the various townships will give toward having the road oiled.

IN THE WAKE OF THE NEWS.

BY HEK.

COMPARATIVE MISERY.

(Being a bit of consolation for "D. W. A.," who spieled us a jingle yesterday on "Tyrannous Convention." Nobody looking.)

Writhe not because of the tyranny of taste,
Compels you to eschew the airy lid,
Till May is from the calendar erased
And leafy June into her own has slid.
The felt abomination that you tote,
What time with straw your manly form you'd crown,
If comfort voted wouldn't get a vote,
Or if it had a voice would cry it down.

But think not your concession to the mode
Is one per cent of that of her who must Wear on her bean a melancholy load
Of phony wool, meet gatherer of dust—
Of her who must stack up her baking sconce
With rats and puffs and waves and other truck.
If you your sister's job you'd tackle once

What's the use? Man on elevated train, reading paragraph treating of "problem of conduct" involved in the disposal of empty pop bottles when there is no occasion to throw them at the umpire. He reads it over again and then, knitting his brows and squaring for an argument, says: "Now, I think the practice of throwing bottles at the umpire is one that cannot be too emphatically condemned, and I don't think the papers should make light of it in this way."

As we said before, what's the use?

Here's the scenario of a "funny crack" upon which some mad wag in the boxes—it's rather subtle—might build him a reputation: Doc White is pitching to B. Sullivan. There are two on, none out, and a dangerous customer up. Sullivan doffs his mask and motions White to meet him half way for a consultation. They stand there with their heads together for a measurable length of time. All is still. Then this from the wag in a clear and distinct voice: "Do you advise an operation, doctor?"

Taking it in all its bearings and suggestions, Bitterfield is not a half-bad name for an aviation field.

We are reminded in a note of a bright remark that was dropped from a great height when this same Luderus, who is playing such sparkling ball, was separated from the Cubs. "Luderus," quoth the ownership dryly, "looks more ludicrous than Luderus to me." This delicious mot was received with prodigious lawfter by the scribes and once threatened to become classic.

One of the most striking examples of mutual admiration that has ever lit within range is that of Jimmy Callahan for Frank Fogarty as a comedian and of Frank Fogarty for Jimmy Callahan as a ball player. Positively beautiful.

Now, if the Sox had back that game they foolishly tossed to St. Louis, two games games out of which they allowed Ty Cobb to buffalo them, and one they had no excuse to lose to Cleveland, Detroit wouldn't look so lonesome out there in front. But in the same line of reasoning if T. Roosevelt was a lady he'd be a suffragist and if your aunt was your uncle she wouldn't make such exquisite embroidery.

O, wad some pow'r the giftie'd gie us
To make one game as much as three is.
'Twad save us many a blasted hope
And much explaining.

Like "the scorching comeback that we compose next day," we wish we had the Tigers with us now.

"These cannot be the same Athletics that slaughtered the Cubs last fall."—Current observation. Perhaps not, perhaps not. These seem to be the same Cubs, however.

The cork filled ball also has increased the costliness and significance of errors. Or are we right about that?

We call upon you to bear witness that the Carroll boxing bill in its inspiration, effect on "public sentiment," and final resting place didn't have us fooled for a second.

REALLY, DON'T YOU KNOW? 'STRORDINARY!

Chicago, May 17.—Dear Sir: I inclose clipping of Mr. Sanborn's baseball story of yesterday with sentence marked. [Sentence marked: "Barger hit a bounder which hurdled Shean by a squak, although Dave jumped in the air for it."] I think I can visualize the play all right, but I don't quite get that word "squak." What's a "squak"?
G. A. L.

E. R. K., possibly emboldened by not receiving a call on the enunciation of his belief that not one baseball fan in fifty can keep an intelligent score, makes it stronger by declaring that to his notion not one baseball fan in one hundred can differentiate between a hit and an error unless either sticks out so far and so distinctly that you can hang your hat on it. Perhaps he is right, but, whether he is or not, no crime has been committed.

Dr. Joseph E. Raycroft, associate professor of physical culture at the University of Chicago, when approached on the subject of his reported elevation to the chair of applied muscularity at Princeton, refused to make any statement. O, very well

Frank Adams of the New York Mail, who is sui generis in New York fandom, it being that he is fond of the Cubs, suggests this revise on what he's pleased to regard as our "masterpiece." "Buthehelofitistheyaintpitchin." Andthehelofthatisitsnodream.

Fall in Aeroplane Kills Two Persons.

RHEIMS, France, May 18.—A monoplane carrying Lieut. Paul Dupuis and Pierre Marie Bournique fell from a height of about 250 feet today. Dupuis was killed and his companion, who was injured seriously, died shortly after the fatal plunge. The machine was capsized by a squall and burst into flames the instant it struck the ground. The body of the lieutenant was burned beyond recognition. Bournique's arms were fractured and his legs badly burned. Bournique held a record of 331 miles in 6:29:00.

MISS CAMPBELL IN FINAL FOUR.

American Title Holder Gains Medalist Position in British Championship by Beating Miss Suttie.

PORTRUSH, Ireland, May 18.—Miss Dorothy Campbell, the American and Canadian champion, became a semi-finalist in the British Woman's golf championship today by defeating Miss E. Grant Suttie, the titleholder, who is a member of the Sunningdale club, 2 and 1, in the fifth round.

In the fourth round Miss Campbell defeated Mrs. G. M. Martin of Tavistock, Devonshire, 7 and 5, playing brilliant golf. Mrs. Martin, who is a former New Yorker, met Miss Campbell in the final of the American championship at Chicago last October, losing 2 and 1.

Miss V. Pooley of Victoria, B. C., was beaten in the fourth round by Miss Bertha Thompson of Beverly and West Riding, who won 1 up.

ADOPT H. S. TENNIS SCHEDULE

Girls' League Opens on May 29 with Eight Contests.

BOYS TO START THURSDAY.

Three Highest Teams to Qualify for Semi-Final Series in June.

BY KEENE GARDINER.

Preliminary schedules for the Cook County High school girls' and boys' tennis leagues were drawn yesterday afternoon when the managers met in the board of education rooms. It was decided that the winning of two of three sets will determine the victor of a series. The two leading teams in each section will meet in the finals for the girls' title. In the boys' league the three highest teams will qualify for the semi-finals. Singles and doubles will be played in both leagues.

F. J. Gerlich, faculty member of the board of control from North Division, who has charge of the girls' league, lodged a complaint saying that he encountered considerable trouble with the young women because they failed to play according to schedule, and feared he would have the same trouble this season.

Gerlich Has His Troubles.

"The girls did not seem to realize the meaning of the word forfeit," said Mr. Gerlich, "which, according to the rules, follows a failure to be present when a game is called. I am hopeful of seeing a change this year."

Following is the girls' schedule:

WEST SECTION.

June 5—Oak Park at Austin; McKinley at La Grange.

June 5—Hyde Park at Lake View; Waller at Englewood.

Schedule for Boys' League.

SOUTH SECTION.

May 29—Englewood at University High; Hyde Park at Bowen.
June 1—Englewood at Hyde Park; University High at Lake.
June 5—Lake at Bowen; University High at Hyde Park.
June 8—Bowen at University High; Lake at Englewood.

May 25—Marshall at Austin; La Grange at Oak Park.
June 1—Austin at La Grange; Crane at Oak Park.
June 5—Oak Park at Marshall; Crane at La Grange.

BRITISH GOLFERS RESPECT EVANS

REPUTATION IS DESERVED

BY J. G. DAVIS.

While nothing has been heard of Charles Evans Jr., the western open golf champion, since his arrival on British soil it is presumed he is now at the Prestwick course getting ready for the British amateur championship, which will start on May 29.

The performances of the Edgewater boy on this side of the water, notably his victory at Beverly last year over such strong players as Jim Donaldson of Glen View and George Simpson of La Grange, a former amateur champion of Scotland, both of whom he defeated in his passage to the western open championship title, have given him quite a reputation in Great Britain. Added to this was the testimony of the several local professionals who spent last winter in Scotland.

"Country Life" on Evans.

The coming of Evans has stirred the British golfing world, and in the current number of Country Life, copies of which arrived here yesterday, Horace Hutchinson, the veteran critic, has this to say:

"There is reason to think that when the battle is set in array at Prestwick for the amateur championship there will be a stronger body of warriors in that field than has ever appeared in it before. We do not know how many of our native dark horses there may be in their stables, like Mr. Aylmer and Mr. Mitchell last year, to make a gallant charge into the veteran ranks, but we do know something about those who are coming from over the sea. Of Michael Scott and of Mr. Pearce, both of whom have won both open and amateur championships of Australia, and we do know something of Charles Evans and Fred Herreshoff, who are coming from the United States.

"I know Herreshoff's golf personally, and it is good and strong; but I also know this: that when I was in America, just before their amateur championship a man who was a competent judge backed Evans at evens against any other three to win outright. One of the three chosen was Herreshoff, and if the chance of Evans singly was really equal to the united chances of three Herreshoffs then it is not clear to me whom we have here that is to beat him. Of course, I am not implying that I think he will win the amateur championship. One would not expect that in such a field of any one man, even if his name were James Braid, but I do think, from what I have gathered about his game, that the chances will be in Evans' favor in every individual match that he plays, no matter whom it is against."

Since Mr. Hutchinson penned his article Herreshoff has decided not to make the trip, but P. W. Whittemore, one of the strongest players in the Boston district, has gone across the pond to have a shy at the title.

Chicago Golf Club Schedule.

The program of events for the spring invitation tournament of the Chicago Golf club to be held May 26 and 27 was issued yesterday by Walter J. Feron, chairman of the sports and pastimes committee. The tournament is limited to players of thirty years of age and over, each member being allowed to invite one guest.

On the opening day there will be a medal play handicap with prizes for first and second net scores and a prize for the member and guest making the best combined total on the eighth, ninth, tenth, and eleventh holes.

On Saturday thirty-six holes will be played, prizes being given for the best choice eighteen holes, for the best gross score and net scores at thirty-six holes, and for the best morning and afternoon rounds and for the best combined totals at certain holes.

Albert Martin, chairman of the sports and pastimes committee of the Hinsdale Golf club, issued the May and June schedule of events. Play will start tomorrow with a stroke handicap competition. Other events are carded as follows: May 27, choice score event nine holes from eighteen; May 30, qualifying round Butler cup, sixteen to qualify; mixed foursome in afternoon; June 3, first round Butler cup; June 10, second round Butler cup; June 17, third round Butler cup; June 27, fourth round Butler cup.

Hyde Park High school and New Trier High school are billed to play this afternoon in the western interscholastic championship series.

YALE CREW LEAVES FOR RACE.

New Haven, Conn., May 18.—The Yale varsity crew left tonight for Princeton, where it will meet Cornell and Princeton on Carnegie lake Saturday. Owing to the poor showing against Pennsylvania last Saturday, the crew has been changed twice this week and better results are expected. The race will be the first that the three colleges have taken part in together.

BAD FIRE AT MONCRIEF PARK.

Jacksonville, Fla., May 18.—Fire believed to have started in the restaurant department today completely destroyed the grand stand and paddock at Moncrief park. The loss is estimated at $35,000, partly insured. Owing to recent legislation against racing in this state it is believed the stands will not be rebuilt.

GRAVEYARD RACETRACK SITE.

Found to Be the Most Suitable Place for New Turf Course and Will Be Converted.

Salt Lake City, Utah, May 18.—[Special.]—A historic graveyard which furnished the most suitable place for the new quarter million dollar racetrack has been purchased by Montana and California capitalists. The course leads over about fifteen graves of early Utah pioneers, including the father and brother of Lott Smith, the famous Mormon Danite.

AT THE BILLIARD ROOMS.

Goldbeck [95] defeated Raymond [105], 95 to 84, in the 18-2 tournament at Sutton's. Effler and Jones will play tonight.

Lauben and Andrews [48] defeated Alexander and Mace [40], 43 to 37, in the three cushion tournament at Mussey's. Cone and Noble will play Snyder and White tonight.

Kopp [35] defeated Jacobs [30], 35 to 27, in the three cushion tournament at the Romeo. Scholl defeated Henning, 150 to 135, in the second block of their pool match, the former now leading, 285 to 272. The last block will be played tonight.

ROOT AIMS BLOW AT RECIPROCITY

WOULD MEAN ITS DEATH.

Proposal if Adopted Opens Door to Big Flood of Changes in Clauses.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., May 18.—[Special.]—The door may be opened to amendment of the Canadian reciprocity agreement by the senate finance committee as the result of a proposal made by Senator Root today.

If the Root suggestion be adopted, as is probable, other senators will insist upon modifications. In this way the death of the legislation will be accomplished.

The Root amendment adds to the paper and pulp section of the bill the following:

"And when the president of the United States shall have sufficient evidence and shall make proclamation that such wood pulp and paper board, being the product of the United States, are admitted into Canada free of duty."

Requires All Provinces to Act.

The effect of this amendment will be to require every province in Canada to remove all restrictions upon trade in these articles before the reciprocal trade agreement will be effective.

Mr. Root informed the committee the essence of the agreement was reciprocity, but this did not seem to be accomplished by the agreement as it stands.

"The ultimate end to reach," he said, "is free admission of paper and wood pulp on both sides. We agree it will take place when they remove certain restrictions and they agree it will be when we make it free here and that will be when these restrictions are removed."

Mr. Lodge interpreted the agreement to mean that paper and pulp might come in free from all provinces which impose any restrictions.

"We cannot deal with Canadian provinces," he said. "We must deal with Canada as a whole."

Opens Door to Amendment Flood.

The Root amendment is important for the paper interests, but the seriousness of it lies in the fact it will afford a basis for the claims of other senators that they be given the same right to amend as the New York representative.

Mr. Cummins of Iowa has a number of amendments which he intends to offer. So have other senators. The situation of the agreement is bad enough as it stands, but if it be loaded down as its enemies desire, undoubtedly it will be effectually killed.

EIGHT SEEK NEW CANAL JOB.

Bids for the excavation and construction of section three of the Calumet-Sag canal were received and read at a meeting of the board of trustees of the sanitary district yesterday afternoon. The firms seeking the work were S. R. H. Robinson and Son Contracting company, St. Louis, Mo.; Robert Grace Contracting company, Cleveland, O.; John M. McCaughey, Chicago; National Contracting company, Chicago; Marquette Construction company, Chicago; Schnable & Quinn, Chicago; Foley & Gleason company, Aitken, Minn., and John Marsch, Chicago.

CHICAGO LIVE STOCK MARKET.

Hog market at Chicago yesterday closed at the bottom, showing a loss of 10@15c for the day. The average price, at $6.04, was the lowest of the week, 10c off from the preceding day's, and 4c lower than that of a week ago. The top price was $6.20, against $6.35 Wednesday. Packers were good buyers at the decline, but eastern shipping support was lacking and light weight hogs suffered more loss than any other class.

Lambs sold at higher prices than at any previous time since last October, topping at $7.10 for woolskins and $6.60 for clippers, and showing net gains of 10@25c for the day. Sheep made steady to firm prices, with tops 5c higher at $4.80. Cattle trade had a quiet undertone, but choice quality, handy weight steers sold at a slight advance, with tops at $6.25.

PEER WARS ON RECIPROCITY

Baron Lucas Explains United Kingdom Is Powerless.

LONDON, May 18.—The government was sharply criticised by the Earl of Selborne in the house of lords this evening for "extraordinary supineness" in failing to safeguard the interests of the United Kingdom in the American-Canadian reciprocity agreement.

The earl referred to President Taft's "remarkable speech" and declared that when Mr. Taft said annexation talk was bosh all accepted the president's word; nevertheless the agreement formed a precedent capable of large extensions.

It was the first time in the history of the empire that one part had obtained better terms from a foreign country than had the United Kingdom, and the step between receiving and giving better terms was a short one.

Baron Lucas Replies to Earl.

Baron Lucas, parliamentary undersecretary to the war office, replying for the government, said the Earl of Selborne greatly overestimated the damage to the trade of the United Kingdom and the difficulties that might arise from the reciprocity agreement.

War Secretary Haldane, who recently was elevated to the peerage, said it was the policy of the government to give the people of Canada every facility to do the best they could for themselves.

NEW YORKERS IN OFFER TO DIG AND RUN SUBWAY.

Capitalists Incorporate to Finance Chicago Project—Men Back of Scheme to Be Named Later.

In the face of the new administration's adoption of the policy of municipally constructed and operated subways, an offer of private capital for this enterprise will be made to the city council Monday evening.

An announcement to this effect was made yesterday by William Schuyler Jackson, former attorney general of New York, who appeared as one of the incorporators of the Chicago Municipal Subway company, which obtained its state license during the day.

Shirlaw D. Gookins, an employé of the public works department and son of James S. Gookins, one of the first men to design a subway for Chicago, is another incorporator, and other names that appeared in the records were those of Birdsey D. Jackson, Buffalo, N. Y., and Charles M. Harlan, a Chicago attorney.

"The organization, of course, is only preliminary," said Mr. Jackson, "and the paid in capital now amounts to only $25,000; but when we go before the council Monday evening we will be prepared to demonstrate our financial responsibility. The men who will furnish the capital are New York men, but I shall not make their names public until after Monday. We are willing to build or build and operate the subway."

Apricots Few and High—Fruit Scarcity Leads Both Buyers and Growers to Wait Future Developments.

Reports from the coast indicate that there has been an active demand for spot dried peaches for immediate shipment, particularly from Europe, but assortments are badly broken. Spot peaches are in unusually small compass both in the Chicago and eastern markets and little business is being done at the high prices asked. Future peaches are unsettled, with a firm undertone as a result of the strong views of the growers.

Dried apricots are scarce for immediate shipment and are held too high to suit most buyers. On futures few packers are making firm quotations when they quote at all and these are so extreme as to discourage buying to a considerable degree.

Jobbing demand for flour is irregular, largely owing to the uncertainties of the wheat market. These same conditions caused some of the mills to hold less rigidly to their quoted prices in order to attract trade, but even this inducement did not start any activity.

Coffee.

NEW YORK, May 18.—The market for coffee futures opened steady at an advance of four points. The close was steady at a net advance of 2@10 points. Sales, 44,000 bags. May and June, $10.60; July, $10.64; August, $10.50; September, $10.40; October, $10.22; November, $10.18; December and January, $10.15; February, $10.16; March, $10.18; April, $10.19. Havre was net unchanged. Hamburg was unchanged to ¼ pfennig higher. Rio, 25 reis higher at 6$900; Santos, 50 reis higher, 4s, 6$550; ..., 6$000. Receipts at the two Brazilian ports, 6,000, against 11,000 last year. Jundiahy receipts, 2,400, against 9,600 last year. New York warehouse deliveries yesterday, 6,980 bags, against 8,411 last year. Spot coffee steady; Rio No. 7, 11¾c; Santos, No. 4, 12¾c. Mild coffee, quiet; Cordova, 13@15c, nominal.

COTTON.

NEW YORK, May 18.—COTTON—Prices advanced today in gradually broadening speculation. Complaints of dry weather in the eastern section of both the Atlantic and Gulf states and also in Oklahoma and some central portions of the belt are increasing, and this, together with the fact that new crop months are already selling at big discounts under old of 2¼@3c roughly, led to a renewed outburst of buying in October. Moreover, the Liverpool market was stronger than expected. Egyptian buying there was something of a feature, and, at one time, Liverpool bought December. A further rise on the stock exchange was not without its effect on the cotton market. New York prices were relatively stronger than those in Liverpool. Futures closed steady with prices 6 points lower on August and other months 2 to 6 points higher. Estimated sales 300,000 bales. Prices as follows:

Start Fifth Trial of Accused Clerk.

Baltimore, Md., May 18.—For the fifth time William F. Downs, former stock clerk in the city register's office, was today placed on trial for the alleged larceny of city funds. Downs is accused of having stolen $67,000. Each of the previous trials resulted in a disagreement of the jury.

AMERICA MUST PAY MORE FOR GERMAN FERTILIZERS.

Potash Products of the Kaiser's Domains to Be Sold More Cheaply There than in Other Countries.

HAMBURG, Germany, May 18.—In the agreement reached at the German-American potash conference yesterday, the German potash syndicate, according to authoritative intimations, won its contention to furnish fertilizers for home agriculture at prices lower than those at which they are sold to foreign countries. The new contracts are to remain in force for five years and a half.

They raised the prices of raw salts considerably, and provide for a further increase of 3 per cent during the term of contract. The price of concentrated salts remained practically as it was before the potash war began.

The American potash interests profit by increased rebates, averaging 12 instead of 9 per cent. German companies are entitled to sell potash directly to the American market, and American firms are forbidden to purchase the product except throught the German syndicate.

SEE LARGE CALL FOR SUMMER APPAREL IN WARMER WEATHER

John V. Farwell Company Weekly Review Says Demand Has Been Large During Month—Makers' Stocks Low.

The John V. Farwell company's weekly review of the wholesale dry goods trade says:

With the advent of warm weather the demand for summer underwear during the month of May has been large. Wholesale stocks are in good condition at present. Merchants will serve their interests by anticipating their wants now. Practically there is no stock of underwear in the manufacturers' hands. Warm weather has made a good business in shirt waists, muslin underwear, and wash shirts. Parasols are much in vogue and orders are coming in freely.

Druggist sundries continues to be a good department in the dry goods business. This is an exceptionally good year for gloves of all kinds. The habit incurred by many women of not wearing gloves has been abolished, and it is now the proper thing to wear gloves on all occasions.

Late curtains and window draperies, including the popular printed scrims in various colorings and patterns, continue to sell freely for at once delivery, supplying the demand caused by spring house cleaning and bringing into evidence summer and madras curtains in colored stripe and stained glass effects. The demand for woven tissues is large. Cotton voiles and batistes in wash goods continue in good demand during this warm weather.

Seeks National Bank Charter.

Washington, D. C., May 18.—[Special.]—The controller of the currency today received application to convert the Farmers' State bank of Osmond, Neb., into "the First National bank of Osmond." Capital, $25,000.

KANSAS CITY STOCKYARDS ENDANGERED IN BIG BLAZE.

Flames, Stopped After Hour, Destroy $50,000 Worth of Plant—Goat Leads 75 Sheep to Safety.

Kansas City, Mo., May 18.—Fire which for an hour this afternoon endangered the entire Kansas City stockyards and the Live Stock Exchange building, destroyed sheep pens covering an area a block square, burned sheep estimated to number a thousand, and partly destroyed two mule barns. The old American Royal Live Stock pavilion was saved. A new fire station in the course of construction in the stockyards district, was partly destroyed.

The fire started in a fertilizer plant at the south end of the yards and was swept into the shep pens before a high south wind.

Many of the sheep were driven to safety in other parts of the yards. One goat was seen leading seventy-five sheep to safety through an open gate. Thirty goats, which were used to lead the sheep to the packing houses, perished.

Sparks from the burning pens set fire to a school building five blocks away. The pupils already had been dismissed. The school building was saved. Tops of trolley poles were burned off and live wires sputtering in the street added to the danger to the spectators. At 4 o'clock the fire was under control. The damage is estimated at less than $50,000.

STATE TRAVELING MEN MEET.

Grand Council Convenes at Danville, Ill.—Change of Insurance Plan Is Proposed.

Danville, Ill., May 18.—[Special.]—Abolishment of "call" or assessment plan insurance has been proposed at the fifteenth annual meeting of the Illinois Grand council of the United Commercial Travelers of America, which opened here today. Eight hundred delegates have arrived and about 100 ladies.

A reception for the delegates at the Lyric theater was held this morning, when Corporation Counsel Howard Swallow welcomed the visitors. H. S. McCracken of Chicago, grand conductor, responded.

Form Railroad Club of Chicago.

One hundred clerical employés of the railroad companies met last night at the Grand Central hotel and organized the Railroad club of Chicago. It is the purpose of the club to include in its membership all clerical employés of railroad and steamship lines and express and industrial traffic associations.

LEASES 7 FLOORS IN THE LOOP

Western Indiana Adds to Holdings for Station.

The largest lease of the year in Central district store space has just been closed involving seven floors in the building which David Mayer is to erect at the southeast corner of Wabash avenue and Adams street.

This space, which involves all the floors above the ground floor, has been leased by E. F. Keebler & Co. for Mr. Mayer to F. B. Virden, president of the Chicago Business college, for a term of fifteen years at a term rent of $420,000.

The building is 80x50 feet, so that the seven floors will give a total area of 28,000 square feet. The second floor will be sublet by Mr. Virden.

An interesting feature of the transaction is the fact that the building will be known as the Chicago Business College building. The college will move from the Trude building, where it has been located since the erection of that building, about fifteen years ago.

It is interesting to note in connection with the transaction that Krebler & Co. rented the entire Mayer building within three weeks after Mr. Mayer secured the property.

Get Land for Station Site.

A transaction of much interest because of its connection with the passenger station plans of the Western Indiana road is the purchase of the fee of the property at the southeast corner of Federal and Polk streets, 25x96½ feet with old three story brick improvements. It was conveyed by Julius Heidenreich to the Western Trust and Savings bank, but the Western Indiana road was the actual purchaser, the consideration being withheld. The board of review valuation was $53,900.

Louis Olcese, who died a few months ago, leased this property from Mr. Heidenreich in 1906 for 99 years at an annual rent of $6,000. This is 4 per cent on $150,000, or $6,000 a front foot and over $62 a square foot. The announcement by Mr. Olcese that he proposed to improve the property with a nine story fireproof hotel building aroused much interest in real estate circles in view of the desire of the road to acquire the property. He never went ahead with his building plans, and it is understood the road plans to acquire the leasehold interest by condemnation proceedings.

Mary C. Packard has sold through White & Tabor to a syndicate the leasehold at the southwest corner of Jackson boulevard and Morgan street. The property fronts 120 feet on the boulevard and 100 feet on Morgan street and is improved with a three story apartment building, which at the time of its erection several years ago was regarded as one of the best structures on the boulevard. The lease runs for eighty years and the purchasing syndicate is composed of several prominent Chicago men and two New York City real estate operators.

Ninety-nine Year Lease Closed.

The Workman Manufacturing company has leased from James Balton the property at the northwest corner of Monroe street and Center avenue, 120x111 feet, for 99 years, at an annual rent of $1,250. The lessor is to erect a three story building for which the lessee agrees to pay in addition to the rent 1 per cent on the amount that may remain unpaid of the money advanced by the lessor for the improvements, which is estimated at $40,000.

The property at 4713-15 Beacon street, with lot 60x160 feet, has been sold by Noah M. Sapp to Julias Strass for $29,500. The lot is improved with a three story apartment building containing six apartments. Mr. Strass gave in part payment the stone front residence at 765 Waveland avenue, and valued at $13,500. Deveraux & Bubley were the brokers.

Holton, Seelye & Co. sold for Lewis H. Blanchard to F. Carson the premises, 724-26 East Forty-fifth street, improved with three story store and flat building, for $22,000, subject to incumbrance of $10,000; Carson giving in exchange a 420 acre farm in Sauk county, Wis., valued at $20,000.

Hibbard Porter & Bro. have sold for Josephine P. Bawhs of Washington, Conn., to Sylvester T. Potter the stable property with three story building on lot 50x110 feet, at 3153-55 Cottage Grove avenue, for $16,500.

Charles E. Bartley has purchased from the Northern Trust company, trustee for the estate of Mary Walker, the property in Drexel boulevard, 101 feet north of Fifty-first street, 91x220 feet, for $20,250. He will improve with an apartment building to cost $100,000.

Robert F. MacDonald has purchased from Helen Rickel and husband the apartment house property at the southwest corner of Sunnyside avenue and North Clark street with 129x80 feet of ground, for $32,500, with incumbrance of $16,750.

Discuss Realty Advertising.

At the weekly luncheon of the Chicago real estate board there was a renewal of the discussion of the previous week regarding the relations of the newspapers and real estate men.

"Real estate men and newspaper men shuld be in close touch with one another," said President Tabor.

John A. Carroll reiterated statements made a week ago that not enough attention was paid by the papers to human interest features in connection with real estate news.

Hopewell Rogers of the News said that the newspapers always were glad to give prominence to news items with features of general interest and frequently gave space to real estate news of no particular interest to the general public.

Frederick S. Oliver spoke highly of dispay advertising, saying his firm had found it profitable, and recommended that the real estate board take a page in the Chicago papers, subletting space to members and reserving space in the center for interesting news.

Other speakers were E. O. Syman of the Record-Herald, J. McFarland of the Tribune, C. A. Carver of the Examiner, and W. D. Hussey of the Evening Post.

DRY GOODS PRICES TO RISE; COTTON QUOTATIONS CAUSE.

Firmer Feeling Prevails in Market and Manufacturers May Ask More for Product in a Few Days.

New York, May 18.—[Special.]—There was a firmer sentiment today in the staple cotton goods end of the dry goods market with first hands. Should the demand show any decided increase within the next week it is likely that prices will be marked up in several quarters. Both agents and manufacturers have been closely following the course of the cotton market, and with spot prices closing for the day at 16.10c and July at 16c, there was more talk of possible advances before or about the first of the new week.

With cotton selling around 15c, manufacturers claimed, their prices on finished goods were too low, so that, with recent advances mills are in a worse shape than they were, when it comes to the question of accepting forward orders on staple goods.

Large buyers are being advised by mills to cover their forward requirements on staple cotton goods at once, as it is doubtful how long they will be able to secure merchandise at today's price levels.

Silk piece goods are moving freely for summer needs, and, during the week, the jobbing departments have had a steady call for spot goods of all sorts. Fall lines are progressing slowly, and manufacturers are by no means satisfied with the low prices in force on their new lines.

The raw material markets are stronger than they were, and new crop silk is being held at sharp advances over old crop.

POULTRY AND POTATOES GET LOWEST PRICES OF SEASON.

Vegetable Supplies Reach Market Late and Trade Is Light—Butter, Eggs, and Cheese Are Stationary.

Spring chickens and new potatoes, seasonable delicacies, sold on the produce market at Chicago yesterday at new low prices for the season. The former were reduced 1@2c and fancy 2 lb broilers were quoted at 26c a pound. New potatoes took a drop of 5c a bushel and sold at 95c for the best. Old crop potatoes were in light supply and held at stationary prices.

Supplies of green vegetables were late in reaching the market and the trade lacked the action of the preceding day, although values showed few changes. Receipts of strawberries aggregated 35 cars, most of which sold at steady prices. Market for butter, eggs, and cheese was weak, but less burdensome arrivals enabled sellers to maintain values on a steady basis.

WHEAT CORNER NIPS MAKERS

BOARD OF TRADE INQUIRY ON

A crisis in wheat by the end of this month with the big bulls who engineered the recent deal in the May option backed by their own "corner" and facing heavy financial losses, is being anticipated by Chicago board of trade operators as the result of the recent adoption by the directors of that body of the rule forbidding the ... of grain held in Chicago in the markets of other cities at prices lower than the ... Chicago price.

It was learned yesterday that instead of having in elevators only 4,000,000 bushels of the wheat delivered at the closing of the May deal, the bulls have on hand something like 7,000,000 bushels.

The general supposition in grain circles is that the bulls will hold this grain and try to force up the price of July wheat in order to make a market in which they can sell heavily, and then deliver out the ... wheat in July.

Face Adverse Conditions.

Grain conditions are believed to be ..., however, that it will require a great ... to boost quotations to a point where ... bulls can sell to advantage. Receipts of wheat in Chicago have been averaging about 100 cars a day and the cash men are predicting bigger receipts next week. The bulls may find themselves at the end of the month with 10,000,000 and possibly 11,000,000 bushels of the cereal on their hands.

A part of the wheat already on hand has been shipped out of the city, but it is understood that only a little of it has been ... The market is limited and the new rule of the directors prevents price cutting. There is little public interest and the crop prospects are bright. To carry 10,000,000 bushels of wheat will cost the bulls roundly $175,000 a month.

Board of Trade Inquiry Starts.

The committee of the board of trade which is investigating the operations in May wheat to see whether there has been any ... manipulation held its first meeting yesterday afternoon.

The investigation, it is promised, will be thorough and if any violations of the rule against "corners" and market manipulation are found it is likely the extreme penalty of expulsion will be imposed. No report will be made until after the findings of the committee have been reviewed by the directors.

George E. Marcy, president of the Armour Grain company, and Adolph J. Lichstern were witnesses before the committee yesterday.

Instant Relief for Sore Feet

Sore Feet, Tender Feet and Swollen Feet Cured Every Time. TIZ Makes Sore Feet Well No Matter What Ails Them.

Policemen all over the world use TIZ. Policemen stand on their feet all day and know what sore, tender, sweaty, swollen feet really mean. They use TIZ because TIZ cures their feet right up. It keeps feet in perfect condition. Read what this policeman has to say: "I was surprised and delighted with TIZ for tender feet. I hardly know how to thank you enough for it. It's superior to powders or plasters. I can keep my feet in perfect condition. Believe in my earnest gratitude for TIZ. I am a policeman and keep on my feet all day."—Emzy Harrell, Austin, Texas.

You never tried anything like TIZ before for your feet. It is different from anything ever before sold.

TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies clog up the pores. TIZ draws out all poisonous exudations which bring on soreness of the feet, and is the only remedy that does. TIZ cleans out every pore and glorifies the feet—your feet.

You'll never limp again or draw up your face in pain and you'll forget about your corns, bunions and callouses. You'll feel like a new person. TIZ is for sale at all druggists at 25c per box, or it will be sent you direct if you wish from Walter Luther Dodge & Co., Chicago, Ill.

BOXBOARD SHOWS LARGER DEFICIT

Annual Statement Places Loss for the Fiscal Year at $31,406.

SUBSIDIARIES LOSE $29,000

The United Boxboard company issued its annual statement for the fiscal year ended April 1, 1911, yesterday. As expected, it shows a larger deficit than in the first year after reorganization, amounting to $31,406, against $19,580 in 1910. This followed, too, a small increase in gross business. Earnings of the subsidiaries shrunk from $33,089 to $3,810. The income account compares as follows.

Repairs, improvements	128,563	134,816
Idle mill charges	40,543	42,048
Taxes, insurance	36,010	34,039
Administration	72,951	67,135
Total expenses	$278,069	$278,038
Net	137,135	115,857
Total net	$140,946	$148,946
Deficit	$31,406	$19,580

Balance Sheet.

	$14,554,114	$14,324,959

Expenses are shown to have aggregated approximately the same as in 1910. Repairs were lower and idle mill charges were lower, taxes and insurance increased slightly, and administration expenses were higher. Interest charges also increased.

President's Statement.

The statement of President Sidney Mitchell follows:

"The treasurer's statement shows a small increase in gross earnings, notwithstanding the adverse conditions which have prevailed in the paper board industry during the last year.

"Demand for our product has been considerably below the normal capacity of the mills, the small volume of business and keen competition resulting in low prices for many grades of paper boards. The operation of your mills in Maine and New York, which are dependent upon water power, has been seriously curtailed owing to the lowest rainfall in many years, the small production obtained largely increasing the cost of manufacture.

"Underlying bonds and mortgages have been retired during the year in the sum of $122,000, leaving a balance of $3,442,990, of which $473,500 are held by the company, leaving a net outstanding bonded indebtedness of $2,969,490.

"A modern steam plant and boiler house have been erected at Peoria. One machine at Norwich and one at Noblesville have been triple decked with additional driers. Other important improvements in the machinery have been made at the Wabash, Lockport, Mount Carmel, Wilmington, and Norwich mills. These expenditures have been beneficial in reducing the cost of manufacturing and increasing the capacity as well as improving the quality of the board. In many instances wooden construction has been replaced by steel and concrete and the mills are in better physical condition than at any time. With a return to normal conditions of supply and demand the profits should be commensurate with the capital invested."

J. E. Otis Withdraws.

At the annual meeting in Jersey City Joseph E. Otis withdrew as a director and was succeeded by H. Grossman. The full directorate and present officers follow: W. H. Binnian, A. Albert Sack, Charles C. Adsit, George J. Marott, J. M. Hopkins, C. Bodman, H. Grossman, George H. Webster, W. Bodman, Lazard Kahn, Fred Davenport, Sidney Mitchell, Wilmer C. Staley, Gustav Wuerst.

Officers elected were:

President—Sidney Mitchell.
Vice president—Charles C. Adsit.
Vice president—Wilmer C. Staley.
Secretary and treasurer—Gustav Wuerst.

There were small sales of the stock at 3½@3⅝ on the local exchange. The company's plants are located as follows: Benton Falls, Me.; Fairfield, Me.; Lockport, N. Y.; Thomson, N. Y.; Whippany, N. J.; Urbana, O.; Eaton, Ind.; Muncie, Ind.; Lockport, Ind.; Wabash, Ind.; Yorktown, Ind.; Mount Carmel, Ill.; Peoria, Ill.; Waldron, Ill.

Plants of the American Strawboard company, controlled by 90 per cent of stock, follow: Norwich, Conn.; Chestertown, Md.; Circleville, O.; Dayton, O.; Lima, O.; Piqua, O.; Tippecanoe City, O.; Tiffin, O.; Anderson, Ind.; Kokomo, Ind.; Noblesville, Ind.; Lockport, Ill.; Quincy, Ill.; Wilmington, Ill.; Winchester, Va.

Electric Pool Canceled.

The General Electric and Westinghouse Electric companies have canceled their fifteen year patent pool agreement, a few months before its expiration, due in part to the government's attitude disclosed in the suit brought against the alleged lamp trust composed of the General Electric, the National Electric Lamp company and thirty others.

The importance of the agreement has for some time been only apparent. For years patents have been expiring by limitation and few new ones have been acquired of the importance of the two which led to the formation of the pool—the electric controller for street railways and the carbon lamp. The latter is of diminishing importance, due to the growing obsolescence by reason of the development of tungsten and mazda fiber.

As a matter of fact the big companies are in competition with others who can enter the field and sell as good product at lower prices. Of the $1,000 General Electric products, 75 per cent are unprotected today by patent.

The patent laws ten years ago allowed the General Electric profits of around 25 or 30 per cent. Today 10 or 15 per cent is good, and Westinghouse profits are little or no larger.

Frisco Lines Merge.

A special meeting of the stockholders of the Chicago and Eastern Illinois Railroad company will be held on July 19 and a meeting of the stockholders of the Evansville and Terre Haute Railroad company will be held on July 20 to vote on the proposition to merge the latter company in the former and to issue the stock of the Eastern Illinois for the common and preferred stock of the Evansville and Terre Haute on the basis of $83.33 per cent of Eastern Illinois preferred for each share of Evansville and Terre Haute stock, common or preferred.

The rate of exchange has been fixed to conform with the dividend rates of the respective stocks. The preferred stock of the Eastern Illinois company will be increased $5,000,000, the authorized capital after the consolidation being $15,000,000 common and $15,000,000 preferred.

Canadian Steel Profits Low.

Profits of the Steel Company of Canada, Ltd., for the six months ended Dec. 31, were $783,664, or but 10.4 per cent of gross receipts. The net profits after preferred dividends was equal to about 2.1 per cent on the common stock, or at the rate of 4.2 per cent for the year. By a charter provision there can be no distribution among the common stockholders until a sum has been set aside equivalent to a year's preferred dividends. The company was formed last year by the merger of five Canadian concerns, and has authorized [illegible] bonds, $10,000,000 preferred and $15,-

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

HILL ROADS CUT EXPENSES.

Of the three Hill roads the Burlington is the only one whose nine months' record shows a gain in gross revenue, and that is a small one, the $1,000,000 loss in March hurting the exhibit. It was last fall's business that made any increase at all possible. The Great Northern and Northern Pacific have run behind 1910 steadily, the former showing but one month of improvement and the latter three months.

At the same time the roads have lowered expenses sufficiently to almost meet the loss in business. Great Northern's expenses exceed last year's by only $37,800, and the operating ratio is but 1.8 per cent higher. Northern Pacific shows a decrease of .5 per cent and Great Northern a decrease of 4.4 per cent.

To effect this close attention has been paid to charges for maintenance, particularly of way and structures. Equipment maintenance charges are not materially less than a year ago. The ratios of maintenance charges and of transportation costs to gross make the following comparison:

	Maintenance.		Transportation.
Northern Pacific	23.9	25.3	33.4	32.5
Great Northern	26.0	26.6	29.8	28.0

Notwithstanding the reductions the Burlington was the only one able to end the nine months' period with a decrease in net income after expenses and taxes, a gain amounting to 13.9 per cent. The Northern Pacific lost 11.7 per cent and the Great Northern 8 per cent from last year.

PERE MARQUETTE DEFICIT.

Pere Marquette continues to earn a deficit. April's operating ratio was 85.34, against 69.03 per cent a year ago, and the month showed a deficit of $234,146, against a $29,148 surplus a year ago. The ten months' gross is only slightly below last year's, but there is a deficit after taxes of $1,551,154, against a $431,711 surplus in 1910. Figures filed with the interstate commerce commission compare as follows:

Dividends Declared.

The Brooklyn Union Gas company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of 1½ per cent, payable July 1 to stock of record June 17.

The National Lead company has declared the regular quarterly dividend of three-quarters of 1 per cent on the common stock, payable June 30. Books close June 9 and reopen June 15.

The Atlantic Coast Line has declared the usual semi-annual dividend of 3 per cent on the common stock, payable July 10. Books close June 21 and reopen July 11.

The Quincy Mining company has declared a quarterly dividend of $1 a share, payable June 19 to stock of record May 27, the same as paid three months ago.

General Financial Notes.

The Central New England first mortgage 4s offered by J. P. Morgan with the First National and National City banks of New York have been sold.

The Canadian Northern has completed financing of the $20,000,000 Port Arthur-Bellwood extension, to be completed in 1915.

The New York attorney general states he holds illegal and void the amendment to the Equitable Life Assurance society's charter for allowing the policyholders to elect twenty-eight of the fifty-two directors. The stockholders he says are the only legal voters.

The Old Colony Trust and Savings bank will open for business June 1.

It is announced that the Coal Products Manufacturing company of Chicago will erect a large gas plant at Lockport, Ill., for supplying gas to a number of downstate cities and villages, and manufacture of the usual by-products. According to present plans the plant will be one of the largest in existence.

The subscription books for the $5,000,000 preferred stock of Hart, Schaffner & Marx will close Monday at 3 p. m. The stock is being offered by A. G. Becker & Co., and Ladenburg, Thalmann & Co. at par and accrued dividend from May 15. Application will be made to list the stock on the New York and Chicago stock exchanges.

Elevated Shares Higher.

Local traction securities continued to work higher yesterday in anticipation of the return of Henry A. Blair. South Side L opened at 73⅞, against Wednesday's close at 73, and on good buying rose to 74½, near the announced price of the merger details, closing firm at 74. There was liberal buying in Northwestern Elevated 4s, which pushed the price up to 99⅝, from which there was a fractional decline at the close. Chicago Railways and City Railway bonds were firm at the same or higher quotations.

Diamond Match rose a point to 99½, and McCrum-Howell was up another point to 47 on a small lot. Telephone gained ¾ of a point, and Sears was fractionally up at the close. There were declines in Commonwealth Edison, Pneumatic Tool, and People's Gas. Swift's was unchanged. Other packers' bonds lost the gains made on Wednesday.

IN THE BOSTON STOCK MARKET.

BOSTON, Mass., May 18.—[Special.]—Copper stocks continued active and strong in the Boston market today. In spite of activity North Butte was the leader with a net gain of ¾ for the day. Calumet and Hecla added 5 points to its gain of yesterday. Lake rose 2¾, Indian 1½, and North Butte ¾. Nearly all the others went up fractionally. Rails and industrials were firm and bonds in good demand. Call money, 2½@3 per cent. Time loans, short dates, 3@3¼ per cent. Time loans, six months, 3½@4 per cent. Time loans, year, 4@4½ per cent.

'KATY' WILL RAISE $24,000,000.

Company to Spend $5,000,000 of Receipts of Bond Issue on Road in Kansas.

Topeka, Kas., May 18.—The state railroad board today granted the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad company permission to issue $24,000,000 in bonds, $5,000,000 to be spent in betterment of the road in Kansas. The board last week refused the application of the company to issue $107,869,000 in bonds.

NEW YORK BOOM LETTING UP

NET GAINS STILL PREVAIL.

[NEW YORK TIMES FINANCIAL LEADER.]

New York, May 18.—[Special.]—During the early part of today's session on the stock exchange the forward movement in prices, which began at the opening of the market on Tuesday, was carried further, and in the course of the movement some substantial gains were recorded. The market, however, had to meet profit taking sales, and it was evident in the afternoon the force of the forward movement had greatly diminished. Indeed, in a few stocks the impetus which prices received had spent itself entirely, and for the first time since the announcement of the United States Supreme court's Standard Oil decision some important issues ended the day unchanged or with net losses.

A large majority, however, retained enough of the morning's advances to show net gains at the close, and in a few instances these amounted to a point or more. This was true among active stocks like Amalgamated Copper, American Smelting, St. Paul, and Southern Pacific.

Volume of Trading Lessened.

As the upward movement subsided, the volume of trading also diminished, although up to the noon hour it had been fully equal to the scale of trading on Wednesday.

One noticeable effect of the greatly increased trading in the stock market during the last three days has been the substantial advance in time money rates, which have risen on an average of a quarter for nearly all periods. Borrowing on stock exchange collateral, which, until a few days ago, was practically limited to a relatively small number of stock exchange firms, which had use for money despite the extreme dullness in the market, has, since the beginning of this week, been largely increased as a result of the demand from an increased number of brokerage houses, whose purchases for customers on the present advance required banking accommodation.

Higher Rates Asked.

With the appearance of this more active request for funds, institutions which have been pressing money on the market have asked higher rates, which have been freely paid. Six months' money, which has been lending at 3 per cent, was 3¼ bid today and over the year loans made as high as 3⅝, compared with 3½ on May 1. Call money, meanwhile, has not gone above 2½ per cent.

In today's bond market one noteworthy feature was heavy trading in New York City issues, principally in 4¼s, the most recently issued. In the bond market at large the lull which set in a week or ten days ago still prevails, though firmness is shown in prices. The announcement of the taking up of all the $11,900,000 Central New England 4s offered to public subscription today was another practical illustration of the generally satisfactory demand for high grade investment bonds.

Another advance in the proportion of the Bank of England's reserve to liabilities brought the ratio today up to 51.27, compared to 50.64 a week ago. This rate is higher than that recorded at this date in five out of the last seven years. During the week the bank added $3,500,000 to its gold holdings, while its loans increased only $1,400,000.

Money on call steady, 2⅜@2½ per cent; ruling rate, 2⅜; closing bid, 2⅜; offered at 2½. Time loans strong; demand increasing and lenders withdrawing from market, foreseeing higher rates. Sixty days, 2½@2¾ per cent; ninety days, 2¾@3; six months, 3¼@3½. Prime mercantile paper, 3½@4 per cent. Sterling exchange firm, with actual business in bankers' bills at 4.8440 for sixty day bills and at 4.8630@4.8635 for demand. Commercial bills, 4.83⅝. Bar silver, 53⅝. Mexican dollars, 45. Government bonds, steady. Railroad bonds, firm.

IN FOREIGN STOCK MARKETS.

LONDON, May 18.—Money was harder and discount rates were firmer today. The stock market had a cheerful tone, with strength in railway shares the feature. Home rails advanced on covering. Mexican shares on peace prospects, and American stocks on Wall street support, while copper shares spurted and rubber issues closed harder. Consols declined three-sixteenths on realizing. American securities opened irregular, but good support appeared and prices advanced well over parity. Later Wall street bidding caused lively trading and a sharp spurt in the leading shares. Canadian Pacific was an exception and eased off a fraction. The closing was firm.

One million dollars ($1,000,000) of the preferred stock has been retained by the members of the old firm of Hart, Schaffner & Marx, who have agreed to continue to manage the business of the corporation.

Messrs. Price, Waterhouse & Co., Chartered Accountants, certify that for the last fiscal year ending November 26, 1910, the gross sales of the firm amounted to $15,234,507.88, and that the average annual net profits for the past five years have been $921,938.17.

The corporation acquires the business as of November 26, 1910. A letter from the President shows the sales since that date have been about $6,500,000, the profits of which have already accrued to the new corporation.

No dividend can be declared on the common stock unless there shall then exist a surplus of at least $500,000, and no dividends in excess of 4% per annum upon the common stock unless there shall then exist a surplus of at least $1,000,000. After paying or providing for the payment of accrued and unpaid dividends on the preferred stock the corporation is obligated out of its surplus and net profits remaining to retire by purchase at not to exceed the sum of one hundred and twenty dollars ($120) per share, or by redemption at one hundred and twenty dollars ($120) per share, all of such preferred stock, such retirement to be effected in installments, so that at least $500,000 of said preferred stock will be retired on or before July 1, 1921, and the remainder thereof in installments of not less than $500,000 in each of the five-year periods successively following July 1, 1921.

The corporation shall not mortgage its real or personal property, or increase its preferred stock without the consent of the holders of at least three-fourths of the then issued and outstanding preferred stock.

A large part of the above preferred stock having been sold, we offer the unsold balance at 100% and accrued dividend, from May 25, 1911, deliverable on or about that date, on three days' previous notice, and payable in New York funds, at the offices of either of the undersigned as follows:

$10 per share on application,

The subscription will be closed at 3 P. M. on Monday, May 22, 1911, or earlier, the right being reserved to reject any application or to award a smaller amount than applied for.

Delivery will be made in the form of temporary certificates, exchangeable for definitive stock certificates when ready.

Application will be made to list the Preferred Stock upon the New York and Chicago Stock Exchanges.

A Large Yield From Railroad Bonds

Example No. 5

In 1895 we sold Union Pacific 6% Gold Notes at 85, yielding 10%. They were largely secured by non-dividend-paying stocks, representing control of important lines. Later the notes were paid at par.

Recurring Opportunities

We now offer at a price to yield about 8% bonds issued by a dividend-paying railroad, secured by a majority of the stock of one of the most important lines in the Middle West. The bonds have only a few years to run and offer an unusually high income.

ADVERTISE IN THE TRIBUNE.

FUTURES LOWER; SUPPORT FEEBLE

Wheat Advance Early Is Followed by Sharp Reaction on Free Profit Taking.

CASH SITUATION HEAVY.

Oats Bulls' Enthusiasm Cooled by Showers; Large Shipping Sales Made.

Highest prices for wheat were made yesterday soon after the opening. The initial quotations were not much changed, but the market firmed up sharply in the first half hour. Profit taking started on a heavy scale on the swell, and, as there was no new buying support, prices sold off 1¼c for the active months from the top level. Indifferent cables, reported showers in some sections, the poor cash demand, with heavy offerings from the country and bearish foreign news combined to discourage the buyers. Last prices were ⅜@⅝c lower.

Liverpool closed ⅛@⅜d higher, no response being shown to the upturn on this side on Wednesday. Rains were reported in Russia, and this was a factor in the English markets. Predictions for big world's shipments for the week were also a bear factor abroad.

Dry Weather Only Bull Help.

Dry weather continued to be the one big factor on the bull side, and the weather map was in the favor of holders. No rains of consequence were shown except in one or two sections, while temperatures were abnormally high for this season of the year. Later in the day there were reports of showers, which caused some selling. The most depressing factor, however, was the selling by houses recently connected with the bull side, led by King-Farnum, Updike, Peavey, Logan-Bryan, Brosseau, Lake, and Valentine. Buying was scattered, Armour, Chapin, Ware-Leland, and Lowitz being the leaders on the buying side.

Crop reports from the southwest continue bearish, and in the far south cutting of wheat will soon be started. Reports from Oklahoma indicate a larger yield than estimated a few weeks ago. Northwest conditions are generally favorable.

Country Offerings Large.

The demoralized cash situation continues to be a drag on the speculative market. Chicago is still the target for winter wheat from all points, and promises to be such until the end of the month. June wheat is offered for sale at much lower figures than May, suggesting the fictitious basis of values. There is practically no milling demand—in fact, a good share of the wheat coming to Chicago is from millers who are taking advantage of high prices here to market their surplus stocks.

Minneapolis stocks decreased only 215,000 bu for five days, against a decrease a year ago of 575,000 bu. Receipts here were 127 cars with 97 cars for today. Western points had 465,000 bu, against 534,000 bu a year ago. Winnipeg had 101 cars, compared to 106 cars last year. Clearances of wheat and flour for the day were 480,000 bu.

May Corn Under Pressure.

Corn had a heavy tone, but prices at the end were only ½c off for the May, while other months were ⅛c up to ¼c off. The weakness in wheat was a big factor, encouraging considerable local selling. Barrell, Bartlett-Frasier, and Armour were moderate buyers, with Nickells, Hellman, Geahart and Comstock sellers, but the trade in general was mixed. Sample prices were about ½c lower, with a fairly good demand at the decline, sales being 225,000 bu.

Weather conditions in the main were favorable, although some complaint is heard as to dry weather. Country offerings were moderate and many farmers are holding for 50c on the farm. Receipts here small at 112 cars, with 87 the estimate for today. Primary arrivals were 289,000 bu, against 242,000 bu a year ago. Cables were ⅝d higher. Clearances for the day were 75,000 bu.

Broad Trade in Oats Pit.

Oats were active and strong early, but the edge was taken off the market by reported showers in sections where some of the worst complaints have come from, and prices had a sharp reaction. Later there was a fair rally and closing prices were ⅛@¼c lower to ⅛@⅜c higher, the decline being for the May. A big cash demand was a market factor, sales being 465,000 bu, with prices steady to ½c higher in the sample crowd. Most of the reports received were unfavorable. Receipts here were 147 cars, with 135 cars the estimate for Friday. Primary points had 375,000 bu, against 300,000 bu a year ago. Houses with Illinois connections were good buyers early. Peavey and Wagner sold on the bulge and there was selling credited to Updike and some of the local longs.

Hog Products Drag Lower.

Trade in provisions was without special feature. Prices at the finish averaged a little lower, due principally to the liberal receipts and a break of 10c at the yards. There was further selling of lard and ribs credited to stockyards longs, with Swift brokers selling a little product. Schwabacher sold lard and there was a little buying by Weil. Receipts here were 24,000 with 20,000 the estimate for today. Western arrivals aggregated 87,700, against 79,300 a year ago. Liverpool quoted Cumberland sides 1s lower, while lard was steady. Western packing for the week was estimated at 495,000, against 420,000 a year ago.

Rye had a steady undertone. No. 2 closed at $1.02 bid and $1.04 asked; No. 3 was quoted, 93c@$1.00, and No. 4, 80@90c. Receipts were estimated at 4 cars.

Barley Sells Higher.

Barley was in light supply and met with a good inquiry at an advance of 1@2c. Malting was quoted 90c@$1.02; feed, 65@80c, and screenings, 24@48c. Receipts were estimated at 33 cars.

Flaxseed held steady. No. 1 northwestern closed at $2.55; No. 1 from the northwest, $2.52; No. 1 southwestern, $2.43, and rejected, $2.33@2.44. Receipts, none. Duluth closed unchanged to 3c lower; May, $2.55; July, $2.55, and September, $2.08. Receipts, none. Minneapolis, unchanged; cash on track, $2.55. Receipts were 4 cars.

Timothy seed was quiet. Spot contract, $12.00 bid; August, $7.25 bid; September, $6.50, nominal; October, $6.25 bid. Cloverseed steady; spot contract, $15.75, nominal; October, $12.75 bid, and $13.50 asked.

NEWS AND GOSSIP OF BOARD OF TRADE.

The lack of any big buying power in the wheat market at the present time was well illustrated yesterday. Although most of the local professionals were bullish, after the opening they had bought about all the wheat they wanted to carry and as there was no new buying to help them out, the market proved to have little support as soon as profit taking started in. Rumors of rains had something to do with the decline, but the main trouble was the utter lack of new buying to help the bulls carry the load.

The chief reliance of the bulls at the present is a continuance of the dry conditions over a large part of the belt. Temperatures have been unseasonably high for May and as there is a great deficiency in moisture so far in most sections, seasonable rains are more than usually imperative. In a large part of the wheat belt, however, the crop is practically made now without any further rains, and cutting will begin in the southern part of the belt in ten days or two weeks. The northwest is not suffering materially for rain at the present time, but drought conditions are more serious than elsewhere, and the lack of subsoil moisture must be remedied by frequent showers.

Price Current: "The condition of growing winter wheat is fully maintained; the weather is highly favorable, and there are few pessimistic reports. A large yield is anticipated; spring wheat is generally good, although more rain is needed soon. Corn planting is nearly finished, some showing good growth; acreage is increased. Oats need moisture, but no serious damage is recorded. Western slaughtering of 495,000 hogs, is compared with 525,000 hogs for the preceding week and 420,000 for the corresponding week of last year. From March 1 the total is 5,685,000, against a total of 3,905,000 for the corresponding period of last year. This shows an increase of 75,000 hogs for the week and 1,780,000 since March 1, as compared with corresponding periods last year."

A small quantity of No. 2 hard wheat was reported sold at Buffalo yesterday at about 98½c c. i. f. Buffalo or on about a parity with Chicago prices. Aside from this there was not much demand and there was a decided lack of interest on the part of millers. Moreover offerings from other points and from the country to come to Chicago continue liberal. It was estimated that upwards of 100,000 bu was bought to arrive, Kansas City and Milwaukee both selling a little. In fact cash men all over the country are finding Chicago about the only place where they can market wheat to advantage. This condition was reflected in an easier tone for the May. Export bids were out of line.

Oats prices in the sample market were about steady and there was a big demand from the east. Practically all the local shippers did good business; [illegible] sales aggregated 465,000 bu. This is the largest business in some and suggests that eastern buyers are waking to the value of the present stock of oats. The 1910 crop of oats was of unusually high quality and if anything should happen to this year's crop the old oats would bring a big premium for mixing purposes. Holders of oats are firm in their views, and shippers who were long May oats in expectation of having them delivered to them have been disappointed in not getting as many as they wanted.

Reports covering all grains received by Ware-Leland indicate a substantial increase in the acreage of spring wheat, about the same as last year of corn and a decrease in the area sown to oats. In general the condition of oats and wheat has been maintained during the first two weeks in May, but a noticeable deficiency in moisture make the crops dependent on good rains between now and harvest.

Deliveries on May contracts yesterday were 135,000 bu of wheat, 35,000 bu of corn, and 110,000 bu of oats, and 100,000 lbs of ribs. Armour and Lowitz put out the wheat, Lamson and Lowitz the corn, Bartlett-Frazier the oats, and Stone and Hulburd-Warren the ribs. Shearson-Hammill paid for the wheat, Peavey for the corn, Schaeffer, Stream, Rogers, and Brosseau for the oats, and Chapin for the ribs.

Corn offerings from the country were fair and larger receipts are expected soon. It is admitted, however, that the farmers are showing more than usual diffidence in marketing their corn. Many farmers are preparing to feed their surplus on the farm and are holding for 50c on the farm. Sales here were larger, 225,000 bu. Sample prices were about ½c lower.

J. P. Bickell of Toronto wired Finley Barrell & Co: "There is little or no foundation for the report of destruction to the Ontario wheat crop. Recent rains have started growth everywhere, according to some of the best authorities. The Ontario crop at its best is scarcely a world's factor, being only 17,000,000 to 18,000,000."

Bids on the call for wheat to arrive were ¼@1¼c lower; corn, ¼c lower to ¼c higher; oats, unchanged to ¼c lower, and rye, 1c lower. Sales were: 25,000 bu No. 3 yellow corn or better, 10 days' shipments, 53⅝c Illinois proportional; 5,000 bu No. 3 white oats or better, 10 days' shipment, 34⅝c track, Chicago.

Boomhall: "Our agent at Nicolaieff cables that the weather is showery and cool and the outlook for the spring crop is satisfactory. The winter crops have shown much deterioration as a result of dry weather, and this is particularly so of the rye crop. Arrivals at the ports are large."

Showers were reported in northern and southern Indiana and in northern Ohio and the trade will be much interested in the weather map this morning to see how general the rains were here. The predictions were for generally fair and hot weather except for widely scattered thunder storms.

A letter from Beach, N. D., to Lowitz said that the rainfall in that section had been heavy the last few days and that generally prospects for crops were excellent. Farmers in that section are strenuous in opposing the reciprocity measure, fearing it will demoralize land values.

B. W. Snow to Bartlett-Frazier: "The wheat crop of Oklahoma is likely to exceed expectations in spite of heavy acreage loss in the eastern half of the state. While acreage is relatively small, the crop is in fine promise and the total will be above normal."

Bennett had a number of reports indicating the crop outlook in regard to oats was becoming serious in Illinois. In some sections it is claimed the oats are turning yellow and that if it does not rain in a week or ten days they will be damaged 50 per cent.

Indian reports now indicate that the wheat crop in that country will be about the same as last year and not a record breaker as promised earlier in the season.

Receipts of wheat at Winnipeg were 101 cars, compared with 1,000,000 bu last week and 384,000 bu the corresponding week last year.

John A. Hawkinson has applied for membership on the board of trade; Henry Crosman has posted his membership for trans.

Hiram S. Bicket, assistant secretary of Roberts-Oakes, is to be married June 3.

EQUITABLE LIFE SECRETS BARED

MUTUALIZATION AN ISSUE

BY HOLLAND.

New York, May 18.—[Special.]—Why Vice President Day of the Equitable Life Assurance company was so suddenly promoted from that office to the presidency is a question which many of the policyholders of the company would be glad to have answered.

So, also, some of the larger financial interests which have attempted to keep in touch with the Equitable direction have wondered how it happened that before any plan of mutualization was adopted Mr. Day should have been elected to the presidency.

It is only within a day or two that information received from some of those who were present at the meeting at which Mr. Day was elected has served, in part at least, to explain this apparently precipitate action.

Some Preliminary History.

When E. H. Harriman bought one-half of Mr. Ryan's holdings he did not contemplate mutualization of the company, although he was warmly in favor of permitting the policyholders to participate in the management through representation on the board of trustees.

Both Mr. Ryan and Mr. Harriman looked upon complete mutualization as impracticable, since there seemed to be no other way of accomplishing it than by utilizing the surplus for the purchase of the entire capital stock.

Morgan Frames New Plan.

After the death of Mr. Harriman, Mr. Morgan was of the opinion the majority stock should pass into other control than that of Mr. Ryan and the Harriman estate.

In addition to the 502 shares of Equitable stock which Mr. Morgan bought of Mr. Ryan and the Harriman estate, he owned some thirty shares more.

The minority stockholders own 420 shares and there are thirty-nine of these stockholders; some of them have no more than one share.

Within a short time after the death of Paul Morton, who had been president of the Equitable after its reorganization, convassing began in the interest of several candidates for the presidency. The board of trustees had reason to believe that Gage E. Tarbell was a candidate. Other names also were brought to the attention of the board.

Hotchkiss Takes a Hand.

At this time the superintendent of the insurance department of the state, William H. Hotchkiss, began to take a strong personal and official interest in the affairs of the Equitable. He professed to be warmly in favor of the complete mutualization of the company. He impressed Mr. Morgan with the earnestness and sincerity of the desire of the state insurance department successfully to coöperate with the company in such plans as would eliminate the stock.

It was at that time that some of the trustees were told Mr. Hotchkiss had worked out a plan for mutualization which he felt sure would be satisfactory. This plan, as these trustees heard it in detail, provided for the purchase of Mr. Morgan's stock—at least the 502 shares which he bought of Mr. Ryan—by the repayment of the amount he paid for the stock, plus interest.

Displeases the Minority.

The first plan suggested by the state insurance department did not meet with the warm approval of the minority stockholders, for they were told it had been proposed that the company buy their stock, paying for it what it originally cost each stockholder, plus interest, to be computed from a date to be fixed upon hereafter.

Some of the stockholders bought their stock for $200 or $300 a share, having purchased it years ago before the great appreciation in the value of the stock. These men found a proposition unreasonable which offered to pay them relatively trifling sums for their stock, while at the same time paying Mr. Morgan somewhat in excess of $5,000 a share for his.

If a proposition of this kind had been accepted, then prolonged litigation would have followed, with the chances strongly in favor of a judicial decision supporting the contention of the minority stockholders.

Puts All on Equal Basis.

The plan was changed and the proposition emanating from the state insurance department provided for the purchase of all the stock upon equal terms.

A simple computation made it clear that if this plan were carried out then the purchase of the Equitable stock, if paid for out of the surplus of the company, would absorb all but about $1,000,000 of the surplus.

Trustees asked one another: "Is that good business policy? Will the advantage to the Equitable which would follow the elimination of the stock be great enough to justify the practical wiping out of the surplus?" Then another question was raised: "Have not the policy holders some equitable interest in the surplus?"

The trustees appointed a committee of three to report its choice for the presidency. The committee announced that it was ready to report and expected to do so at a recent monthly meeting of the trustees.

Mr. Day's election is equivalent, probably, to a postponement for a long season of any effort to mutualize this company. The difficulties in the way of eliminating the stock are great. Among the trustees the feeling is strong that it would be a mistaken policy to absorb the surplus into stock.

RULES ON EQUITABLE VOTE.

New York Official Holds Policy Holders Have No Voice in Choosing Directors.

New York, May 18.—The state insurance department today made public a decision by Attorney General Carmody declaring that the policyholders of the Equitable Life Assurance society under its present charter have no right to vote for any of its directors.

On the strength of this opinion Supt. Hotchkiss has returned to the company certificates of nomination of directors proposed to be voted on by the policyholders at the annual meeting in December.

The attorney general holds an amendment to the charter of the Equitable whereby it was sought to permit the policyholders to elect twenty-eight of the fifty-two directors and the stockholders to choose the rest is invalid since it interferes with the rights of stockholders to vote for all directors.

The superintendent of insurance also directs the company to discontinue the preparation of lists of policyholders for use in connection with the proposed election.

LINK COASTS IN THREE YEARS

Grand Trunk to Open 1,500 Miles of New Line Next Month

JOINS LAKES TO ROCKIES.

Plans Big System Across Canada from Atlantic to Pacific.

The latest reports of progress of the construction work on the Grand Trunk Pacific railway indicate that service over 1,500 miles of the new transcontinental system will be opened next month. This includes the line from Fort William, at the head of Lake Superior, to the foothills of the Rocky mountains beyond Edmonton, B. C., and marks the completion of the prairie section of the road.

The complete line is to extend from Halifax on the east to Prince Rupert on the Pacific coast. It is estimated that the line will be completed in three years. Much of the track has been laid from Prince Rupert east. The heaviest remaining work is in the mountain section. The completed line will connect two great ports open to navigation throughout the year and will serve a territory estimated at 70,000,000 acres of wheat land. About 80 per cent of the construction work on the eastern portion of the transcontinental line from Fort William to Halifax is completed.

Plan String of Hotels.

The Chateau Laurier, at Ottawa, the first of a string of large new hotels to be erected along the new line, has just been completed at a cost of $2,000,000 and will be opened in the autumn. Another is to be started soon at Winnipeg. The Grand Trunk also is making some extensive improvements on its old system.

During the summer work is to be started on relaying its first track, between Montreal and Chicago, 900 miles, with 100 pound rails in place of 80 pound rails. This line was double tracked the entire distance a few years ago.

Committee to Govern Special Rates.

The Central Passenger association, comprising the passenger officials of the lines east of the Mississippi river to the Buffalo-Pittsburg line, has decided on a new departure in passing upon applications for convention rates and special fares to facilitate handling such matters and bring about uniformity in granting special rates. A conference committee has been appointed, to meet in Chicago on the second Tuesday of each month, the day before the regular meeting of the association, to consider all written and personal applications for special rates. Heretofore such matters have been left for the consideration of the regular meeting of the association.

The committee named consists of John W. Daly, passenger traffic manager of the New York Central lines, Chicago, chairman; O. P. McCarty, general passenger agent of the Baltimore and Ohio Southwestern, Cincinnati; J. D. Macnamara, general passenger agent of the Wabash, St. Louis; J. D. McDonald, assistant general passenger agent of the Grand Trunk, Chicago, and J. M. Chesbrough, general passenger agent, Pennsylvania lines, Pittsburg. The conference ecommittee will be expected to make an investigation of the reasons advanced for asking special rates, the attendance in previous years, etc.

Convention Party to See Chicago.

A special train carrying El Capitan division No. 115 of the Order of Railway Conductors, a party of 135 Southern Pacific conductors and members of their families, will arrive in Chicago next Thursday en route home from the annual convention of the order at Jacksonville, Fla., last week. They left San Francisco on May 2 and are due to return there June 7, after having visited New Orleans, Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Buffalo, Detroit, Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul, Tacoma, Portland, Tacoma, and Seattle. They will be in Chicago for four days, and plan a trip to Highland Park next Friday in a special train over the Northwestern, to visit the Home for Aged and Disabled Railway Employés.

Give Hints to Shippers.

The Chicago Association of Commerce is preparing to distribute on Monday its fifth edition of "The Way to Ship," containing instructions for routing freight to the best advantage via the system of through package cars to various points in the southeast which are maintained by the railroads in coöperation with the association. The new issue contains instructions for shipments into fifteen states, Ohio, Indiana, and Michigan having been added in the new edition.

Byron C. Read has been appointed commercial agent of the Chicago Great Western at the Union Stockyards in place of H. E. Murray, resigned. The office of live stock agent at Chicago is abolished.

A Safe Executor

If you appoint an individual as executor of your will or trustee of your estate, what assurance have you that he will survive the trust imposed upon him, and if he does survive, how can you know that he will always be in a position to serve efficiently, continuously and unfailingly?

You can avoid all uncertainties of this nature by appointing an institution like this company to administer your estate. It is better equipped and always on hand.

A little book entitled "Trust Company Service" will be sent to anyone on request. Contains valuable information about wills, etc., and the handling of estates.

LOMBARD AND THE ADVANTAGES
In buying your acre home site in either our Grove or Broadview Addition, where you have three churches, library, up-to-date State Bank, graded school, stores of every description. Glen Oak Country Club. THREE LINES OF TRANSPORTATION.
ONLY 33 MINUTES' RIDE FROM LOOP. These are advantages you must consider and look for when selecting your future home. We offer you acre tracts, some beautifully wooded knolls, with CITY WATER, CEMENT WALKS, GAS AND ELECTRIC LIGHT, together with some ideal meadow land especially adapted for gardening, fruits, berries, and chicken raising.
YOU CAN CUT YOUR LIVING EXPENSES
by investing in one of these beautiful Homesites, where you can raise sufficient produce, eggs, and poultry for your own table and to sell; by so doing you will not only reduce your living expenses but will profit immediately by purchasing at a price much lower than others are asking and which through natural conditions is bound to increase. You are not only getting but you are locating in a town where others are obliged to come for their supplies.
MORE FOR YOUR MONEY
LOOK AT ALL OTHERS.
Compare them. Then call at our office and go out at any time and make your selection, for we know that if you are in the market for a home
YOU WANT THE MOST FOR YOUR MONEY.
We are the only ones who give you a homesite at prices so much lower that there practically is no comparison, and still you have city water, gas, cement walks, electric light, etc.
COMPARE THIS WITH OTHERS
and you will decide at once that our property is what you want. Don't buy where you cannot make a profit.
Call at our office on Saturday at 12:45 for the 1:15 train, Chicago & Northwestern Railroad, or Sunday at 1:30 for the 2:05 train, or any other day in time for the 2:00 train. If you cannot be at our office, PHONE US AND WE WILL MEET YOU at the train. Send for illustrated pamphlets and our prices.
MONTHLY PAYMENTS OR TERMS TO SUIT.

RIVERSIDE
If you desire an attractive suburban home site only a short distance from the heart of Chicago, with beautiful surroundings, such as trees, river, fine roads, and attractive homes, you will find it in RIVERSIDE.
Riverside is located on the wooded banks of the Desplaines River, only eleven miles from the center of Chicago. The C., B. & Q. R. R. furnishes unexcelled transportation with a service of only twenty-three minutes and thirty-three trains each way daily. Riverside is also reached by two electric lines connecting at 40th-av. and West 22d-st., and Ogden-av. and 40th-av., with all the West Side surface and elevated lines.
Riverside has excellent grammar and high school facilities, also churches of various denominations conveniently located.
The Desplaines river affords pleasant recreations, such as boating, canoeing, and skating, and the full enjoyment of the natural parks along its banks.
One can hardly realize the attractiveness of this beautiful suburb without a personal visit. Why not take a trip to Riverside and see the fine, large wooded lots situated on the high banks of the beautiful Desplaines river, which we are offering in Maplewood Division of Riverside, a new subdivision just opened? This subdivision has been improved with water, sewer, paving, sidewalks, gas, and electricity. Maplewood Division adjoins Riverside's most attractive residence district, and lots with uniform building restrictions are now offered at the exceptionally low prices of $15 TO $30 PER FOOT.
$10 PER FOOT AND UPWARD.
THESE LOTS ARE BARGAINS.

FOR SALE— Canadian Pacific offers YOU farm in Sunny Alberta, near existing railway lines. The last chance for a first selection of low priced land in Central Alberta. New tract just opened, where you'll find American neighbors — 400,000 acres in this district bought by Americans in 1910. Now we offer 2,000,000 additional acres—the pick of the province, the finest wheat land on the continent —where farms are often paid for with one season's crops — where climate, soil, transportation, and markets combine to build fortunes fast. Right by railroad, good roads, schools, and all sound social conditions established. $12 to $25 an acre. Three ways of buying: For investment, 6 years to pay. For development: 10 years to pay; or crop payment plan, as partner with Canadian Pacific—no crop, no pay. Think of it! Such an offer of the choicest of "The Last Best West." First come—first served. Write quick for "Alberta Hand Book." Address J. S. Dennis, Manager, Alberta Land Department, Canadian Pacific Railway, 267 9th-av., West, Calgary, Alberta, Canada.

Come and get first choice from some fine tracts I have recently added to my holdings. Present prices $10 to $25 per acre; terms as low as $10 to $25 down and $5 to $10 per month on 40 acres; in neighborhood of improved farms and schools; 10 acre tracts near towns; business and residence lots in new towns; resort lots on Crystal Lake. Send for booklet, large map, and improved farm list—all free. In case of death the farm will be deeded to your family free. Teams and guides are furnished; fares rebated on purchases. Those going please advise me in advance. G. S. SWIGART, OWNER, 1248-49-50 First Nat. Bank Bldg., 38 S. Dearborn-st., CHICAGO.

FOR SALE—ORCHARDS—THE LEWISTON ORCHARDS PROJECT comprises an industrial community devoted to fruit growing—apples, pears, peaches, cherries, apricots, plums, small fruits, and grapes. It is in no respect a land-selling organization, as that term is generally understood. It handles only orchards, offering them for sale at various stages of development. It plants and cares for orchards for nonresident owners, bringing them to the bearing stage. Those who designed the project subordinated everything to the industrial and home life. A thoroughly equipped school of horticulture is maintained free of cost for the benefit of residents. The winter climate is very mild, and living conditions unusually good. It is intended for those seeking profitable out-of-door life, who require superior residential features and the opportunity to engage in scientific horticulture. Address LEWISTON LAND AND WATER CO., Ltd., Lewiston, Idaho. Chicago office, 134 S. La Salle-st., Room 1018.

BUSINESS CHANCES.

GOLD! GOLD! GOLD!
Every year, at about this season, some $20,000,000 of gold made in the cities by business, are taken west by people ignorant of the metallurgy of gold and—lost. Complicated machinery is already dotting the mountain sides, from Wyoming to the Pacific; dead, forsaken, rusting monuments of folly of people trying to do what can only be done by experts. Consult a specialist; it costs less than a casting. Molecular extraction methods will be the future. For one-fifth of expense of plant of cyaniding, 90% to 98% of the gold can be recovered from $2 or $2,000 ore in one-tenth the time. Rare metals like platinum, tungsten, molybdenium, even silver, copper, tin gained as byproducts.
All kinds of assays.

SALARY LOANS.

I APPRECIATE ACCOUNTS OF HONORABLE people [men employed or in business, ladies with allowances from their husbands or income from other sources], who, while not in a position to borrow money from a bank, realize that exorbitant interest charged by professional money lenders is high and extortionate. I am connected with the Indiana Loan, Credit, and Trust Company of Chicago, co-partners, 4303 Grand-blvd., and, having private means of my own, I am willing to loan money with or without security and at a consideration but a trifle above bank rates, and never more than the interest legalized by the states of Massachusetts and Rhode Island, the precise rate being determined by the amount loaned and risk assumed. My location [15 minutes from loop district via South Side elevated] assures a privacy not possible to those who deal with brokers in downtown office buildings, where lenders congregate. Always best to telephone Drexel 54 for private appointment. Ask for MR. S.

"BASKET" SALOON HAS HEAVY TRADE

A perambulating saloon is being operated on the pier at the foot of Illinois street. The saloon consists of a covered basket carried on the arm of the proprietor.

The owner of the "basket" saloon has been kept so busy since the heat wave came on dispensing drinks to thirsty souls who try daily to catch messes of fish in the lake that he has been forced to employ a barless bartender.

Has Minimum of Expense.

The proprietor, with the aid of his barless bartender, are doing well financially, as he neither has rent nor light bills to pay. And there is not even a license. J. F. McCarty, city collector, said yesterday that he had never heard of the basket saloon.

The police were surprised when told about the basket saloon. The officer on the beat remarked it might be a difficult matter to "get the goods" on the liquor vender.

The proprietor, however, cried his wares in stentorian tones during the afternoon. Both the proprietor and his bartender refused to give their names.

Builds New Shack in Street.

A short distance from the Illinois street pier Arthur Benson is erecting a refreshment shack at the foot of Indiana street. The shack is built on the sidewalk line and extends over into the street to within a few feet of the street car line. There is no record either in the building department or the bureau of compensation of a permit issued to Benson.

OPPOSE HANGING OF WOMAN.

Petitions Are Circulating in Canada Asking Commutation of Sentence of Mrs. Neapolitano.

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., May 18.—Dozens of women were busy here today circulating petitions to the governor general to prevent the hanging of Mrs. Angelina Neapolitano on Aug. 9 for the murder of her husband. The movement for commutation also has been taken up in Toronto and other cities.
